GENERAL.

The 6th January 1910.

No. 30.—Notification.—The following is republished for general information:—

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), No. 2831-42, dated 8th December 1899.

The Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians, who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirability of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

M. W. FENTON,

Offg. Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,—HOME DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

Simla, the 1st July 1909.

RESOLUTION.

IT has been frequently brought to the notice of the Secretary of State for India that Indian students on their first arrival in England experience difficulties by reason of their lack of information as to educational facilities and social conditions; and he has for some time had under consideration the possibility of rendering available for their use information and advice of the kind required. He has now, after consulting the Government of India, decided to establish a Bureau in London for the supply of information, as well as a Standing Committee for general advisory purposes. The Bureau and the Committee will work in close relation with one another, and the head of the Bureau, who will be called the Educational Adviser to Indian Students, will also act as Secretary to the Advisory Committee.

2. The functions of the Bureau will be to answer inquiries in regard to educational facilities, to keep a list of lodgings and boarding-houses suitable for Indian students and of private families willing to receive them on such terms as may be arranged, to furnish students with references, to bring to the notice of the Advisory Committee any cases in which the regulation of educational institutions bears hardly on Indian students, and generally to give all possible assistance either to students themselves or to their parents in India. The Bureau will be in close touch with the Board of Education, with its correspondents at the leading Universities, and with local Committees in India.

3. The Advisory Committee will be available for consultation by students or their parents, by the Educational Adviser, and by the Secretary of State, and will bring to the latter's notice any matter in regard to which it may desire to suggest action on his part for improving the position of Indian students. It will stand, as far as possible, in loco parentis to students whose parents are unable themselves to supervise their education. In particular, its members will be ready to assist students in social matters. It is hoped that in this way they may be able to do much towards removing any feeling of friendlessness, and towards providing for young Indians social opportunities which would not otherwise be open to them.

The following gentlemen have accepted the Secretary of State's invitation to serve on the Advisory Committee, of which Lord Ampthill has consented to act as Chairman :—

Sir M. M. Bhownaggree, K.C.I.E.
Saiyid Ameer Ali, C.I.E.
Major N. P. Sinha, I.M.S., retired.
Kamrudin Latif.
Theodore Morison, Esquire, Member of the Council of India.
Pandit Bhagwandin Dube, Barrister-at-Law.
Lieutenant-Colonel Sir W. Curzon Wyllie, K.C.I.E., C.V.O., Political Aide-de-Camp to the Secretary of State.

4. The appointment of Educational Adviser to Indian Students has been accepted by Mr. T. W. Arnold, formerly of the Indian Educational Service, who has relinquished his post as Assistant Librarian at the India Office for the purpose. Mr. Arnold has taken up his duties, and the Bureau of Information is temporarily located at the India Office until suitable premises can be obtained elsewhere.

5. The Governor General in Council now desires to explain the measures which after consulting local Governments, he considers should be adopted in India with the object of supplementing the activities of the Central Bureau and the Advisory Committee in England. It is proposed to establish local Committees, consisting of representative European and Indian gentlemen, in each province, excepting Burma and the North-West Frontier Province. These Committees will be in direct communication with the Central Bureau in England. By means of this agency it is hoped that the Educational Adviser will be able to obtain all information regarding individual students which may be desired by the University or other authorities in England, and thus to meet the need which has made itself felt for detailed and trustworthy information as to the position, means and character of Indian applicants.

The Committees will be sufficiently large to be representative in character, and local Governments will co-operate with the Universities in bringing them into existence. It is the intention that each Committee shall have among its members representative Indian gentlemen of good position and local reputation, enjoying the confidence of the educated classes of the province no less than of the Government. The Government of India consider that it will be advisable to appoint to the Committees a number of Indian gentlemen residing in the mufassal, who will take a personal interest in their work and will explain their objects and advantages throughout the area in which they exercise a local influence. The provincial Committees will be constituted by the local Governments and Administrations; and the Vice-Chancellor of the University and the Director of Public Instruction will be members where practicable. The functions of the Committees will be:—

(1) To furnish information and advice to Indians who contemplate going to England.
(2) To circulate in India to colleges and other institutions the educational, financial and social information collected by the Central Bureau in London.
(3) To communicate with the Central Bureau on behalf of students before they start or on behalf of their parents when they are in England.

One of their minor duties will be to see that the handbook of information, which will be published by the Central Bureau, is kept up to date; and the latter will be asked to supply from time to time to the local Committees in India all information necessary to correct that given in the current issue of the book.

6. Local Governments and Administrations have generally accepted the above proposals, and it only remains now to give effect to the scheme. The Governor General in Council desires therefore that steps may be taken as soon as possible to constitute the local Committees. The intention is that there shall be in each province a general Committee representing the province as a whole, and that, where necessary, there shall also be sub-committees at such local centres as may be convenient. The President and Members of these Committees will be selected and appointed by the local Governments. As stated above, these proposals will not for the present apply to Burma; and the North-West Frontier Province will be represented on the Punjab provincial Committee by the officer in charge of education in the former province. The province of Coorg might similarly be represented on the Madras Committee. Native States, who so desire, will also be represented by the Political Officers of the States on the Committees at the head-quarters of their respective Universities.

7. There will be a paid Secretary to each provincial Committee, who will be appointed by the local Government. It has been stated by one local Government that the services of a Secretary can be procured on an allowance of Rs 60 per mensem. Such an arrangement may not be possible in every case, and the Government of India leave it to the discretion of local Governments to fix the pay of this officer, subject to a maximum limit of Rs 200 per mensem. The provincial Committees, as soon as they are constituted, should place themselves in communication with the Educational Adviser to Indian Students, India Office, London.

The Lieutenant-Governor then addressed the Darbar in Urdu. The translation of his speech is as follows :—

NAWAB SAHIBS AND RAISES,

I HAVE invited you to assemble here in Darbar to-day as I am afraid that I shall not be able to make any extended tour this cold weather in this division, and so may not have an opportunity of meeting you in your homes. Besides, it seems to me desirable that from time to time the leaders of the people should meet together and take stock of what is being done in the various phases of development and advancement and of how we stand generally, so that they may take home with them a clearer opinion of the present position and a better informed idea of what is expected of them for the future.

In Delhi happily we have in these old Halls of Audience a splendid setting for such gatherings, and I should like in the first place to draw your attention to what is being done by Government to preserve and, so far as is possible, restore the glories of past sovereignties which stand in and around modern Delhi. You will no doubt not lose the opportunity of visiting some at any rate of these monuments of the past, and wherever you may go you will find that the impetus given by the master mind of Lord Curzon to this great and gracious work is still operative. In this Hall of public Audience in which we are assembled the structure has been renewed where it was in danger of collapse and the inlay work has been restored under the patient and loving hands of an artist from Italy, thus following an old precedent, as the story goes that some of this inlay work at any rate was due originally to artists from that country. We have succeeded in arranging matters with the Military Authorities, and the royal residences and the Hayat Bakhsh gardens have been cleared and restored and are now enclosed in a suitable fence. The aid of electricity is being invoked to revive the old water-works installation by pumping, etc., and next cold weather these splendid buildings will be set off by a beautiful garden with green lawns and fountains in a manner worthy of their historical and architectural grandeur.

Similar action has been taken at the Purana Kila, at Humayun's Tomb, at Nizam-ud-din Aulia and elsewhere, and I am in hope of being able to divert the road at the Kutub, and so to show forth the whole mosque as it was conceived by its imperial builders.

Much yet remains to be done here and elsewhere in the Province, and private munificence might come to the aid of Government to a greater extent than has hitherto been the case. There are signs that the public conscience is being stirred to a sense of its obligation to these inimitable glories of the past. Recently the Maharaja Adhiraj of Burdwan, when visiting the ancient home of his family, Lahore, approached me on the subject of the restoration of the tomb of Nur Jahan, the Elizabeth of the East, at Shahdara. The tomb of her first husband, Sher Afghan, stands in Burdwan, and so he was specially interested in her case. Fortunately we have through the critical taste of Mr. Perronet Thompson, lately District Judge of Delhi, what is believed to be an authentic picture of what Nur Jahan's tomb was—a very different object to the poor mass of masonry which now dishonours the memory of one of the greatest women, of whom history gives us any accurate account. We were already considering how best we could do something to wipe away the stain of neglect, so the hour and the man had come. The Maharaja has given me a noble donation of Rs. 5,000 towards the cost of repairs, and his example will, I hope, open the purse strings of others whose hearts must have been touched by the story of a life so well told recently by Sardar Jogindra Singh. Gentlemen, each and all of you can do something in preserving the rapidly decaying traces of the dynasties that have swayed the fate of this empire. Some can help with money; others can record the history of the monuments in which they can take a direct personal or local interest. The Archæological Department will welcome all help, and can give expert advice as to the best mode of taking action to arrest the ravages of decay, and without such advice it were madness to proceed. In the Naubat Khana facing us you will find a small but most interesting collection of historical relics of Delhi. Those of you who possess or are aware of the existence of similar relics might well secure their preservation by giving or lending them to this collection, which brings before us in the clearest light the men and the manners of the past centuries which have left to us these memorials of their greatness.

Gentlemen, standing as I do in the halls of the great Moghul and surrounded by representatives of his family and of his courtiers, my thoughts must of necessity revert to the monarchs of old and the wonders that they wrought in architecture. I am sure that you will join with me (as our first duty) in this short and inadequate tribute to the memory of the great sovereigns, Aryan, Buddhist, Hindu, or Muslim, who instinctively recognized in Delhi the centre and the heart, political and commercial, of India. This she was in the past, this she still is in the present to a great extent, and will be, as we all hope, to a greater extent still in the future.

To turn however to the present, I must in the first place congratulate you on having won through the lean years of scarcity which for almost a decade with few breaks has worked havoc with this south-eastern corner of the Province. They have not gone without leaving their traces—traces which it will take some little time to eradicate. Government played its part, and suspensions of land revenue to the amount of Rs. 117 lakhs were granted, of which Rs. 38 lakhs have been remitted. But what is perhaps the most satisfactory feature of the recent scarcity is that the people were not demoralised, and with sturdy determination stuck to their holdings. There was little if any wandering, practically no one went on to the relief works, and there was no demand for public pauperisation in the form of gratuitous relief. This to my mind is a most satisfactory indication of the fact that our people have at last become more self-reliant and are acquiring wider and more adequate means of support. It is also a testimony to the efficiency of our present more flexible revenue system which enables us to meet such times of stress as those through which we have just passed.

But there is a special cause of satisfaction. It so happened that five out of the six ordinary districts of this division were under settlement, while the scarcity was almost at its worst. There is an idea that the fortunate star of the British Government generally brings it about that the years of settlement should be years of plenty. Here this was not the case; and it is well that it was not. You were fortunate in having as Settlement Officers a set of men endowed with the fullest sympathy with the people. They saw things almost at their worst, and their reports were certainly not coloured by conditions of plenty. I take this opportunity of thanking them publicly for what they have done and the tact with which they have done it. I was a Settlement Officer myself and toiled through two heavy settlements in my time. I know how hard is the task and how wearisome is the constant and unvarying grind of routine which seems unending, aimless and hopeless. But I know this too that there is nothing like settlement work for bringing you into close touch with the people of this country at their best and for creating a feeling of true sympathy on the one part and of loyal affection on the other. A Settlement Officer is a steward of Government, but he is also in the truest sense a tribune of the people, the champion of their rights and the redresser of their wrongs, and a Settlement Officer who does his duty according to his conscience, and who, as in the screen before us, holds the scale of justice even between Government and its subjects, will never find that the people whose rents he regulates curse him as a tax-gatherer; nay, rather they remember all little acts of kindness which he may have been able to do and often cherish his memory as a benefactor. So it has been in the Punjab in the past, so it is now, and so it will be if the people are left to their trueselves and officers act up to the traditions of their service. In thanking the Settlement Officers I do not overlook the Extra Assistant Settlement Officers,* the Tahsildars and the settlement establishment generally. Their life is a hard one and their work, I am sorry to say, is often carried on under a sense of uncertainty as to their future which cannot but be disheartening. Mr. Diack, Settlement Commissioner, has put up proposals for reducing this uncertainty. His proposals will receive my most careful and sympathetic consideration. All must agree that it is anomalous—I could use a stronger term—that men who do some of the most important work for Government and for the people that any official can be called upon to do, should be treated as mere temporary helpers whose future is a matter of hazard. To put it on the lowest ground such a policy is financially unsound. It is a source of great pleasure to me to have been able to recognize in some small degree the labours of the settlement establishments by the khilats which have been just conferred on selected members of the staffs.

To the revenue-payers and cultivators my acknowledgments are due for the manner in which they have assisted in the settlement proceedings during these trying years and have accepted the results I am sorry to have been constrained to recover a portion of the suspended revenue, but after all a flexible revenue system cannot always be bent in the same direction and, if revenue is suspended in bad years, it must be paid in good by the people who have in this way received loans without interest. Government has been lucky in the comparatively good harvests of the past twelve months and in the promise of a bumper Rabi now in the ground, which have enabled these collections. But the revenue-payers, whom I warmly congratulate on this fortunate change in the seasons, have benefited even to a greater extent than Government, both from the good harvests and from the high prices that have ruled. It is worth noting that whereas a Zamindar had to give per acre 15 seers of wheat to meet the Rabi demand and 6 seers of cotton to pay the Kharif instalment at the beginning of the expiring settlements, he has only had to contribute 7 seers of wheat, 3½ seers of cotton to meet the corresponding instalments at present. Further, although the rise in prices even before the recent jump-up, which seems likely to be more or less permanent, was taken to be on an average 22 per cent. and cash rents have increased by over 50 per cent—causes which would have entitled Government to take a corresponding increase in the revenue demand—without regard to extensions and cultivation and irrigation we have done nothing of the sort. The assessments which have just expired were imposed in Gurgaon, Rohtak, Karnál and Delhi roughly thirty years ago. The increase so far taken runs from 15 per cent. in Gurgaon to 20 per cent. in Karnál where there were great extensions in cultivation in the Kaithal tahsil. In the Barani and Sailab tracts the former assessment has been left to a great extent unaltered, and the assessment rates on wells have been actually reduced in pursuance of the policy of favouring improvements due to private enterprise. The period of exemption from assessment for wells has been extended from 20 up to 40 years where necessary to enable the owner to recover the cost of expensive works. Our increased assessment has been obtained mainly from the canal-irrigated areas which have benefited enormously since settlement by the construction by Government of the Agra Canal and of the Sirsa Branch of the Western Jumna and by the extensive remodelling and drainage works on the latter canal, which have converted what used to be within my own memory dismal malarious swamps into smiling and fertile fields.

On such a result and such a policy Government may, I think, be congratulated for the extra revenue paid on such areas is far more than compensated by the security and certainty of crop which the landowners now enjoy. The policy was however reasonable, for these districts have long been under a settled form of government as they came over to the Punjab from the Agra Province and had been assessed on the lines there recognised, while, as they were for the most part already developed and enjoy a fair rainfall, there was not room for the astonishing developments which have taken place further west. These conditions also render it possible to contemplate a long term of settlement and, though the actual period has still to be settled, I think that we may confidently hope that the present assessment will last for a generation.

Though the change has come too late to help the Delhi district, I am still glad to think that we have done something to reduce the harassment and worry which a settlement involved to all concerned. It was the late Colonel Wace who first conceived the idea of having a settlement carried on by the ordinary District Staff after merely correcting the maps and records. The experiment was made in my old district of Gurdáspur which was measured in this way, and it involved much thought and perhaps more trouble to the staff than a remeasurement. It was decided that the old maps and records in most districts were not good enough and the establishments were not strong enough to allow of its adoption generally, though I personally worked it wherever I could, as it appeared to me to contain the germ of a great and genuine reform. I believe too that something of the sort has been now done in these Delhi settlements, and at any rate here and in Rohtak where conditions were simple the work has been put through in a creditably short time as compared with the expiring settlements. It took nine years to settle Delhi on the last occasion, while the proceedings now will be concluded in under four years. However most of the districts have now been surveyed on the rectangular system and our strengthened record staff has improved the quality of the records year by year it has now been found possible to revive Colonel Wace's scheme, and full experiments made in Ludhiána and Gurdáspur have been most successful. We have therefore decided that in future settlements our records and maps will merely be brought up to date by correction. This should reduce enormously the trouble caused to the land-holders and also cut down the numbers of the settlement establishment and the duration of the proceedings. It may also enable us to give permanence to the tenure of their posts by the settlement establishments.

It is satisfactory to think that the good seasons have helped commerce as well as agriculture, and I am glad to hear that the stagnation caused in part by scarcity and in part by the sangat on marriages has been dispersed, and that all stocks have been cleared and trade is brisk with great promise for the future.

It was my pleasant duty last January to congratulate you gentlemen of the Municipal Committee on the manner in which you had performed your duties. You have not slept on your reputation. The extramural drainage scheme is making good progress and should conduce greatly to the health and comfort of the citizens, but it is astonishing that such crowded areas as Pahárganj, the Sadr Bazar and Sabzi Mandi should have remained for so long without drains. The improvements effected and contemplated in the water-supply are very satisfactory. Your revenues are flourishing, and will increase with the increase of trade and the new octroi schedule. But you will want all the funds that you can command if your city is to be worthy of its imperial reputation. I was pleased to sanction the scheme for your new Fire Station, involving the grant of an area of Government land. Full inquiries have been made into the sanitation of the Bela and a scheme has been matured, and I hope that the Civil Bela will shortly be handed over to us by the Military and we can then carry the scheme into effect. A committee with the Commissioner as Chairman has inquired into the sanitary conditions of the Fort, and they believe that they have discovered the real cause of its unhealthiness in a matter of local drainage. If only we can reduce the malaria in the Fort and Kachehri quarters, there will be much cause of gratification, and it really does look as if we may be able to do something.

Then I can congratulate you on having secured two members representing commerce and banking interests on the Punjab Legislative Council, and with these and the Commissioner, Delhi, is more than well represented. Your city is also now well represented on the Senate of the University and you cannot complain that Government has neglected your educational advancement. I am sorry however to hear that your Hindu College is not flourishing either numerically or financially. It will be a sad disgrace to the rich and enlightened Hindu community of Delhi if its College collapses, and I venture to appeal to all of you to come forward liberally to prevent what at present I am afraid appears to be an impending calamity and thereby to convert which is now almost a failure into an institution worthy of your city and of the creed whose precepts in their original purity it was the intention of the founders that the College should teach. There is great and ample room for such an institution, and no one would welcome its success more than myself for I fully believe that the disassociation of literary from religious education and an imperfect up-bringing in the creed of their fathers have not worked happily for our young men. Perhaps we ought to retrace our steps before it is too late. Delhi has happily been free from actual outbreaks of anarchism and sedition which are working such injury elsewhere. The outrage at Ambála has yet to be proved to be of local origin. I trust that such was not the case. But symptoms of infection have not been wanting, and we have had to take action against one newspaper here for incitement to sedition, while there have been other instances where our educated men have gone astray, to which I will not further allude, especially as the editor of the paper has admitted his fault and promised future amendment. It behoves you therefore to be on the watch, so that you may stem the tide of sedition before it swells into the flood of anarchical madness, disorder and crime. Sar-i-chashma bayad griftan ba mil. chu pur shud na-shayad guzashtan ba pil. I appeal to you to exercise all your influence to keep your young men straight, whether they are educated, or under instruction, or townsmen, or those agriculturists, who hitherto have kept aloof from these poisonons teachings, but who may be tempered with to their certain undoing and misery as their well being lies peculiarly in the hands of Government.

Altogether however even in this respect there are many reasons for congratulating ourselves on present conditions. But there is a black cloud on the horizon.

Unfortunately plague appears to have singled out the Delhi Division for special attack this season. I am indebted to the Chief Plague Officer for some useful notes on the subject. Commencing early in September the disease has continued to spread, and all the districts in the division (except Ambála and Simla) are now widely infected.

The disease is particularly severe in the districts of Hissar and Gurgaon.

Thus the number of plague deaths in the districts of Hissar, Gurgaon, Rohtak, Delhi and Karnál for the week ending January 22nd were 703 compared with 37 deaths in these districts in the corresponding week of 1909.

The total number of deaths in the Province for the same week of 1910 was 1,787, so that these five districts account for nearly half the plague deaths in the Province.

As regards the origin of the epidemic, while it is partly due to the re-appearance of old standing infection, there is no doubt that the disease has been freely imported from infected areas outside the Province, such as Ajmer.

The figures are on the whole continually rising and with the onset of warmer weather there is unfortunately every prospect of the division being again the victim of a severe visitation of this terrible disease. To deal with this threatening calamity no effect has been spared by Government. In each of the infected districts a special medical staff has been provided whose sole duty it is to help the people to save themselves from their present precarious position. This is by no means difficult, provided the people will accept the advice and carry out the measures advocated by the plague doctors. It is all the more necessary that they should do this, as unfortunately no reliable medicine by which the disease can be cured has as yet been discovered. It is not even absolutely certain how the disease is caused, but the two chief measures which people should adopt in the presence of a plague epidemic are, as has been proved by ample experience,—

(1) Evacuation.

(2) Inoculation.

By adopting in time either of these measures, people need have but little fear of contracting the disease. Unfortunately inspite of a knowledge and experience now extending over some 13 years there is still a good deal of unwillingness on the part of the people to accept them.

In regard to evacuation, there is, I understand, amongst the uneducated Muhammadan community in the Delhi Division, a strong religious prejudice against this measure, and in this connection I may point out that a leading Muhammadan society in Lahore has published and distributed an important fatwa in which it is shown that the evacuation of a village in the presence of a plague epidemic is not contrary to the teaching of the Qoran.

The value of inoculation is well known to all men of science, and I would refer to the pamphlet recently issued on the subject by the Punjab Government in case any of you may wish to see some striking facts illustrating the security conveyed by the operation. Inoculation unfortunately is still extremely unpopular, even, I am sory to say, amongst the educated community, and while they refuse to lead the way, it is not surprising their less educated brethren hold aloof.

It will, therefore, be seen the two chief measures known to science for mitigating the disease depend for their effectiveness on the willingness of the people to adopt them. All that it is possible for Government to do is to place the means at the disposal of the people, leaving to them to carry them out if they wish. Thus money has been placed at the disposal of Deputy Commissioners to help the poorer classes to evacuate, while the more well-to-do are in this respect easily able to look after themselves.

In regard to inoculation, great efforts have now been made to bring its undoubted value before the people, and no expense has been spared to place this means of safety within the reach of all who desire to avail themselves of it.

With this object not only are inoculations performed by the plague staff, but the Assistant Surgeons and a large number of selected Hospital Assistants in charge of local hospitals and dispensaries, well known and trusted locally, have been specially trained and equipped. For example, in Delhi district every Assistant Surgeon and every Hospital Assistant (with one exception) has been trained by Colonel Davidson, the Civil Surgeon, to perform inoculation, but I am sorry to say it is reported that no persons have so far sought to avail themselves of the opportunities thus afforded them.

Indeed, I regret to find that plague measures generally and inoculation in particular are being less readily adopted than formerly, and I fear the reason for this is in some places not unconnected with the pernicious advice of unscrupulous agitators. Government are spending lakhs of rupees a year in their efforts to help people to combat the plague without meeting that response which they are entitled to expect. There is but little use in maintaining an expensive plague staff consisting of a large number of European and Native Doctors if the people, in direct opposition to their own interests, refuse or neglect to profit by their advice and will not accept their co-operation or help.

Other measures which are worthy of mention are the prevention by the people themselves of the entry of infected persons and persons from infected areas into uninfected villages. Thus there is no doubt that the present epidemic in the Delhi Division is due in no small part to the free importation of the disease from Ajmer and elsewhere.

Village sanitation, including domestic hygiene and personal cleanliness, are also important factors.

Finally, it may be stated that as long as Government affords all the help it does, the success or non-success of all anti-plague measures depends on the attitude the people adopt towards them. Let us hope it will improve. Unless it does it is my sad duty to warn you that all the promise of good times before us may be wrecked. If plague assumes the violent epidemic form, which it did in 1907 in the Punjab, your good harvest will be of little use to you as you may not have hands available to get it in, and your trade will be ruined. I would therefore earnestly beg of the leaders of public opinion, and especially of the eminent Indian medical men of Delhi whose reputation is so great, that they should lose no opportunity of encouraging the people to resort freely to evacuation, not to flight, which injures others at the earliest signs of danger, and that they should as the Maharaja of Patiála has done, if they have not done so already, satisfy themselves of the value of inoculation as a preventative and be inoculated as an example to others. Heaven helps those who help themselves, and if by resorting to the measures which have been proved to be efficacious, we can only under Providence avert the evil which is now so threatening, I can wish you all a happy and prosperous new year in the confident hope that my wishes will meet with due fulfilment.

On the conclusion of His Honour's speech attar and pan were distributed to the Chiefs by the Lieutenant-Governor, to the President of the Council of Regency, Kalsia, by the Under-Secretary to Government, and to the Divisional Darbaris and other Indian gentlemen entitled to seats in Darbar by the Mir Munshi assisted by Extra Assistant Commissioners.

After the distribution of attar and pan the Cheif Secretary declared the Darbar closed. The Lieutenant-Governor then left the Diwan-i-Khas followed by the Nawabs of Pataudi, Loháru and Dujána, each escorted as on their entry.

* Letter from the Ambassador at Constantinople, dated the 12th January 1910, and enclosures.

CONSTANTINOPLE,

January 12th, 1910.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith to Your Excellency copy of a despatch from the British Delegate on the Constantinople Board of Health, reporting a reduction in the sanitary measures against ships arriving at Basra from Indian ports.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Excellency's most obedient,

humble Servant,

(Sd.) G. A. LOWTHER.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE EARL OF MINTO, G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., G.C.M.G., &c., &c., &c.
Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

CONSTANTINOPLE,

January 8th, 1910.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to transmit herewith copies of a decision taken by the Board of Health on Tuesday last respecting the measures to be applied to ships arriving at Basra from Indian ports.

Such ships will henceforth be subject only to a medical visit and disinfection, and application of the Rat-destruction Circular, if they have been ten days on the voyage from the Indian port ; and if they have been less than ten days they will be kept in quarantine only during the period necessary to complete the ten days. In other words, the principle of counting in the days of the voyage in determining the length of quarantine is at last admitted in the case of these ships. The privilege is limited to ships with not more than one per cent. of Shiah pilgrims on board, and carrying a qualified medical officer. Ships with more than one per cent. of Shiah pilgrims, reckoned on their nett tonnage, will do five days' quarantine at Basra. Those which have not a qualified medical officer on board will do 24 hours' quarantine at Basra.

These innovations (for which the new Inspector-General, Dr. Cassim Izzeddin, deserves the credit) constitute an important step towards the application of the clauses of the Paris Sanitary Convention relating to the measures to be applied to ships from infected ports, and as such are to be welcomed.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your Excellency's most obedient

(Sd.) F. G. CLEMOW.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HONOURABLE SIR G. A. LOWTHER, K.C.M.G., C.B., &c., &c., &c.

CIRCULAIRE

AUX OFFICES DE SANTÉ.

CONSTANTINOPLE, LE 5 JANVIER 1910.

Par décision du Conseil Superieur de Santé:

(1). Les navires arrivant de l'Hindoustan à Bassorah, en bonnes conditions sanitaires, subiront, au Lazaret de Salahieh, autant de jours de quarantaine qu'il faudra pour completer une durée de 10 jours, commencant à compter depuis le date du depart du navire du dernier port indien, ainsi que la désinfection réglémentaire et l'application de la Circulaire N. 180, relative à la destruction des rats et souris à bord.

(2). Les navires de même provenance arrivant à Bassorah en bonnes conditions sanitaires et après avoir completé, en cours de route, la durée susmentionnée de 10 jours depuis le depart du dernier port indien, seront soumis à une visite medicale, à la désinfection réglémentaire et à l'application de la Circulaire N. 180. Si cette visite est favorable, la libre pratique sera accordée immediatement après que la désinfection aura pris fin.

(4). Il est bien entendu que seuls, parmi les navires mentionnés dans les paragraphes ci-dessus, ceux à bord desquels il se trouve en service un médecin diplomé d'une Faculté dûment reconnue, pourront profiter des dispositions qui precedent; les autres—c'est-à-dire ceux n'ayant pas un tel médecin—seront soumis, en outre des mesures venant d'être enumerées, à une observation supplementaire de 24 heures au Lazaret de Salahieh.

(5). La deratisation ne saurait, dans aucun cas, retarder l'octroi de la libre pratique à un navire, cette operation pouvant indifferemment s'effectuer pendant ou après la quarantaine du dit navire; mais il reste entendu que celui-ci ne sera jamais autorisé à embarquer une nouvelle cargaison avant d'avoir subi la deratisation.

MILITARY.

The 17th March 1910.

Notification in connection with the supply of transport and carriage required for military purposes during peace time.

No 131.—Notification—Whereas His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has considered the matters relating to the supply of transport and carriage required for military purposes otherwise than on account of mobilization for active service, set forth in circular No. 46, section D, of the circulars issued by the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, and hereto annexed, and whereas he is satisfied that the said matters so far as they relate to the periods, terms and conditions of impressment for hire are both reasonable and necessary :

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, in modification of Punjab Government notification No. 146, dated 1st May 1909, and under the provisions of section 25 (1) of the Punjab Military Transport Animals Act, I of 1903, to authorise all Collectors of all districts of the Punjab to impress, for hire, animals and vehicles and gear and equipment of animals, in accordance with the said section of the said circular, for military purposes other than on an occasion of the mobilization of troops for active service : Provided that the following animals shall be exempt from impressment, namely,—

(i) an animal branded under the provisions of the Act, and

(ii) a token animal proved to be such by the production of the counterpart of the agreement referred to in rule VII (3) of the rules issued under the Act in Punjab Government notification No. 351, dated 1st December 1903, unless the impressment of such token animal is authorized under the terms of the agreement.

D.—CARRIAGE.

I.—The following are the Military Rules on this subject—vide Appendix VII, Army Regulations, India, Volume X, Edition 1904 :—

1. Requisitions on the civil authorities for hired carriage required for the movements of troops or stores should be prepared on I. A F. S. 1675, giving full details of requirements, and sent so as to reach the District or Political Officer concerned, if possible, not less than fifteen days (one month in Gwalior State) before the carriage is required.

2. Hired carriage will not ordinarily be required to proceed beyond the limits of the next civil district on the route, but will be exchanged, if possible, at such stations therein as may be fixed by the local civil authorities. It will be paid for at the authorised local hire rate from the date on which it is engaged by the civil officer for the march to the date of its discharge, both inclusive, but if taken double marches, double rates will be paid for each such march. Return hire will only be admissible when the carriage is necessarily taken beyond the nearest exchanging station, when half the full hire rate will be paid for each route book or other recognised stage on the return journey, without any allowance for halts. When circumstances render it necessary to collect the carriage before the date on which it is required, the civil authorities will always notify to the indenting officer the time required for collection prior to the start, and the probable extra expense that will be incurred. Similarly, any carriage indented for which may be found in excess of final requirements and discharged before the march commences, will be paid for at the full hire rate for each day or part of a day for which it is retained. If carriage is declared unserviceable by a committee of officers (which should include a civil officer), it will not be paid for. When chaudhris are engaged to collect carriage, their fees at local rates will be paid by the owners and not by the Military Department.

3. On engagement of the carriage, the civil or political officer will advance to the owners half the estimated hire for the full journey, and will then send the carriage to the place required in charge of a tahsil or darbar official, who will hand to the requisitioning officer a detail of the composition of the carriage, authorised loads, hire rates, owners' names, amount advanced and receipts for the same, and intimation as to the station at which the carriage should be exchanged (see I. A. F. S. 1675). The amount advanced will be at once repaid to the civil officer by the Supply and Transport Corps.

4. The civil officer supplying the carriage will at the same time warn the civil officer at the first exchanging station of the transport requiring exchange, and the date and place at which it will be required. The latter will then proceed as in paragraph 3 and warn the next exchanging station. Similar action will be taken at each exchanging station on the route.

5. Should any change be required en route in the original quantity and description of transport supplied, the Officer Commanding the troops must give the civil officer at the exchanging station concerned as much notice as possible.

6. Carriage breaking down between exchanging stations should be replaced on the spot in communication with the local civil officials, and paid off. If the advance received has not been liquidated, the owner must refund the amount then due.

7. On arrival at an exchanging station or at destination, the carriage should be at once released and paid off by the Supply and Transport Officer if there is one, otherwise by a British officer of the marching unit in the presence of the civil official attached to the troops, the acquittance roll being signed by both and countersigned by the Officer Commanding. Any disputes will be referred to and settled by the district civil officer at the place at which the transport is released.

8. If carts are brought from a distance and detained at a camp of exercise, &c., the full rate of hire will be paid for each day for such detention. Carriage should not, however, be detained at a camp which lasts for five days or over, except in very special circumstances.

9. When carriage is discharged, a certificate in English and the Vernacular should be given by the civil officer at the exchanging station or by the civil officer accompanying the troops, to each person in charge thereof, to protect the carriage from being taken for the use of troops while on its return journey, unless such troops are marching in the direction of the owner's home. If so employed, the full hire rate will be paid.

[Paragraph 219, Army Regulations, India, Volume X.]

10. The Officer Commanding will be responsible that animals are not overladen nor ill-treated, and that on arrival at destination or an exchanging station all carriage is released as early as possible. Animals must always be unloaded when crossing rivers in boats. Hired transport establishments not being amenable to military discipline, any serious misbehaviour on their part must be dealt with in communication with the Civil authorities.

II.—The following supplementary rules are issued by the Financial Commissioner with the approval of the Local Government:—

1. The responsibility for the supply of carriage for the movement of troops or for individuals in Military employ, authorised to travel at the public expense, or for stores, rests, in the first instance, with the Supply and Transport Corps. It is only when that Corps is unable to meet the demand that a call will be made on the Civil authorities.

2. A copy of Form I. A. F. S. 1675, referred to in rule I-1, is given as Appendix A to this Circular; the exchanging stations referred to in rule I-2 are detailed in Appendix B and the local hire rates in Appendix C.

3. The cost of return hire for carriage taken beyond an exchanging station rule I-2 will be a charge against the Military Department if the Commanding Officer of the regiment has failed to give due notice of his requirements, or if a relief has been provided by the Civil Officer responsible, but has not been taken up by the regiment or detachment for which it is supplied. If such relief has not been provided in spite of due notice to the Civil Officer, the excess payment will ordinarily be a charge against the Civil Department. The District Officer should report to the Commissioner each case in which he has declined to furnish a relief, assigning reasons for the same. The Commissioner will notice any cases in which the reasons are not satisfactory; for much of the hardship entailed under existing arrangements upon owners of cattle is owing to the rules regarding relief not being attended to.

4. For carriage employed in any part of the Punjab during the rainy season, or between the 1st of June and 1st of October, an additional charge will be made equivalent to 25 per cent. on the hire that would be leviable according to the local rates. This rule is subject to the special provisions of the Simla rules, which allow half-rates for halts and back hire in certain cases, and dispense with the additional charge of 25 per cent. This rule does not apply to the Gurdaspur and Rawalpindi districts, rates for which are specially provided.

5. Ordinarily chaudhris will arrange with the owners of carriage as to the scale of fees to be paid, but, in the absence of any special engagement, they will be entitled to 6 pies or half-an-anna per rupee on the total hire due for carriage from the station at which it is engaged to the station at which it ought to be relieved In the case of coolies and bearers the chaudhris' fees will be 6 pies or half-an-anna per man.

6. An exception to the Military Rule, which lays down that chaudhris' fees will be paid by the owners, exists in the Simla district, where chaudhri's fees are added to the rates of hire fixed by the Local Government, and are therefore paid by the hirers of carriage.

7. (i) The Civil Officer furnishing the carriage is bound to see that the advance referred to in rule I-3 is made before the carriage is made over to the applicant. He is also bound, before granting the passport referred to in rule I-8 and formally discharging the carriage, to satisfy himself that the owners have been paid in full according to the prescribed rates.

(ii) This advance will be drawn from the treasury on a simple receipt, and on its being recouped by the Supply and Transport Corps, will be refunded into the treasury.

8. The owner of carriage should be supplied with a copy of the requisition filled up in English and Urdu characters.

9. All tolls will be payable by the hirer of carriage in cash or by free pass.

10. The rules and tables of rates should be hung up in dâk bungalows, serais, tahsils, thanas and other public places.

11. Monthly rates, when not specified, will be determined by mutual agreement.

12. For the purpose of calculating remuneration for carriage, a part of a stage must be treated as equivalent to a whole stage.

13. The authorized loads, except in the Ráwalpindi and Gurdáspur districts, are as follows :—

	Description of carriage.	LOAD.
		Pacca road in plains.	Katcha road.	Hill road.
1	Bullock train carts, 4-wheeled ...	30 maunds ...	30 maunds ...	24 maunds.

DRAFT ORDER.

Short title.

1. This order may be cited as the Morinda-Chandigarh Extension Tramway Order.

Interpretation clause.

2. The several words and expressions to which meanings are assigned by the Indian Tramways Act, XI of 1886, have in this order the same respective meanings:

Provided that in this order the expression "the Tramway" or the "undertaking" shall mean the tramway and works and undertaking by this order authorised except where the context may require a different meaning, and the word "the Act" shall mean the said Indian Tramways Act, XI of 1886.

Law applicable to the tramways.

3. (1) The tramway authorised by this order shall be constructed, maintained, and worked subject to the provisions of the Act, of the rules from time to time in force under the Act, and of this order.

(2) No powers or rights shall be deemed to have been conferred on the Promoters or to have been relinquished by Government except as in this order expressly provided.

Promoters.

4. The Mono-rail Tramways and Light Railways Company, Limited, Bombay, shall be the Promoters for the purposes of this order, and are in this order referred to as "the Promoters". And the managing agents are Marsland Price and Company of Bombay.

CONSTRUCTION OF TRAMWAY.

Authority to Promoters to construct tramway.

5. The Promoters shall construct and maintain, subject to the provisions specified in this order and in accordance also with plans and sections deposited by the Promoters with the Local Government, the tramway hereinafter described, with all proper establishment, rails, bearings, stations, office works, rolling-stock and conveniences connected with the tramway or required for the purpose thereof.

Dates for commencing and completing the tramway.

6. (1) Subject to any extension of time that the Local Government may see fit to grant, the Promoters shall substantially commence the construction of the said tramway within one year from the date of this order, and shall complete and equip the same in every respect for opening and working for traffic to the satisfaction of the Local Government within three years from the date of this order.

(2) In the event of the said Promoters failing to commence the construction and to equip and complete the tramway as provided in the first paragraph of this clause, then in any such case the Local Government shall be at liberty to revoke this order, and the Local Government shall thereafter be at liberty to enter into any arrangements with any other person or persons for the construction of a tramway from Morinda to Chandigarh, and in the event of this order being revoked by reason of the said Promoters failing to complete and equip and open for traffic the said tramway within the period of three years from the date of this order, the Local Government shall have the option of taking over all the permanent-way and rolling-stock of the tramway at a reasonable valuation to be determined by the Local Government, and in the event of the Local Government exercising this option, all the other works and buildings of the tramway may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as a tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If, however, the Local Government do not desire to exercise the option of taking over the permanent-way and rolling-stock of the tramway as herein provided, then and in such case the tramway, including the permanent-way, the rolling-stock and all the buildings and works of every kind connected therewith, may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as the tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Description of the tramway.

7. The tramway authorised by this order is a single line with necessary passing places within the district of Ambala, and shall run upon the side of the metalled road from Morinda viâ Kurali and Kharar to Chandigarh.

The alignment will leave the public road and be carried round the south of the town of Morinda and will again join the main road between mile 15 and 16.

The alignment will pass through or near the following villages :—

Morinda.	Kheri.
Kurali.	Mani Majra.
Kharar.	Sarajpore.
Balongi.	Chandigarh.
Mahali.

The distance traversed by the alignment is approximately 32 miles.

Promoters authorised to use the road subject to limitation.

8. The Promoters may use for the construction of the tramway, but not for the purposes of any building or erection connected therewith, one side of the said road to a width of 8 feet.

Where there are no buildings on that side of the road on which the tramway is laid, the said width of 8 feet shall be measured from the gutter or roadside drain or where the road is an embankment or has a raised berm, from the edge of the embankment or berm, and in cases where there are such buildings, the said width shall be measured from such point as in the opinion of the Executive Engineer is safe and proper ;

but for the purpose of crossing bridges the tramway may approach the centre of the road as far as shall in each case be deemed unavoidable by the said Executive Engineer :

Provided always that—

(1) Nowhere shall the clear width of the road measured between the inner rail of the tramway and the opposite edge of the road be less than 14 feet.

(2) If any addition to the existing width of the metalled surface of the road is rendered necessary in order to comply with the terms of this order, or if any addition to or alteration of any bridge is in the opinion of the Executive Engineer rendered necessary by the tramway, the same shall be carried out by, and at the cost of the Promoters to the satisfaction of the said Executive Engineer.

(3) At no point on the metalled road shall there be more than one line of rails ; any loop-lines, turn-outs or sidings that may be required must therefore be placed elsewhere than on the metalled portion of the road.

(4) The metalling of the roadway shall not be interfered with more than is absolutely necessary for the proper construction of the tramway ; and in all cases where such metalling has been so interfered with, it shall be repaired and made good with all reasonable promptitude by and at the cost of the Promoters to the satisfaction of the Executive Engineer.

Bridges.

9. In all cases where in the opinion of the Executive Engineer the existing road bridges are not sufficiently strong to carry the tramway, the Promoters shall make at their own cost such additions to or alterations of any such bridges as may be required by the said Executive Engineer, and the work shall be carried out and completed to his satisfaction :

Provided that the Promoters may at their option construct at their own cost for the purposes of the tramway separate bridges of such design and in such manner as shall first be approved by the Executive Engineer, and shall complete the same to the satisfaction of the said Executive Engineer.

All such additional works shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Additional works required by the Local Government.

18. The Promoters shall, when required by the Local Government, construct and maintain at their own cost accommodation at permanent stations for post offices and quarters for the postal staff at a rental not exceeding $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum on the actual cost of the buildings, excluding the cost of land occupied by it.

Closing of tramway and disuse of rolling-stock by order of Local Government.

25. When after inspection of the tramway or portion of the tramway or any rolling-stock used thereon the officer making the inspection under clause 24 of this order reports to the Local Government that in his opinion the use of the tramway or any portion thereof or of any specified rolling-stock will be attended with danger to the public using it, the Local Government may direct that the tramway or portion thereof be closed for the public conveyance of passengers or that the rolling-stock so specified shall no longer be used, as the case may be.

Tramway not to be re-opened without sanction.

26. When the tramway or any portion of the tramway has been closed under clause 25 of this order, it shall not be re-opened for the public conveyance of passengers unless and until it has been inspected by the officer referred to in clause 24 of this order and its opening sanctioned by the Local Government.

Rolling stock not to be used again without sanction.

27. When the Local Government has under clause 25 of this order prohibited the use of any rolling-stock, the said rolling-stock shall not be used unless and until the Local Government sanctions its use.

(1) In the event of any necessity arising for carrying out in or on land occupied by the tramway any works of any kind whatsoever, for which interference with the tramway may be considered necessary by the Local Government, the said Government may, by notice in writing and without prejudice to the powers conferred on the local authorities by section 38 of the Act, call upon the Promoters to show cause why such portion of the tramway should not be closed for traffic as may enable the said works to be carried out in safety.

Powers of Local Government to authorise interference with tramway in carrying out necessary works.

After considering the necessity for closing such portion of the tramway, as well as any objections or suggestions that may be made by the Promoters, the Local Government may direct that the Promoters shall close the said portion of the tramway for such a period of time and under such conditions as in the circumstances of the case may appear necessary.

(2) The Promoters shall be bound to comply with such directions and allow the work referred to therein to be carried out: Provided that, unless otherwise directed, any portion of the tramway which it may be necessary to remove in order to carry out such work, shall be removed and reinstated by, or at the expense of; the Local Government, or the person or persons at whose instance the work is carried out: And provided also that the Promoters shall—if they are, at the time the Local Government either interferes with or stops the working of the tramway under the first paragraph of this clause, paying any rent to the road authority for the use of the road—receive an abatement of such rent proportionate to the length of road over which and to the time during which the working of the tramway is stopped.

29. In the event of the Promoters desiring that any bridge, drain, culvert, watercourse, telegraph line or other thing whatsoever on or adjacent to the land to be used for the tramway should be removed or the position thereof altered, the Promoters shall give notice in writing to the local authority who shall thereupon deal with the matter themselves if within their powers, and if not, shall refer the matter to the Local Government or other authority competent to deal with it, who shall pass such orders thereon as in the circumstances of the case may appear fit.

Conditions on which Promoters allowed to interfere with structures in or on road.

30. When from accident or flood or by reason of the execution of any works under the provision contained in clause 28 of this order or when from any other reason it is in the opinion of the Local Government necessary or expedient to remove or discontinue the use of the tramway or any part thereof, the Promoters may—subject to such conditions and in accordance, in all respects, with such regulations as the Local Government may from time to time make—construct and maintain, so long as occasion may require, a temporary tramway in lieu of the tramway or part of the tramway removed or discontinued.

Power of Promoters to make temporary tramway.

31. The Promoters shall not, without the consent in writing of the District Engineer or of the local authority as the case may be, cut down or lop any tree growing along or by the side of the road, provided that in cases of emergency the Promoters may lop or remove the branches or any portion of a tree which projects or hangs in such a manner as to be a source of damage or impediment to the tramway traffic.

Lopping trees.

32. Any road metal or material excavated by the Promoters from the road, in the construction or maintenance of the tramway, may be applied by them in or towards reinstating the said road or in or towards completing any work thereon required by this order.

Use of excavated material.

33. The Promoters may stack road metal and other materials for the construction or maintenance of the tramway within the limits of the road boundaries, but the same shall be stacked in such a manner as in the opinion of the Executive Engineer will not impede or endanger the traffic on the said road.

Stacking of materials.

34. The portion of the road which the Promoters are not authorised by or under this order to use for the purposes of the tramway shall be left free and unencumbered for ordinary traffic, and no obstruction whatever shall be placed thereon or caused thereto without the previous written consent of the Local Government.

Unused portion of the road to be left free.

TRAFFIC AND TRAFFIC WORKING.

Traffic to be carried.

35. The tramway may be used for the purpose of conveying passengers, passengers' luggage, animals, goods, minerals and parcels. But the Promoters shall have the liberty to refuse to carry any person or any animals suffering from any infectious or contagious disorder and, subject to the provisions of section 16 of the Act, any goods of a dangerous or offensive nature: Provided that nothing in this clause shall be taken to restrict the right of the Local Government or local authority by the rules under section 24 of the Act to prohibit the carriage or conveyance of persons or animals suffering from any contagious disease or of goods declared to be dangerous or offensive.

Maximum fares and rates.

36. At the outset the following shall be the maximum rates of fares for passengers and tariff of charges for goods:—

(a) Passengers.—	Per mile.
Third class	3 pies.

The Promoters shall not, as between members of the public, make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favour of any particular person or company or any particular description of traffic or subject any particular person or company to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage.

The Local Government shall have absolute power for the purposes of this clause to decide whether any preference, advantage, prejudice or disadvantage is undue or unreasonable.

Crossing of tramway by any railway or other tramway.

42. In the event of its being necessary under the authority of the Local Government for any railway or tramway line other than that referred to in this order to cross the tramway on the level or otherwise, the Promoters shall not be competent to raise any objection, provided that such reasonable expenses as may be shown to the satisfaction of the Local Government to have been incurred by the Promoters on account of any interference with the tramway that may be necessary for such crossing shall be borne by the administration of the railway or tramway authorised to cross:

Provided that the Local Government shall have absolute power for the purpose of this clause to decide the question as to the reasonableness of the expenses incurred by the Promoters on account of the interference with the tramway.

When the tramway interferes with the location or extension of any railway.

43. In case it hereafter be found that any portion of the alignment adopted by the Promoters for the tramway interferes with the location of any new line of railway or the extension of any existing line of railway, the alignment occupied by the tramway shall, forthwith, at the request of the Local Government, be abandoned in favour of the railway, and the tramway shall be diverted in such way and in such manner as shall appear to the Local Government to be fair and proper, provided that the actual cost of constructing such diversion shall be borne by the authorities of the said railway.

On Promoters' default, works may be executed by Local Government.

44. In the event of any work required by the Act or by this order to be done by the Promoters not being done by them, the Local Government may cause a notice to be served on the Promoters requiring them within a period to be prescribed in the said notice to execute the said work, and if within the period prescribed such requisition is not complied with, the Local Government may cause such work to be done and the cost thereof shall be recoverable from the Promoters under section 36 of the Act. The certificate of the Executive Engineer shall be conclusive evidence that all expenses referred to in such certificate have been incurred in carrying out such work, and the Promoters shall not be at liberty to dispute the same.

Improvements may be directed by the Local Government.

45. The Promoters shall adopt and apply all such improvements in the tramway and in the rolling stock and appliances thereon, and shall make such additions to the rolling-stock as the Local Government may from time to time consider necessary or desirable for the safety or convenience of the public.

46. The Promoters shall not have the power to transfer the undertaking without the previous sanction of the Local Government. The local authority reserves the right to purchase the undertaking with the previous sanction of the Local Government at the expiry of 21 years, after first opening throughout for traffic or at subsequent intervals of 10 years, on 12 months' notice, the purchase price being 25 times the yearly average net earnings derived by the company from the tramway during the three years preceding the purchase, with a maximum price of 120 and a minimum of 100 per cent. of the cost price on a rupee basis.

Statistics.

47. The Promoters shall provide without unreasonable delay such statistics relating to the tramway or the traffic thereon as may from time to time be required by the Local Government.

Concession in this order gives Promoters no exclusive right as carriers on the road traversed by the tramway.

48. It is to be distinctly understood that no concession granted under this order confers on the Promoters any exclusive right as carriers over any part of the tract traversed by the tramway. In the event of Government deciding to construct or granting a concession to construct a broad-gauge line between Morinda and Chandigarh, the tramway shall be purchased outright either by Government or the concessionaire on the terms specified in clause 46 of this order.

Penalty for failure of Promoters to comply with orders.

49. (1) If the Promoters fail to observe any condition or direction contained in or made under this order, they shall, for each such failure to observe the same, be liable to a penalty which may extend to two hundred rupees, and in the case of a continuing failure to a further penalty which may extend to fifty rupees for each day after the first during which such failure continues.

ARBITRATION.

5. In the event of any dispute or difference arising between the Promoters and the Local Government or the local authority touching this order or the construction thereof or as to the rights, duties and obligations arising thereunder or as to any other matter arising out of or connected with the subject-matter of this order, the same shall be referred for decision to two arbitrators, one to be appointed by each party to the dispute, and in the case of their not agreeing, to an umpire to be chosen by the arbitrators before the reference is proceeded with. ii. it is fitted with an efficient "spark arrester".

(c) If such heavy motor vehicle is propelled otherwise than by steam that it is so used that no smoke or visible vapour is emitted therefrom except from any temporary or accidental cause.

(2) Before registering a heavy motor-vehicle the registering authority shall also satisfy himself that the tyres of the wheels of the vehicle, if the tyres are not pneumatic, or are not made of a soft or elastic material, are of the dimensions required by the special rules for heavy motor-vehicles, and may also have the weight of the heavy motor-vehicle, and if he thinks necessary, the axle weight of each wheel ascertained in such manner as he may by general or special order direct.

Subsequent defects.

5. Where the registering authority at any time after a heavy motor-vehicle has been registered, considers, on the report of any District Superintendent of Police or otherwise, that it has ceased to comply with the requirements of any of these rules or that it has not been maintained in such a condition as to prevent danger to the public, such registering authority may, after notice to the registered owner, direct that the registration be cancelled until such time as the defects are rectified to its satisfaction.

Driving on the right-side of the road.

6. A heavy motor-vehicle shall be driven in accordance with the rules of the road which require a vehicle to keep on the left of the road except when passing horses and other vehicles going in the same direction which should be passed on the right, and provided that it should ordinarily pass a tramcar on the left or near side whether it be going in the same or the contrary direction.

7. The speed at which a heavy motor-vehicle is driven on any public road shall not exceed 7 miles an hour.

Provided that—

(a) if the weight of the heavy motor-vehicle unladen exceeds three tons, or
(b) if the registered axle weight of any axle exceeds six tons, or
(c) if a trailer is attached to the heavy motor-vehicle, the speed shall not exceed five miles an hour.

Provided also that—

If the heavy motor-vehicle has all its wheels fitted with pneumatic tyres or with tyres of a soft or elastic material, the speed at which the heavy motor-vehicle may be driven on any public road shall not exceed—

(a) twelve miles an hour where the registered axle weight of any axle does not exceed six tons ;
(b) seven miles an hour where such registered axle weight exceeds six tons.

8. No person shall drive a heavy motor-vehicle (a) unless it is at all times under full control so as to prevent undue interference with passenger or other traffic, and unless it is maintained in such a condition as to prevent danger to the public; (b) if such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled by steam unless—

Maintenance.

(i) it is so constructed as to consume its own smoke as far as practicable,

10. The driver of a heavy motor-vehicle shall not cause the vehicle to travel backwards for a greater distance or time than may be requisite for purposes of safety or in order to turn round.

11. On every application to a registering authority for the registration of a heavy motor-vehicle and for permission to ply for hire the applicant shall declare—

The 27th April 1910.

No. 847.—Notification.—In supersession of the notifications of the Punjab Government noted on the margin, the following revised rules made by the Government of India in the Finance Department (resolution No. 559 Exc., dated 8th February 1910), relating to the custody, supply and sale of all kinds of stamps and stamped paper now in use, are published for the information and guidance of all officers concerned:—

1. No. 874, dated 16th March 1905.
2. No. 1904, dated 19th August 1907.
3. No. 326, dated 8th February 1908.
4. No. 1335, dated 1st July 1908.

Rules for the custody, supply and sale of stamps of all descriptions, namely, general stamps used to denote the duties payable under the Stamp Act, 1899 (II of 1899), court-fee stamps used to denote the fees payable under the Court Fees Act, 1870 (VII of 1870), and postage stamps.

CENTRAL DEPOTS.

1. There shall be five central depôts for stamps of all descriptions in charge of the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps at Calcutta and the Superintendents of Stamps at Madras, Bombay, Rangoon and Karcáhi, respectively. These central depôts shall maintain a stock of stamps sufficient for two years' consumption except in the case of post cards, envelopes, newspaper wrappers, non-judicial stamps at rates from 2 annas to Rs. 2, and stamps for copies, of which a stock sufficient for one year's consumption shall be maintained. The Superintendents of Stamps in Madras, Bombay, Rangoon and Karáchi shall, for this purpose, forward, not later than the 15th of August in each year, indents for the supply of the various descriptions of stamps required in the following year for the territories dependent on them for the supply of stamps to the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta. The Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta, shall prepare a general consolidated indent for stamps of all descriptions, showing separately the demand for the following year for each of the five central depôts, including in it the indents of the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon and Karáchi; and shall forward this general indent to the Government of India in the Finance Department not later than the 4th October for transmission to the Secretary of State, whom it must reach not later than the 1st November in each year. The Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps should forward a copy of the section of the general indent relating to postage stamps to the Director-General of the Post Office.

2. Stamps for Bengal, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Eastern Bengal and Assam, and Central India and local depôts subordinate to Calcutta, and stamps for copies for use in the Central Provinces and Berar, shall be supplied from the central depôt, Calcutta, on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

3. Stamps for the Madras Presidency, including Coorg, treasuries at Bangalore and Travancore, and local depôts subordinate to Madras shall be supplied from the central depôt at Madras on the indent of the officers in charge of local depôts.

4. Stamps for the Bombay Presidency except Sind, the Central Provinces and Berar (save as provided in rule 2), and local depôts subordinate to Bombay, Abu and Anadra and the connected areas in Rájpútána shall be supplied from the central depôt, Bombay, on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

5. Stamps for the Province of Burma and the Andamans shall be supplied from the central depôt at Rangoon on the indent of officers in charge of local depôts.

6. Stamps for the Province of Sind, Baluchistán, the North-West Frontier Province, the Punjab, and Rájpútána (save as provided in rule 4), and for the Residency treasuries in Kashmír, the Khorasán Agency treasury, and the areas under the jurisdiction of the Political Resident in the Persian Gulf shall be supplied from the central depôt at Karáchi on the indent of the officers in charge of the local depôts.

7. The Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta, and the Superintendents of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon and Karáchi, on receiving an indent from a local depôt, shall have the indent examined to ascertain that the indent is such as to ensure the local depôt having a proper supply, and may comply with the indent in full or in part, as they think fit. If they think that the indent should be increased, they should request the officer who submitted the indent to submit a supplementary indent. The Presidency Post Offices of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay may indent for supplies on the central depôts.

LOCAL DEPOTS.

8. Every treasury throughout India, including those attached to political and salt agencies, shall be a local depôt for the custody and sale of stamps of all descriptions. Local Governments may establish local depôts at places where there is no treasury.

9. Each local depôt shall, unless the Local Government otherwise directs, maintain a supply of stamps not less than the probable consumption of five months. Local Governments may direct that the supply to be maintained, either generally or in respect of any particular kind of stamp or in certain local depôts, shall be equal to the probable consumption of such other period as they deem expedient.

10. As soon as the number of stamps in the local depôt falls below the number issued from the depôt in the preceding six months, the officer in charge of the depôt shall prepare an indent for a supply equal to the probable consumption of three months. The indent shall show in separate columns for each denomination of stamp of which a supply is required, the total of the balance in the local depôt and any branch* depôts subordinate to it, the quantity sold in the preceding six months, and the quantity indented for, which should be approximately one-half of the quantity sold in the preceding six months. The periods of "six months" and "three months" in this rule may, like that of five months in rule 9, be altered by Local Governments to such other periods as they may deem expedient. This indent will be forwarded direct to the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon or Karáchi or the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta, as the case may be; but the Local Government of any province may direct that the indents shall be forwarded through any other officer, such as the Superintendent of Stamps of the province, or that a copy of the indent shall be forwarded to such officer.

11. If the supply of stamps in any local depôt should run short before the receipt of the supply from the central depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt should indent for a supply from a neighbouring depôt, sending a copy of the indent to the Superintendent or Commissioner of Stamps of the province, or such other officer as the Local Government may direct. It is the duty of the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon or Karáchi, or the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta, to report to the Local Government (or such authority as the Local Government may direct) in the case of general and court-fee stamps, and to the Director-General of Post Offices in the case of postage stamps, any case in which it may come to his knowledge that the stock of stamps in any local depôt of any description has fallen below the prescribed amount.

12. As soon as possible after the arrival of a supply of stamps from the central depôt or from another local depôt, the officer in charge of the local depôt shall personally examine the outward appearance of the boxes of packets and satisfy himself that they bear no marks of tampering. He shall then have the boxes or packets opened in his presence, and the contents of each box or packet counted either by himself, or in his presence immediately on being opened. At the head-quarters of a district, where the treasury is the local depôt, the boxes or packets should invariably be placed immediately on arrival in the strong room of the treasury and there opened, one at a time, in the presence of the treasury officer, who must be present all the time the boxes or packets are being opened and their contents examined and counted. In no case must a second box or packet be opened until the contents of the first have been completely examined and verified and placed in the proper receptacles as required by rule 15. The number and value of stamps received shall be compared by the officer in charge with the invoice submitted or with the passed indents and a receipt shall be sent not later than seven days after the arrival of the stamps to the officer who sent the stamps.

13. Local Governments may issue such orders as may be thought necessary regarding the detailed counting of stamps received in a local depôt, and as to the descriptions of stamps, which the officer in charge himself must count. Such orders may include instructions that a certain percentage only of sealed packets marked as containing a certain number of stamps need be opened and counted at the time of receipt, and the remainder, if the percentage opened are all found correct, left with seals unbroken to be counted, as they are required, on being given out from double lock. The officer in charge is responsible for observing any such instructions, and for satisfying himself as to the number of stamps received before signing the receipt. The inside wrappers of packets of stamps which bear the initials of the officers through whose hands the packets passed before issue from England should invariably be preserved till the whole contents of the packets have been examined and found correct.

14. If any of the stamps received are found to be unfit for issue, they should be at once returned to the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, or Superintendent of Stamps, as the case may be. Stamps which are through any accident rendered unfit for issue at any time after receipt should be similarly returned to the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, or Superintendent of Stamps, as the case may be, as soon as their unfitness is discovered. The necessary entries on account of stamps so returned should be made in the monthly statement (rule 35), and in the plus and minus memoranda (rule 37).

15. Immediately after the stamps received have been counted, they shall be placed in proper receptacles in the store under double lock in the presence of the officer in charge, arranged in parcels and packets containing known quantities, the amount and value of each denomination being entered at the same time in a register maintained to show the receipts and issues to and from the store under double lock. These entries shall be checked by the officer in charge at the time when the stamps are deposited, and the correctness of the arithmetical calculations of additions to balance, as well as of the values compared with quantities, shall be verified and initialled by him at the time. The register shall then be placed with the stamps in the double lock receptacles and shall not be removed therefrom, nor shall any entries be allowed to be made therein except in the presence of the officer in charge.

N.B.—In all cases where stamp registers have to be checked, the actual check of quantities against values is a very important one ; the correctness of the calculations of value must be tested in detail either by actual multiplication or by use of correctly prepared tables, and this check should never be omitted. This remark applies also to such of the following rules as prescribe a check of this kind. It is not necessary that the complete checking should be done by the officer himself. It will be sufficient if the officer personally checks 10 per cent. of the entries in each class of stamps, leaving the remaining entries in each class to be checked by a subordinate under his supervision.

16. The treasurer, or such other officer as the district officer may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of all descriptions of stamps in each local depôt. Except in Rangoon, Moulmein, Akyab, Bassein, and Mandalay, sales to the public or to licensed vendors shall not be made direct from the stores under double lock, such sales being made by the ex-officio vendor from the supply entrusted to him for this purpose, to be kept by him under single lock, as prescribed in the following rules.

17. The stock to be made over to the ex-officio vendor to be kept by him under single lock should ordinarily be sufficient for the probable demand of one month. The ex-officio vendor will maintain a register of receipts and issues from single lock in the same form as the double lock register, and on a fixed date near the beginning of each month he will prepare an indent for the quantity required for the month in a form showing the balances in his hands, an average month's consumption, and the quantity required. When this indent is presented to the officer in charge, he will examine the single lock register, check the correctness of the arithmetical calculations made therein, and compare the balance shown with the actual balance in the ex-officio vendor's hands. If he approves the indent, he shall then give out the quantity required from the store under double lock, check the correctness of the entries made in the double lock register, see that they correspond with those made in the single lock register, initial both registers and return the double lock register into the double lock store. When it is necessary to issue stamps from the store under double lock more than once in one day, the above checks need only be applied at each time of issue to the particular descriptions of stamps issued. But at the end of each day the treasury officer should verify the whole balance of stamps in the ex-officio vendor's hand and check his registers. The same procedure shall be followed if any stamps should be required at any intermediate date. The Local Governments may reduce the period of one month mentioned in this rule to one week, or any other period less than a month, if they consider this desirable with reference to the amount of the treasurer's security or for any other reason.

18. From the stock so made over to his charge and kept by him under single lock, the ex-officio vendor shall sell stamps to the public and to licensed vendors for cash. He shall maintain the single lock register in the form mentioned in the preceding paragraph in such language as the Local Government may direct, entering therein both in quantities and values the receipts from double lock, the daily sales and the balance in his hands of each denomination at the end of each day. He shall pay daily into the treasury the cash received by him for stamps sold, the amount realised on account of each of the three descriptions of stamps—namely, general, court-fees, and postage—being paid in separately. The account of the daily sales should be inspected and the correctness of the calculations shown therein checked every day by the officer in charge of the depôt.

19. In Rangoon, Moulmein, Akyab, Bassein and Mandalay stamps of the value of Rs. 50 and over may be sold direct from the stores under double lock to the public for cash by the officer in subordinate charge of the depôt. He shall keep in English an account of such sales in the same manner and form as that prescribed by rule 18 for sales by the ex-officio vendor.

20. The rules regulating the grant of discount and the grant of licenses to licensed vendors for the sale of general and court-fee stamps vary in different provinces, and are prescribed by Local Governments, subject to the general rule that no change in the rates of discount shall be made without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

21. A district officer may direct that the sales to the public of general and court-fee stamps by ex-officio vendors shall be limited to stamps of a value higher than a named amount, the sale to the public of stamps of lower value being left to licensed vendors.

22. Service postage stamps shall be sold for cash, on a written application, from local depôts to Government officials and to persons specially authorized to purchase and use service stamps. On such sale no discount is allowed.

23. Ordinary postage stamps (including half anna and one anna unified stamps) shall be sold for cash from local depôts to officers in charge of post offices, receiving offices, tahsils, thanas and police stations at which letters are received for despatch, to persons licensed to sell general stamps under the rules framed under the Stamp Act, 1899 (II of 1899), and to the public; provided that the value sold to any person at one time shall not be less than Rs. 5 and shall not include any fraction of a rupee, and that embossed envelopes and post cards shall be sold in complete packets only. No discount is allowed on such sales. Soldiers' envelopes are sold from certain selected local depôts only to Commanding Officers, in complete packets, no discount being allowed.

24. Telegraph Masters shall obtain supplies of postage stamps from the local depôts subject to the same conditions in regard to the quantity supplied at one time as those of the preceding rules, and shall sell to the public postage stamps of all descriptions and to any value. No discount is allowed to Telegraph Masters for the sales of stamps, but they are allowed permanent advances of postage stamps without payment, the amount of the permanent advance being fixed by the Director-General of Telegraphs. When the permanent advance of postage stamps has once been taken, subsequent issues to Telegraph Masters are made only on cash payment. But when the local depôt is about to be closed for holidays of more than one day's duration, officers in charge of local depôts are authorised to issue postage stamps to Telegraph Masters without payment in excess of the value of the permanent advance, these temporary advances being adjusted when the treasury re-opens by the return of the stamps or the payment of their value if sold.

25. The officer in charge of each post office, receiving office, tahsil, thana, and police station, at which letters are received for despatch, and of each telegraph office, is required to keep a supply of ordinary postage stamps (including half anna and one anna unified stamps) for sale to the public sufficient for the probable demands of one week. Every person licensed under the rules framed under the Stamp Act, 1899 (II of 1899), to sell general stamps is required to keep a similar supply of half anna and one anna unified stamps.

26. Superintendents and Inspectors of post offices within their respective jurisdictions, and any other officers of the post office authorized on that behalf by the Post Master General or Deputy Post Master General, are empowered to examine the stock of postage stamps kept by any of the persons required to keep postage stamps for sale to the public under rule 25.

BRANCH DEPOTS.

27. Every subordinate, branch, or tahsil treasury shall be a branch depôt for the sale of stamps of all descriptions. But in any case where the sale of stamps from such a branch depôt is insignificant, and equal facilities exist for the supply of stamps from a depôt in the same station as the branch depôt, the Local Government may direct the closing of the branch depôt; provided that, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, the Local Government may order that the maintenance of a stock of postage stamps in a sub-treasury may be dispensed with when the post office authorities do not require it.

28. The sub-treasurer, or such other officer as the district officer may direct, shall be the ex-officio vendor of stamps at a branch depôt.

29. The officer in charge of the branch depôt shall obtain his supplies from the ocal depôt to which the branch depôt is subordinate in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local depôt obtains his supplies, except that the indent and the stamps must be sent by post or messenger to and from the local depôt, and that the examination of the balance in hand and the comparison of the amounts shown with those shown in the indent shall be done by the officer in charge of the branch depôt. In cases where there is likely to be a distinct saving of cost or greater security of the stamps in transit, the Local Government may empower the Board of Revenue or other superior revenue authority to sanction the despatch of stamps direct from the central depôt to a branch depôt, such supplies being passed through the accounts of the local depôt and treated by the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, or Superintendent of Stamps, as supplies to the local depôts to which the branch depôts are subordinate.

The receipt and examination of stamps on arrival from a local, central or other depôt should be conducted in the manner laid down in rule 12.

The ex-officio vendor shall obtain his supplies from the officer in charge of the branch depôt in the same manner as the ex-officio vendor at the local dopôt obtains his supplies from the officer in charge.

30. The supply to be kept in a branch depôt should be not less than the probable demand for three months; but Local Governments may direct that the supply shall be equal to the demand of any other period instead of three months which they may consider expedient. The stock should be kept up to this amount by indenting and obtaining supplies from the local depôt from time to time as may be necessary.

31. As soon as the number of stamps in the branch depôt falls below the number issued from the depôt in the preceding four months, the officer in charge of the depôt shall prepare an indent for a supply equal to the probable consumption of two months. The indent shall show, in separate columns for each denomination of stamps of which a supply is required, the balance in the branch depôt, the quantity sold in the preceding four months and the quantity indented for, which should be approximately one-half of the quantity sold in the preceding four months. The periods of "four months" and "two months" in this rule may be altered by Local Governments to such other periods as they deem expedient.

32. Local Governments shall fix the period a supply sufficient for which shall be kept under single lock by the ex-officio vendor, and the remainder of the stamps in the branch depôt shall be kept under double lock of the officer in charge of the branch depôt and of the ex-officio vendor, and given out to single lock as required.

33. Sales from branch depôts will be made subject to the same rules as those from local depôts.

RETURNS TO AND BY THE CONTROLLER ON PRINTING, STATIONERY AND STAMPS, SUPERINTENDENTS OF STAMPS AND ACCOUNTANTS-GENERAL.

34. On the last open day of September and March each year, the officer in charge of each local depôt will count, or have counted in his presence, the stamps in his depôt, both those under double lock and those under single lock, and will require the officers in charge of the branch depôts subordinate to him similarly to count the stamps in the branch depôt. He will attach to the monthly statement for September and March rendered to the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta, or the Superintendent of Stamps, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon or Karáchi, or, in the United Provinces, the Punjab, the North-West Frontier Province, and the Central Provinces and Berar, to the Local Superintendent or Commissioner of Stamps or other officer named by the Local Government, a certificate in the following form :—

I do hereby certify that I have personally examined and counted, or had counted in my presence, the stamps of all descriptions in store in this local depôt on the September/March 19 , and found by actual calculation of numbers and values, not less than 10 per cent. of the entries having been checked by me personally, that the value of each description is as stated in the margin.* Also that I have received similar certificates from the officers in charge of the subordinate branch depôts that they have similarly counted the stamps in their branch depôts on the last day of the month of September/March 19 , of which the accounts are incorporated in the head treasury accounts, and that they have made a similar calculation of numbers and values and that these certificates show the value of each description of stamps in all the branch depôts to be as stated in the margin.†

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Health, on the proposal of the Inspector-General, the following decision was taken in respect of the importation of Shiah corpses from Persia and from Basrah to the Shiah burying grounds in Mesopotamia : —

For several years past the importation of such corpses has been entirely prohibited ; this prohibition is now removed, and the corpses in question will be admitted under the same conditions as those imported by land. That is to say, they must have been buried for at least three years and must consist of bones only (à l'état d'ossements). If these conditions are not fulfilled, the bodies will be buried "sur place" (i.e., presumably at Basrah).

The following telegraphic correspondence between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Majesty's Secretary of State for India is published for general information :—

From—His Excellency the Viceroy,
To—His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA have heard with the deepest sorrow of the sudden death of His Majesty the King Emperor. The expression of grief is universal. Messages of sympathy are pouring in from all quarters. The Princes and people of all races and creeds unite with the Government in lamenting the death of a beloved and revered Sovereign, of whose abiding affection for India they have received many tokens, and whose visit to them in years gone by has not been forgotten. On behalf of all classes we beg of you to convey to His Majesty the King Emperor this expression of heartfelt sorrow, and to offer him our respectful homage on his accession to the throne of the British Empire.

Telegram dated London, the 10th May 1910.
From—His Majesty's Secretary of State for India,
To—His Excellency the Viceroy.

I AM commanded by the King Emperor to transmit to Your Excellency the following answer which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to make to the address communicated to me by Your Excellency for submission to His Majesty on behalf of the Government and the Princes and people of India:—

Begins.—I have received with profound appreciation the expression of sympathy and loyalty conveyed in Your Excellency's message from the Princes and people of all races and creeds in my Indian Empire on the occasion of the death of my dearly loved father the King Emperor. I am deeply touched by this expression of their universal sorrow for his death. He always remembered with affection his visit to India and its welfare was ever in his thoughts. From my own experience I know the profound loyalty felt for my throne by the Princes and people of India to whom I desire that my acknowledgments of the homage they have tendered to me on my accession may be made known. The prosperity and happiness of my Indian Empire will always be to me of the highest interest and concern as they were to the late King Emperor and the Queen Empress before him.—Ends.

The 25th May 1910.

No. 33.—Notification.—The following rules, made by the Inspector-General of Registration, Punjab, under section 69 of Act XVI of 1908 (The Indian Registration Act), have been approved by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, and are published for general information.

2. These rules shall take effect from June 1st, 1910, and from that date the rules published with Punjab Government notification No. 3947, dated 10th December 1880, and subsequent notifications made under section 69 of Act III of 1877, together with notifications No. 2 of 23rd February 1909 and No. 6 of 4th March 1909, shall cease to have effect:—

RULES.

Custody and Preservation.

Responsibility for preservation and safe custody of records.

1. Registering officers are responsible for the preservation and safe custody of all registration records, including those of previous years, which have accumulated in their offices or have been transferred thereto. This reponsibility applies not only to the registers and records maintained under the current Registration Act, XVI of 1908, but also to those under the previous Acts, III of 1877, VIII of 1871 and XX of 1866, as well as to those maintained under local rules before the extension of the last named Act to the Punjab.

Strong boxes.

2. The offices of all registering officers have been supplied with one or more strong tin-lined boxes or almirahs secured by locks of approved pattern; in these boxes the registration books and all papers and documents connected therewith shall be kept, and no money or valuables of any kind shall be deposited therein. The box shall be placed in the room where the registering officer transacts his public business, and shall be opened and closed by that officer himself or in his presence. When locked, the key shall be retained in his own possession. The duplicate keys of these locks supplied to Sub-Registrars shall remain in the custody of the Registrar of the district, who should label each with the name of the sub-district to which it belongs, and deposit it in some safe place.

Weekly examination of records.

3. To prevent injury occurring to the older records by damp, white ants, &c., the boxes should be thoroughly emptied out and their contents examined once a week, and all Sub-Registrars should submit along with their monthly returns a certificate to the Registrar of their district to the effect that the records in their charge have been examined according to rules. Should any injury happen to any of the records, whether by white ants, fire, flood or otherwise, or should any of them be lost, an immediate report should be made to the Inspector-General by the Registrar of the district who should record at the same time his opinion as to whether any one and, if so, who, is to blame, and as to the measures to be taken to repair the injury or loss so far as may be possible.

Preservation of wills and authorities to adopt.

4. The Registrar of every district has been supplied with a fire-proof safe. In the safe shall be kept wills in sealed covers, and authorities to adopt, which may have been deposited under the provisions of Act XX of 1866, and authorities to adopt executed before 1st January 1872, which may have been deposited under section 2 of Act VIII of 1871, also wills in sealed covers which have been deposited or may be presented for deposit under section 43, and wills which have been or may be opened under section 45 of Act VIII of 1871, Act III of 1877 or Act XVI of 1908. It shall not be used for any other purpose whatever. The key of the safe shall remain in the personal custody of the Registrar, who alone shall open and close it; the duplicate key should be carefully labelled and forwarded to the Inspector-General's office for safe custody and issue as required. The safe shall be placed where it cannot be affected by damp; and it shall be opened and examined at least once a month, with the view of ascertaining that its contents (if any) are correct and in good condition, and that the lock is in order; and every quarter the Registrar shall report to the Inspector-General the result of this examination, or if no such examination from unavoidable cause has been made, the reason for it. If any will through age or damp has been subjected to such decomposition that it appears likely to become useless, the depositor or his legal representative, if the depositor is dead, should be called upon to replace it, and informed that, unless he does so, it will be destroyed when no longer legible. Such destruction should be carried out in the presence of a gazetted officer, who should record a note thereof in his own handwriting in the register.

Central Record Office.

Central office to be in Registrar's office.

5. The Registrar's office shall contain the central office of record for each district, and the registers of his own and those of subordinate officers, which are to be preserved in perpetuity, shall be transferred to it from time to time.

Catalogue of permanent records.

6. A catalogue shall be kept up in every registration office, so many pages being set apart for entering up serially the volumes of each species of register where necessary, year by year. Only permanent records shall be entered, such records being of the following character:—

(1) Such filed copies of documents, along with relevant indexes and diaries, as may still exist.

(2) Any register books that there may be into which deeds were copied along with relevant indexes.

(b) For the period 1847—1856—

(1) The single register books into which deeds were copied.

(2) The indexes to the above, if any.

(c) For the period 1856—1867—

(1) The file books of the copies or the bundles of the copies which were taken from presenters and which, after comparison with originals, were filed.

(2) The register books in which record was made of the names, etc., of the persons who presented the copies and of the nature of the transaction.

(3) The annual indexes to the above register books.

All volumes of books Nos. 1,* 2, 3, 4 and 6 and all annual indexes I, II, III and IV (vide sections 51, 54 and 55 of the Act).

Transfer of records to central office.

7. When a central office has been opened no time should be lost in transferring to it from the Registrar's and Sub-Registrar's offices the records mentioned in (a), (b) and (c) of the preceding rule if there are any such. And at the beginning of each calendar year such of the records mentioned in (d) as are completely filled up and in which the last entry dates back over 12 years or such period as the Inspector-General may approve (except indexes I, II and III, which will remain in the sub-offices) should be transferred to the central office till records so transferred shall be accompanied by an invoice in duplicate (vide form 3, appendix III): one copy of the invoice shall, after careful verification, be receipted and returned to the office from which it was received with as little delay as possible. Despatching officers will be responsible for seeing that the records are securely packed before despatch, and that every precaution is taken to guard against their loss or damage in transit.

Inspection and production in court.

Inspection of registers, etc., by applicants under section 57.

Production of registers, etc., in court.

8. Inspection of registration books and indexes allowed to applicants under section 57 of Act XVI of 1908 shall be made in the presence of the registering officer and without writing materials.

If the production of a register book, or of any document in the custody of a registering officer, be required by any court, it shall be forwarded under charge of a member of the registration establishment, and application shall be made to the court for payment of his expenses.

Destruction.

Annual destruction of useless records.

9. Each Sub-Registrar and the Registrar's muharrir for the Registrar's office shall, as soon as possible after the close of each calendar year, submit in Urdu or in English, to the Registrar of the district, a statement prepared according to form H, appendix II, containing proposals for the destruction of documents and records, which in his opinion need no longer be preserved. The Registrar after examining all such statements, shall pass orders for the destruction or preservation of the papers noted therein, as he thinks best. These statements should be disposed of by Registrars by the 1st March in each year at the latest. Office copies of annual and monthly returns more than three years old may be included amongst the records proposed for destruction. Among the older records the following should not be preserved:—

*NOTE.—Book No. 1 includes also supplementary book No. 1 (rule 16).

(1) Old book V which was kept in the years 1866—1872 and contains summaries of decrees in land suits sent to Sub-Registrars by civil courts.

(2) The serial register books or diaries of the years 1856—1868, provided the copies of the deeds entered in these books are forthcoming (with the indexes) and have registration endorsements on them signed by the Sub-Registrar.

The inspection notes of the Inspector-General of Registration may be destroyed after six years.

Destruction of registered documents.

10. When a registered document is destroyed under Section 85, a note to that effect shall be made in the column for remarks opposite the copy in the book in which it was registered. When a document, the registration of which has been refused, is destroyed under the same section a similar note shall be made in the column of remarks opposite the record of refusal in Book No. 2.

Books and records.

Supply of registers.

11. The books shall consist of printed forms to be supplied by the Inspector-General, containing the headings hereinafter described, and paged consecutively, bound in volumes of convenient size, the number of pages in each volume being certified on the title page. Ordinarily they shall be in the verancular, but in special cases English forms may be supplied. The volume shall be numbered consecutively (a separate series for each book and the number shall not terminate with the calendar year, but shall run on perpetually. Registrars will send to the Inspector-General's office every year, by the 1st July, an indent specifying the books and forms likely to be required in their own offices and in those subordinate to them during the next calendar year. After printing and binding, the books will be supplied, during the month of January, to Registrars who will stock them and distribute them when required to the sub-offices. Every registering Officer, on receiving a volume from the Registrar's office, shall immediately examine it, to see that it contains the certified number of pages, and that these have been numbered in proper consecutive order; and he shall note the result on the title page. A similar certificate will be entered by the Registrar in any volume brought into use in his own office.

Certificate of examination when a volume is filled up.

12. When a volume is filled up, the registering officer shall certify after the last entry the number of entries made therein during the current calendar year and the number of pages on which they are written; he shall also examine those entries and note in his certificate any errors or defects that he may discover.

Consecutive numbers to be by the calendar year. Certificate at close of year.

13. The consecutive numbers of entries in each book prescribed in section 53 shall begin and end with the calendar year, and at the close of each such year the registering officer shall certify, after the last entry of each current volume, the number of entries made in that volume during the year and the number of pages on which they are written; he shall also examine those entries, and note in his certificate any errors or defects that he may discover. If no entries have been made during the year in any volume, he shall certify to that effect.

Book 1.

14. Book 1 is the register of non-testamentary documents relating to immovable property. It and the indexes relating thereto are open to public inspection, and copies of entries in them shall be given to all persons applying for them on payment of the prescribed fees. In this book shall be entered all documents registered under sections 17 and 18 which relate to immovable property and are not wills. It shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Value of stamp, and copy of all endorsements made in the registry office.
(2) Serial number of entry, nature and value of transaction, and amount of registration and other fees and fines levied.
(3) Copy of document registered.
(4) remarks.

15. When any document is registered in book 1 affecting some other document previously registered in it, a note referring to the later document shall be entered in the column for remarks opposite the entry of the earlier document. The note shall be signed by the registering officer of the day. And a note of compliance with this rule and signed by the muharrir shall always be entered on the copies of documents in which the references to previous documents occur, as without such a note it cannot be easily ascertained whether the rule has been carried out. When entries have to be made in registers transferred from Sub-Registrar's offices to a central record-room, Sub-Registrars shall maintain lists of all such references and send them to the Registrar's office at the end of every month. The Registrar's clerk shall then enter the notes in the appropriate registers in the record-room, have them signed by the supervising officer, and return the lists duly endorsed to the Sub-Registrars who will have the requisite notes of compliance entered against the copies of the later documents in their offices.

References to other documents affecting the same property.

16. Besides the ordinary entries in this book, the Act requires that the following documents shall be "filed in book 1":—

Supplementary book 1.

Copies of maps and plans (section 61).

Copies and memoranda of documents received from other registering officers (sections 64 to 67).

Copies of certificates granted by revenue officers under the Land Improvement or Agriculturists' Loans Acts, and of certificates of sale granted by courts under the Code of Civil Procedure or by revenue officers in regard to immovable property sold by public auction (section 89).

To these may be added translations and copies of documents written in languages not in common use (section 62).

To prevent the injury to the binding and the disturbance of paging, which would result if these documents were filed in the bound volumes, a separate file book called "supplementary book 1" is kept in each office in which the abovementioned documents shall be pasted. It shall contain printed slips paged in consecutive order and having columns headed as follows :—

(1) Date of receipt of copy or memorandum.
(2) Date on which document was executed.
(3) Name and addition of executant.

As regards the copies of maps and plans, and the translations and copies of foreign instruments filed in this book under sections 61 and 62, it will be sufficient to note thereon the registration No. and date of registration of the document to which they appertain, and the volume and page where the entry will be found. But all other copies and memoranda filed in this book shall be numbered consecutively and the necessary particulars given them in indexes Nos. I and II. All documents should be pasted in immediately on receipt, otherwise there is danger of their being lost or injured. In all cases the three printed columns on the paged slips should be filled up. The certificates at the beginning and end of each volume prescribed in rules 11 and 12 and the annual certificate prescribed in rule 13 must be recorded in this book in the same manner as in all the other registers.

17. When a document is registered under section 62, a note of the pages of supplementary book 1 on which the translation and copy have been filed, shall be made in the column for remarks.

Filing translations and maps.

A similar note shall be made when a copy of a map or plan is filed under section 61.

18. A special volume of register book 1 to be called the "additional volume" in the form of a file book with numbered butts may be opened in any office where documents executed by, or in favour of, Government, or a local body (including a cantonment committee), on printed or lithographed forms, are presented for registration. The copy of each such document and endorsements required for entry in the register shall be made by filling in the blanks in a spare copy of the printed or lithographed form and by copying the endorsements written on the original on the reverse of the last page of the copy of the form thus prepared, or on a separate sheet of paper. Each sheet of the copy thus made shall then be pasted on a separate numbered butt in the additional volume of register book 1, and the registering officer shall write his signature and the date, and shall affix the seal of the office, so that both signature and seal may be partly on each butt so used and partly on the sheet pasted thereon. All documents entered in the additional volume of register book 1 shall be numbered in the same series as documents copied in the ordinary volume. Whenever any such document is transferred to the said additional volume, a brief note, showing that document bearing numbers so and so has been pasted into the additional volume at page so and so, shall be inserted in the ordinary volume of register book 1 at the place where the document in question would have been copied but for the opening of this additional volume. The form of the printed butts shall contain the following particulars:—

I. Value of stamp. Note.—This column should also be used for notes of the kind written in the remarks column of ordinary book 1.
II. Serial number of entry. Nature and value of transaction and amount of registration and other fees and fines levied.

Maps or plans annexed to the printed or lithographed documents should also be pasted in this book not in supplementary book 1.

Registration of a number of instruments in the same form.

19. Any person or firm having occasion to procure the registration of any considerable number of instruments in the same form affecting immovable property shall be allowed to deposit in any registration office any number, not less than 50, of printed or lithographed copies of such form. The copies must be printed or lithographed lengthways on machine-made paper of medium size and be provided with blank spaces in the body and at the foot of the instrument to fill in names, amount of money, areas, boundaries and any other available particulars. A blank margin of one inch must be left on either side of the printed or lithographed matter, that on the right hand side for entry of the notes required by rules 15, 17, etc., and that on the left hand side for binding, and the reverse of the last sheet of each form must be left blank for entry of the copy of the endorsements.

Binding of forms aforesaid.

20. Forms deposited under rule 19 shall be bound into volumes before use and paged in the registration office, and a certificate, showing the number of pages contained in the volume, shall be written on the fly leaf. The depositor shall be required to pay the cost of binding. One volume shall be kept for each depositor, and his name shall be noted on the outside cover. Such volumes shall be known as additional volumes of book 1, and the documents registered in them shall be numbered in the same series as documents registered in the ordinary volumes of these books.

Filling in of forms on registration.

21. On the presentation for registration of a document, which is an exact duplicate of any form deposited under rule 19 and which has been executed by, or in favour of, any one of the depositors, the blank spaces in one of the forms in the volume bearing the name of the depositor shall be filled up so as to make it an exact copy of the deed presented, and the endorsements on the original shall be copied on the blank page at the end of the form.

Priority to be given to documents so presented.

22. Priority should be given to the registration of documents presented under rules 19 to 21, and endeavour should be made to return the original document to the presenter before he leaves the office.

Book 2.

23. Book 2 is the record of reasons for refusal to register. It is also open to public inspection, and copies of entries in it shall be given to all persons applying for them; in the event of the applicants being persons executing or claiming under the document, registration of which has been refused, or their representatives or agents, the copies shall be given free of charge for copying, though the copy must be stamped. This book shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Serial number.
(2) Date of order of refusal.
(3) Name of person presenting document.
(4) Nature and value of transaction.
(5) Reasons for refusal.
(6) Remarks.

A brief description of the rejected document is sufficient, and there is no need to copy it into the book in extenso.

The reasons for refusal should be sufficiently full to enable an appellate or inspecting officer to judge of their sufficiency, but they need not contain a summary of any evidence which the registering officer may have taken; such evidence should be recorded on separate sheets of paper and filed in the office. When a document, the registration of which was originally refused, is subsequently registered by order of a Registrar under section 72 or 75, or of a civil court under section 77, a note of such order shall be made in column (6) of this register opposite the original record of refusal.

In his copy of this book the Registrar as required by section 76 must record his reasons, not only for refusing to register a document, but also for rejecting an appeal from the order of a Sub-Registrar subordinate to him.

Book 3.

24. Book 3 is the register in which wills and authorities to adopt are to be copied after they have been accepted for registration under section 41; also such wills as have been opened by the Registrar under sections 45 and 46. This book is not open to public inspection, nor are its indexes; but copies of entries in it or them shall, on payment of the prescribed fees, be given to the persons executing the documents to which such entries relate, or to their agents, and after the death of the executants (but not before) to any persons applying for such copies. The necessary search shall be made by the registering officer in person. When a will entered in this book affects immovable property situate in districts or sub-districts other than that where the entry has been made, no copy or memorandum of such will need be sent to the registering officers of those districts or sub-districts. This register shall contain the same headings as book 1.

Book 4.

25. Book 4 is the miscellaneous register, in which are to be copied all documents registered under clause (d) and (f) of section 18, which do not relate to immovable property. It is not open to public inspection, nor are its indexes; and copies of entries in it or them shall be given, on payment of the prescribed fees, only to the parties executing or claiming under the documents to which such entries relate, or to the agents or representatives of such persons. The necessary search shall be made by the registering officer in person. This register shall contain the same headings as book 1.

Additional volume of book 4.

26. A special volume of registration book 4, to be called "additional volume," in the same form as prescribed in rule 18 may be opened in any office where decuments executed by, or in favour of Government or a local body (including a cantonment committee) on printed or lithographed forms are presented for registration. The documents fit to be pasted into this book would be such as the security bonds executed by bullock and horse contractors, medical students, treasurers, bailiffs, court and assistant court inspectors of police, etc. As to the mode of using this book, the instructions given in rule 18 would equally apply.

Registration of instruments in additional book 4.

27. Any person or firm having occasion to procure the registration of any considerable number of printed or lithographed instruments in the same form which do not relate to immovable property and are fit to be registered in book 4, shall be allowed the same concession as regards depositing of a number of printed or lithographed forms to be used in the same manner as described in rule 19. All other instructions contained in rules 19 to 22 shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to this kind of additional book 4.

Book 5.

28. Book 5 is the register of deposit of wills, and is to be kept only in the offices of Registrars, who alone can receive wills in sealed covers for deposit. It shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Serial number
(2) Superscription on the sealed cover.
(3) Inscription on the seal of cover.
(4) Time of presentation and receipt of the sealed cover:—
Year, month, day, hour.
(5) Name of depositor.
(6) Names of persons testifying to the identity of the depositor.
(7) Time of delivery of the sealed cover to the applicant for withdrawal:—
Year, month, day, hour.
(8) Names of persons testifying to the identity of the applicant at the time of delivery.
(9) Time of opening the sealed cover:—
Year, month, day, hour.

Columns (1) to (6) shall be filled in when a will is first deposited under section 43; columns (7) and (8) shall be filled up in the event of the will being subsequently withdrawn; and column 9 shall be filled up when a will is opened, after the death of testator, under section 45 or 46. All these several entries must be verified by the signature of the Registrar for the time being. When a will has been removed by order of court under section 46, the fact shall be noted in red ink across the entry, and the note shall be authenticated by the signature of the Registrar.

Book 6.

29. In addition to the above books, there shall be kept in every registry office a memorandum book to be called "book 6" for the purpose of recording brief abstracts of powers of attorney authenticated under section 33, clause 1. It shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Serial number.

(2) Date (year, month, day).

(3) Name and addition of principal executing the power.

(4) Name and addition of attorney.

(5) Names of persons identifying the principal.

(6) Value of stamp, amount of fees levied, and brief abstract of contents of power.

In the last of these columns it shall be noted, amongst other things, whether the instrument gives express or implied authority to the attorney to present a document for registration; whether the power is a special or a general one; and if special, in what registration office it is intended to be used. It is not necessary to copy out the document in extenso.

Indexes.

Indexes to be prepared on printed forms.

30. The current indexes, required by sections 54 and 55 to be kept up in every registration office, shall be prepared on printed forms to be supplied from the office of the Inspector-General, and shall contain the particulars hereinafter set forth. The forms shall ordinarily be in the vernacular, but in special cases English forms may be supplied.

Index No. I.

31. Index No. I is that in which section 55 requires that the names and additions of all persons executing and of all persons claiming under every document entered, or memorandum filed in book 1, shall be entered. It shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of person.

(2) Father's name.

(3) Residence.

(4) Profession, trade, caste.

(5) Interest in the transaction (e.g., purchaser, mortgagee, etc.).

(6) Number of volumes in which document is registered.

(7) Page of ditto.

(8) Reference (i.e., to initial letters of other index entries relating to the same transaction).

This index shall contain the names and additions not only of the parties concerned in the documents copied into book 1, but also of those concerned in the copies or memoranda of documents received from other registration offices and filed under sections 64, 65, 66 and 67, as well as those concerned in the copies of orders by revenue officers granting loans under the Land Improvement or Agriculturists' Loans Acts and of certificates of sale granted by civil courts under the Code of Civil Procedure or by revenue officers in regard to immovable property sold by public auction, which are filed under section 89 of the Registration Act. In the case of such sale certificates the only names of persons that need be indexed are those of the judgment debtor as vendor and the auction purchaser as vendee.

Index No. II.

32. Index No. II is that in which, by section 55, the particulars mentioned in section 21, relating to every document entered or memorandum filed in book 1, are to be entered. It shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of city, town or village.

(2) Name of tahsil or pargana.

(3) Name of district.
(4) Nature of transaction (e.g., sale of land, lease of house, mortgage of land or house, etc.)
(5) Number of volume in which document is registered.
(6) Page of ditto.

A Sub-Registrar, on registering a document of the nature mentioned in section 64 or 65, shall enter in this index only that portion of the property which is situate in his own sub-district. A Registrar, on receiving a copy of a document under sections 65, 66 or 67, shall enter only the property situate in his own district. A Sub-Registrar, on receiving a memorandum of a document under sections 64, 65, 66 or 67, or a copy of an order or certificate under section 89, shall enter the particulars of the property concerned in this index.

Index No III.

33. Index No. III is that in which section 55 requires the names and additions of all persons executing every will and authority to adopt copied into book 3, and of the executors and persons respectively appointed thereunder, and after the death of the testator or donor (but not before) the names and additions of all persons claiming under the same shall be entered. It shall contain the same headings as index No. I.

Index No. IV.

34. Index No. IV is that in which section 55 requires the names and additions of all persons executing, and of all persons claiming under every document copied into book 4, to be entered. It shall contain the headings prescribed for index No. I.

Indexes how to be prepared.

35. Index entries shall be made on the same day as the document to which they relate is copied or filed in its proper register and shall on no account be allowed to fall into arrears. They shall be made alphabetically, in Urdu, in the first instance on loose forms, a separate form being used for each letter of the alphabet. On the expiration of the calendar year copies of the index entries for the year in each Sub-Registrar's office shall be made and forwarded to the Registrar: Provided that nothing in this rule shall require a Sub-Registrar to furnish the Registrar of his district with copies of entries in his index No. IV.

Indexes in offices of Registrars.

36. Registrars, on receiving index sheets from their Sub-Registrars, shall file them with their own index sheets, each under its own appropriate letter.

Index sheets to be bound up annually.

37. At the close of each calendar year the loose index sheets in every office shall be bound into volumes of convenient size, care being taken that they are arranged in correct alphabetical order, and that the entries which, under section 57, are open to public inspection (indexes Nos. I and II) are bound separately from those which are not (indexes Nos. III and IV).

Initial letters.

38. In the case of Indians the first letter of the person's name shall be guide to the letter under which the index entry is to be made and not of his title or caste. In the case of Europeans, the initial letter of the surname shall be the guide. In the case of documents in which the Government is concerned an index entry shall be made (amongst others) under the letter س (sín) as the initial letter of Sarkar.

Cancellation and recopying of registered documents.

Cancellation of registered document by order of court.

39. When under the provisions of section 39 of Act I of 1877 (The Specific Relief Act) any registered document is cancelled by order of court, and a copy of the decree is sent to the office in which it was registered, a note of the cancellation signed by the registering officer of the day, shall be made in red ink in the column for remarks of the proper register book, opposite the copy of the document cancelled, specifying the court ordering cancellation and the No. and date of its decree. All copies of decrees received under this rule shall be filed in annual bundles.

Cancellation of mortgaged deeds under Land Alienation Act.

40. When a mortgaged deed is cancelled by the Deputy Commissioner under section 9 (2) of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act (XIII of 1900), and a new deed is drawn up in lieu thereof, the Deputy Commissioner shall send to the office, in which the cancelled deed was registered, a copy of his order of cancellation, and the registering officer shall make a note of the cancellation in red ink in the column of remarks opposite the copy of the document cancelled.

41. In cases in which a registered mortgaged deed is revised or altered by the Deputy Commissioner under section 9 (1) or where under section 9 (2) of the Punjab Alienation of Land Act (XIII of 1900) a condition intended to operate by way of conditional sale is struck out, the Deputy Commissioner shall, when returning the document to the parties after revision, alteration or striking out, send a copy of his orders to the office where the document was originally registered, and the registering officer concerned shall make a note of the correction, revision or striking out together with a reference to the Deputy Commissioner's order in the column of remarks against the copy of the document concerned.

Revision of mortgaged deeds under Land Alienation Act.

42. When a deed has been copied into the wrong book it should be recopied into the proper register and a note of the transfer made against the original entry. Care should also be taken to correct the entries in the indexes. A mistake of this kind does not invalidate registration (section 87 of the Act), and fresh fees should not of course be levied for the recopying.

Recopying of deeds entered in the wrong book.

Authentication of register books.

43. Every entry made in register books 1, 3 and 4 shall be an exact counterpart of the original, and shall be carefully compared with it : all interlineations, blanks, erasures or alterations which appear in the original shall be shown in the copy entered in the register. The registering officer shall satisfy himself that this has been done, verifying by his signature or initials any corrections rendered necessary by mere errors of transcription. Such corrections should in all cases be made in red ink and never by erasure with a knife. The registering officer shall also see that the entry has been made in the book to which it properly belongs, that the number affixed to it is that which it ought to bear in order to maintain the consecutive series required by section 53, and that the book, the volume, and the page entered in the certificate of registration are correctly stated ; after which he shall authenticate the entry by legibly affixing his signature in full, together with his official designation, at the end of the copy of the document registered. Copies of endorsements shall also be initialled or signed by the registering officer. All signatures must be copied into the register books in their proper places, whether such signatures occur in the original documents or in the endorsements made in the registry office. The entries in all the books prescribed by these rules shall be authenticated daily.

Authentication of entries in register books.

44. When, by any chance, an error has been made in the consecutive numbering of documents registered as prescribed in section 53, and the error is not discovered in time to admit of its correction before the document is given back to the presenter or the party authorised by him to receive it, the erroneous number must be allowed to stand, and no subsequent alteration is permitted ; but a note of the error shall be made in proper column of the register and signed by the registering officer.

Errors on consecutive numbering.

Procedure prior to acceptance.

45. Where registering officers have other duties to perform, a certain portion of each day shall be allotted exclusively to registration work. The time so set apart shall be made generally known, and a written notice of it shall be exhibited in a conspicuous and accessible part of the building in which the registry office is located. The notice shall state the hours at which documents will be received and returned daily. Similar notices shall be posted outside the offices of whole-time registering officers. The latter should usually attend at their offices during the ordinary hours of business (10 or 11 A.M. to 4 or 5 P.M).

Hours allotted to registration work to be notified.

46. At the hours appointed in the notice, the registering officer shall personally receive all documents for which registration is sought and have them examined in his own presence.

Reception of documents for registration.

47. When a document is accepted for registration each party shall be informed of the amount of fees he has to pay, and as soon as such fees are paid, the receipt prescribed in section 52 shall be given to him. At the same time he shall be informed at about what hour the document will be returned to him, if it can be returned the same day, and the hour in question shall be written on the receipt. If the document cannot be returned the same day, he shall be told on what date and at what time he should appear to claim it and the date and time aforesaid shall be endorsed on the receipt. But in offices where the system of return of documents by post is in force he shall be given the option of receiving back the document in that manner, the procedure necessary being clearly explained to him. If in payment of the fees any party pay more than the exact amount due, the excess shall be returned to him at once. The endorsement required by section 52 of the Act shall then be recorded and shall be signed by the registering officer and the presenters.

Enquiry as to execution, identity, etc.

48. The registering officer shall then, with as little delay as may be, enquire whether the document was executed by the alleged executant, and satisfy himself as to the identity of the person appearing before him to admit execution. In cases of alienation he shall satisfy himself of the identity, not only of the alienor, but also of the alienee, if the latter is present. If the presenter be the executant, or his representative, assign or agent, or if such executant, representative, assign or agent be present, the registering officer shall make the necessary enquiry at once. He should also require the presenter, if an agent, to produce a power-of-attorney authenticated in the manner prescribed in section 33 of the Act, and, if a representative or assign, to produce evidence of his status.

Documents to be scrutinized and explained to executants.

49. Every deed shall be subjected to a thorough scrutiny with a view to ascertaining whether it correctly represents the intentions of the parties, and the registering officer shall make sure that the person incurring liability knows the extent to which his rights are effected, as for instance, in regard to his share in the shamilat or to the question of cultivating possession. Documents executed by persons who are unable to read shall be read out and if necessary, explained to them, and the registering officer shall ascertain that they clearly understand their purport. Documents written in a language which the executants do not understand shall in like manner be interpreted and explained.

Recording of endorsements under section 58.

50. If execution by the alleged executant is admitted and the registering officer is satisfied on the point of identity, he shall record on the instrument the endorsement required by section 58, and such endorsement shall be signed by the registering officer, the executant and all the witnesses examined; but no such endorsement is necessary on a copy of a decree or order, or of a certificate sent under section 89.

Refusals to register to be made with caution.

51. Orders refusing to register should be made only after due care and consideration, and if the impediment to registration be a mere informality or defect capable of remedy, opportunity should always be given to the parties to correct the flaw. In such cases registration shall be deferred and no final order of refusal shall be made until the document concerned becomes time-barred.

Denial of receipt of consideration.

52. If any person admit the execution of a document presented for registration, but deny the receipt in whole or part of the consideration recited therein, registration shall not be refused because of such denial, but a note of the denial shall be made in the endorsement required by section 58.

Where registration is admitted quâ some, but refused quâ other, parties.

53. When under section 35 of the Act registration is admitted as to some of the parties to a document, but is refused as to the rest, the registering officer shall endorse thereon an order in this form :—Registration refused as to A B and C D, and shall record the reasons for this partial refusal in this book 2; but in all other respects he shall proceed with the registration of the document in the ordinary manner.

Procedure on admission to registration.

Copying of document into register.

54. When a document has been admitted to registration and the necessary endorsements have been recorded, it should be made over to the registration muharrir to be copied into its appropriate book and the registering officer should see that no unnecessary delay occurs, and that documents are always entered in the books in the order of their admission. In the first column of the register should be entered the value of the stamp (if any) and the number of stamps used; and if they be court fees stamps, this should be noted. Thereafter will be copied the several endorsements made in the office (including the certificate of registration prescribed by section 60), the several signatures of the registering officer, presenter, executant and witnesses examined being all copied in their proper places. In the second column will be noted the serial number of the entry, a brief abstract of the contents of the document (e.g., " mortgage of agricultural land for Rs. 500, with possession "), and the amount of fees and fines levied. The third column will contain an exact copy of the document registered, and should show all interlineations, blanks, erasures and alterations which appear in the original. All such entries must be authenticated by the registering officer daily in the manner prescribed in rule 43.

Certificate of registration.

55. After the document has been copied the certificate required by section 60 shall be endorsed on it. It shall be signed by the registering officer and sealed with the seal of his office. This certificate shall contain the serial number of the entry, and the book, volume and page, where in the document has been registered, as well as the date of registration, which it may be noted, is the date on which the instrument is copied into the register, and not the date on which it was presented for registration. The endorsement shall then be copied into the register as required by section 61.

Return of registered documents by hand.

56. The registering officer shall retain the registered documents in his possession until the time appointed for returning them comes round, and shall then cause each to be delivered in his own presence to the proper party, the receipt given for it being at the same time taken back. If the party to whom the receipt was granted represent that he has lost or mislaid it, the document may be returned to him on his written acknowledgment of its return. The document shall in no case, except as provided in the instructions regarding the return of documents by posts, be returned to any one but the person who presented it for registration, or to his representative or agent, unless the person claiming to receive it produce the original receipt with a nomination in writing thereon as contemplated in section 61.

Appeals to the Registrar.

Procedure on appeal.

57. When application is made to a Registrar to reverse the order of a Sub-Registrar refusing to admit a document to registration, the Registrar should examine it to see, first, whether it was made within time (i.e., 30 days after the date of the order), and, secondly, whether it was of the nature of an appeal under section 72, or of an application under section 73.

If the application be brought within time, and be of the nature of an appeal under section 72, the Registrar shall pass such order thereon as seem to him proper under the circumstances. If it be made within time, and be of the nature of an application under section 73 (i.e., an application to establish a right to have a document registered which the Sub-Registrar has refused to register on account of denial of execution), the Registrar must make the enquiries prescribed in section 74 and pass an order accordingly. This is an obligation imposed upon him by law, which he is not at liberty to evade by referring the applicant to a civil court.

When the Registrar after enquiry directs registration of the document, he should inform the Sub-Registrar concerned thereof. The order directing registration should be endorsed on the document, thus—"Registration ordered," and the document should then be handed back to the applicant in view to his presenting it for registration, at the proper office within the time allowed by law.

Territorial divisions.

Territorial divisions.

58. The territorial divisions to be recognised under section 21 are usually the "district" and the "tahsil" as existing for revenue purposes. But in some cases a cantonment or a portion of a tahsil may constitute a division. The name of the division shall be entered in all documents relating to houses (other than those situate in towns) and lands, in addition to the name of the village and the boundaries of the property.

Fines.

Fines for delay in presenting or in appearance.

59. Fines for delay in presenting documents for registration shall be levied under section 25 according to the following scale. No registration fees shall be levied in addition to these fines:—

Where the delay has not been more than one month.	An amount equal to twice the proper registration fees.
Where the delay has been more than one month, but not more than two.	An amount equal to three times the proper registration fees.

Where the delay has been more than two months, but not more than three.	An amount equal to six times the proper registration fees.
Where the delay has been more than three months.	An account equal to ten times the proper registration fee.

Additional fines for delay in appearance shall be levied, under the proviso in section 34, according to the same scale:

Provided that when the delay in presentation, or when the delay in appearance, has been occasioned by the necessity of obtaining any order of a Deputy Commissioner under sections 3, 9 or 15 of Act XIII of 1900 (the Punjab Alienation of Land Act) and has not been due to any default on the part of persons desiring registration, the fine levied under section 25 or the additional fine levied under section 34 shall be an amount only nominally in excess of the proper registration fee.

Remission of fines.

60. Applications to the Inspector-General for remission in whole or in part, under section 70, of any fine levied in accordance with the foregoing rules shall be in writing, and shall be forwarded by the Registrar of the district, who shall record his opinion thereon. No such application shall be received or forwarded unless the document has been registered, and the fine or fines paid.

Oaths.

Oaths to be administered cautiously.

61. The discretion vested in registering officers by section 63 should be used with reserve, and oaths administered only in exceptional cases. For the purpose of this section an oath includes an affirmation under section 6 of Act X of 1873.

Statements on oath how to be recorded.

62. Statements made on oath under section 63 shall not be recorded on the document to which they relate, but on separate sheets of paper, which shall be filed in the office. A note, however, to the effect that recorded evidence has been taken, shall in such case be endorsed on the document, and entered in the book in which it is registered, in the column provided for copies of endorsements.

Seals.

Use of seals.

63. Every Registrar and Sub-Registrar is provided with a seal, as required by section 15, bearing an inscription in English and Urdu of the authorised designation of his office. This seal shall always remain in the personal custody of the registering officer, and shall be used for the authentication of the following:—

(1) All powers-of-attorney attested under section 33, clause (1).

(2) All commissions issued under sections 33 and 38.

(3) All applications for the issue of summons to witnesses under section 36.

(4) All copies of entries in register books and indexes granted under section 57.

(5) All certificates of registration made under section 60.

(6) All copies of reasons for refusal to register granted under sections 71 or 76.

(7) All orders issued by Registrars under sections 72 or 75, directing documents to be registered.

(8) All summonses issued by Registrars under section 75.

No. 1692.
Simla, the 24th May, 1910.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA has been pleased to send the following letter to the Princes and peoples of India :—

" TO THE PRINCES AND PEOPLES OF INDIA,—The lamented and unlooked for death of my dearly loved father calls me to ascend the Throne that comes to me as the heir of a great and ancient line. As King and Emperor I greet the Princes, the Ruling Chiefs and all the other dwellers in my Indian dominions. I offer you my heartfelt thanks for the touching and abundant manifestation that this event has called forth from all the diverse races, classes and faiths in India, of loyalty to the Sovereign Crown and personal attachment to its wearers. Queen Victoria of revered memory addressed her Indian subjects and the heads of Feudatory States when she assumed the direct Government in 1858 and her august son, my father, of honoured and beloved name, commemorated the same most notable event in his address to you fifty years later. These are the Charters of the noble and benignant spirit of Imperial rule, and by that spirit in all my time to come I will faithfully abide. By the wish of His Late Majesty and following his own example I visited India five years ago accompanied by my Royal Consort. We became personally acquainted with great Kingdoms known to history, with monuments of a civilisation older than our own, with ancient customs and ways of life, with Native Rulers, with the peoples, the cities, towns, villages throughout these vast territories. Never can either the vivid impressions or the affectionate associations of that wonderful journey vanish or grow dim. Firmly I confide in your dutiful and active co-operation in the high and arduous tasks that lie before me and I count upon your ready response to the earnest sympathy with the well-being of India that must ever be the inspiration of my rule."

By order of the Governor-General in Council,

A. EARLE,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

MEDICAL AND SANITARY.

The 6th June 1910.

No. 443.—Notification.—The following correspondence received from the Government of India, Home Department, is re-published for general information :—

No. 929, dated Simla, the 17th May 1910.

From—P. W. MONIE, Esquire, Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

I AM directed to forward, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 1700, dated the 9th April 1910, requesting that the other local Governments and Administrations may be asked to issue notifications (i) urging residents to give no credence to information circulated by irresponsible persons from the Hedjaz and advising them to apply direct to the Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay, for any information which they may require; and (ii) impressing upon Muhammadans who intend to perform the Haj the great desirability of being vaccinated or re-vaccinated before leaving their homes for Bombay. The Government of Bombay also suggest that heads of districts and other local officials should be asked to endeavour to popularize vaccination among intending pilgrims and to arrange for the grant of certificates to those who are vaccinated or re-vaccinated before their departure for Bombay.

2. I am to request that, with the permission of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor orders may be issued to give effect to the suggestions made by the Government of Bombay.

No. 1700, dated Bombay Castle, 9th April 1910.

From—L. ROBERTSON, Esquire, I.C.S., Secretary to Government, General Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Sanitary).

I AM directed to state that during the outgoing pilgrim season of 1909 about 13,000 pilgrims arrived in Bombay between the 20th October and 15th November 1909 and there were at one time in the City over 9,000 pilgrims. This sudden and heavy influx imposed a severe strain on the Pilgrim Department, Bombay, and caused a rise in the rates of passages to Jeddah which by the end of November reached the abnormally high figure of Rs. 70 and Rs. 75 for a single passage. I am to enclose copies of the communications noted in the margin from the Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay, from which it will be seen that the rush of pilgrims from other provinces into Bombay was due in a great measure to the action of Mutawifs (Bengal Muhammadans) from Arabia who, by spreading reports of cheap passages and by various other methods, succeeded in persuading their co-religionists to perform the Haj. It is desirable that a warning should be issued to intending pilgrims to prevent a recurrence of the inconveniences and loss suffered by them. I am to request therefore that Local Governments and Administrations may be moved to publish notifications broadcast in their territories urging residents to give no credence to information circulated by irresponsible persons from the Hedjaz and advising them to apply direct for information to the Protector of Pilgrims in Bombay.

Letter No. 215-P.—9, dated 4th March 1910 (paragraph 6).
Report No. 427-P.—1, dated 8th July 1909.

2. I am also to refer to another matter which affects closely the interests of pilgrims. Small-pox frequently prevails as a virulent epidemic in the holy cities and other places in Arabia and a year seldom passes without the disease being brought to India by pilgrims returning from the Haj. There can be no doubt that if Indian pilgrims were vaccinated or re vaccinated, as the case may be, immediately before leaving India for Mecca, it would result in incalculable benefit to the pilgrims and the danger of small-pox being annually imported into India would be lessened. This Government are endeavouring, with the help of the Haj Committee, Bombay, to carry out the vaccination of all outgoing pilgrims who can be prevailed upon to submit to the operation. The Governor in Council is of opinion that these efforts would be furthered to a great extent if other Local Governments and Administrations were to co-operate with this Government in the matter. I am accordingly to request that these Governments may be addressed on the subject and requested to issue notifications impressing upon Muhammadan residents within their jurisdiction, who intend to perform the Haj, the great desirability of getting themselves vaccinated or re-vaccinated before leaving their homes for Bombay. The local authorities concerned and the heads of districts, etc., might also be asked to endeavour to popularize vaccination of intending pilgrims in the villages and towns and to grant vaccination certificates to those who submit to it before departure for Bombay.

Accompaniments to the letter to the Government of India, Home Department, No 1700, dated 9th April 1910.

No. 245-P.—9, dated 4th March 1910.

From—The Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay,

To—The Commissioner of Police, Bombay.

I HAVE the honour to submit my report for the outgoing pilgrim season, 1909.

1. The season of 1909.—The season of 1909 commenced on the 18th day of August and terminated on the 30th day of November last.

2. Number of pilgrims and steamers.—During this period 21,954 pilgrims left Bombay for Jeddah in 25 steamers as against 16,111 who left in 20 steamers during the previous season. Statement showing the names of steamers and their owners, the latest date of sailing supplied to me under section 11 of Bombay Act, II of 1887, the actual date of sailing, the number of pilgrims per each steamer, etc., is hereto annexed and marked "A."

The bulk of the pilgrims appear to have been favourably impressed with the treatment which they received in the British territories and many expressed themselves as thoroughly contented with the arrangements made for their comforts by the Bombay Government.

3. Arrangements.—The arrangements for the temporary accommodation and despatch of pilgrims were characterized by certain changes described below.

4. Musaferkhanas, camp and other places for putting up pilgrims.—The two Musaferkhanas at Frere Road and Packmodia Street were full of pilgrims throughout the season. Both the musafirkhanas together are capable of accommodating about 1,100 pilgrims; but the one in the Packmodia Street is not meant for pilgrims only but for any Muhammadan from outside the city who is entitled to lodge in it free for 15 days. There being very few Bohri pilgrims, the Sir Adamji Peerbhoy Musaferkhana, intended for Bohris only, was not utilized.

Under Government Resolution, General Department, No. 6766, dated Bombay, 13th November 1908, Government kindly sanctioned a semi-temporary camp to accommodate 2,000 pilgrims at a cost of Rs. 24,000 and plans for the same were prepared. But this structure was not ready in time, and therefore at your suggestion Rs. 10,000 were placed at your disposal for the purpose of renting houses for the accommodation of pilgrims. A heavy influx of pilgrims was expected and the first aim of this Department was to find quarters fulfilling all sanitary requirements. Certain buildings at Foras Road belonging to the estate of the late Mahomed Saboo Siddik, which were capable of accommodating 1,000 pilgrims at a time, were approved of. An offer had been made to the Trustees by some party to lease these at the monthly rental of Rs. 700, but upon representation the Trustees generously offered these quarters to the Commissioner of Police free of any rent. Under Resolution, General Department, No. 5068, dated 20th September 1909, Government placed the sum of Rs. 3,000 out of the said sum of Rs. 10,000 at your disposal for the staff, maintenance, petty supplies, sanitary supplies, etc., required for these quarters. During this season 1,902 pilgrims had taken advantage of these quarters, the largest number occupying these quarters, at a time, being 1,300.

In the month of November last both the musaferkhanas and the camp being absolutely full, the use gratis of the back portion of the Muzafferabad Hall near the Grant Road Bridge was obtained for a fortnight from Mr. Haji Kassam Joosab and about 1,100 pilgrims were put up there. The heavy influx continuing the free use of Imambada at Jail Road was obtained from Mirza Mahomed Shirazi. In the meantime well-to-do pilgrims rented several houses in different parts of the city and the arrangements were also made to accommodate about 500 pilgrims in the Namazi's Imambada at Packmodia Street. The Trustees of this Imambada charged annas 8 per head which rent was paid by the pilgrims themselves.

Notwithstanding these arrangements the need for further accommodation was pressing and a three-storied house at the junction of Parel Road (Bhendi Bazar) and Old Nagpada Lane was leased for a month for Rs. 300, which sum was paid out of the sum at your disposal for renting houses for this purpose. In this house 450 pilgrims were accommodated. Special care was taken not to allow any pilgrim to put up or lodge on the public street. Only in one case did some Pathans decline to live under any roof and, notwithstanding pursuasion, they preferred to squat on the Improvement Trust vacant ground near the Erskine Road.

Musaferkhanas, camp, Imambadas and all other places where pilgrims were put up were regularly visited by me and the staff of this Department and special care was taken to thoroughly disinfect these places from time to time and to remove refuse, etc.

The rents of the houses privately leased by the pilgrims were checked and were not found exhorbitant.

5. The new musaferkhana.—The foundation stone of the new musaferkhana, built from the charity of Mahomed Saboo Siddik, was laid by His Excellency the Governor on the 11th November last. Mr. Hormasji N. Vakil, the co-Trustee of the estate of the said Mr. Mahomed Saboo Siddik, hopes to get the structure completed in the month of November next. It will thus not be of use in the ensuing outgoing season, but it is stated that the use of the quarters at Foras Road will be allowed until this musaferkhana is ready. The Trustees have been asked to give formal sanction to the use of these quarters for the ensuing outgoing season.

6. Sudden heavy influx of pilgrims.—The extraordinary event of the season was the heavy influx of the pilgrims within a short time. Between 28th October and 13th November last about 13,000 pilgrims arrived here and there were at a time staying in this city about 9,500 pilgrims, this being the record number of the pilgrims put up in this city at a time. The news of the Administration in the Hedjaz and the rumour about the low rate of passage to a certain extent accounted for this; but the abolishing of the monopoly of the "Mutawifs" or "Mo'allims" at Mecca encouraged the Mutawifs, generally domiciled Bengal Muhammadans, to come here from Arabia, and induce the faithful to leave their homes for the Hedjaz in large numbers. Copy of a report No. 427-P.—1, dated 8th July 1909, made by me in connection with these Mutawifs, is hereto annexed and marked with the letter "B."

Fortunately since the commencement of the season intimation about the highest rates supplied to me under section 11 of Act II of 1887 were published, from time to time, by me in mofussil, in Hindustani, and local papers which made the educated people thoroughly acquainted with the exact situation. The despatch by you of the warning telegrams to the Inspector General of Police, Bengal and Assam, regarding the high rate for communication to the intending pilgrims soon after the commencement of the heavy influx, checked it to a great extent.

7. Passage rates.—Owing to the existing competition in the commencement of the season between the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and the German East Africa Line, the lowest rate for deck tickets per head, including quarantine dues, was Rs. 20. The German East Africa Line had only one steamer for pilgrim traffic and after her departure Mr. Gulam Ali Jeewaji, the owner of the s. s. Budri, kept up the competition so much that he reduced his rates to Rs. 15 per head, including quarantine dues. This competition was continued for some time; but ultimately owing to the heavy influx of pilgrims, within a short time, the rates went up. Again attempts were made to get a shipping company's corner, but under your guidance this Department succeeded in preventing this. Rates charged for each of the steamers are shown in column No. 8 of the statement hereto annexed and marked with the letter "A."

8. New steamers.—During this season the following steamers have been offered, for the first time, for conveying pilgrims and the arrangements as to their accommodation, cleanliness and other comforts have been found very satisfactory:—

1. The s. s. Markgraf, belonging to the German East Africa Line.
2. The s. s. Siberian, belonging to the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited.
3. The s. s. City of Vienna, chartered by the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited.

9. Passports and informal passes.—The number of the passports and informal passes are respectively marked against the name of each steamer in column No. 7 of the said statement "A," hereto annexed to this report, from which it will appear that 19,748 passports and passes were issued during the season amongst 21,054 pilgrims as against 15,272 during the last year for 16,111 pilgrims. The deficiency between the number of pilgrims actually embarking on some of the last steamers and the pilgrims to whom the passports and passes had not been issued is due to the pilgrims by these streamers having purchased their tickets at the disinfection shed while they were awaiting disinfection. Due arrangements were made for issuing passports and passes at the waiting room opposite the disinfecting shed, but some of them who had purchased tickets near disinfection shed at the last moment were too late to apply for them.

To allow as much ease as possible the passports and passes for the pilgrims staying at the camp at Foras Road were prepared at that place, also the passports for the pilgrims from His Highness the Nizam's Dominions were issued to them at the places where they were staying.

From the passports issued during the previous years it was found that the column provided for the indentification marks, even in the case of male pilgrims, was never filled in. During this season special care was taken to fill in this column for male pilgrims, and, of course, this procedure doubled the clerical work. With the object of ensuring correct information, the clerks preparing the passports were also required to initial their entries.

As usual, the announcement for the commencement of issuing the passports for a certain steamer was made by the ringing of a bell by the shipping company, which led the pilgrims for that streamer to flock at the head office at once. It was consequently found that the feeble pilgrims who were not able to press in and reach the table of the passport clerks had to wait for days together for their passports, and stayed in the office throughout the whole day.

To prevent this unnecessary loss of time and waiting, serially numbered passport coupons, with the name of each steamer were prepared. Every day at the commencement of the office hours the steamer tickets of the pilgrims were collected individually, and the passport coupons were given in exchange. The number of the steamer ticket was mentioned on the passport coupon and vice versâ, the number of coupon on the ticket. When a sufficient number of tickets were collected, for the first portion of the day, coupons in exchange of these tickets, sufficient for the latter portion of the day's work, were also issued to the remaining pilgrims in attendance, and they were told to come after midday. Coupons were also issued to the remaining pilgrims or new arrivals in the course of the day, but they were requested to attend on the next day. Female pilgrims were always given preference over male pilgrims and for the male ones the order was, "first come, first served." To avoid misuse of the coupons the word "free" and the words "Bil-kul Muft" (absolutely free), having identical meanings in Arabic, Persain and Hindustani, were printed on the coupons. The coupons were of assorted colours ; each colour for the place where the pilgrims were putting up, and as hereinafter mentioned the baggage labels were prepared accordingly.

After the preparation of the passport and passes the coupons were duly cancelled and with the steamer tickets were pinned together to the passports and passes and handed over to the pilgrims.

Further use of the coupons was often made at the entrance of the disinfecting shed where to avoid crush and pressure, of which frequent complaints have been made, pilgrims were called in batches according to the colour of the coupons. The pilgrims who had received coupons of a certain colour, with their baggage having identically coloured labels, were taken in first and no pilgrim having other colours was allowed in. They were followed by other batches in turn according to the colour of their coupons.

From the above it will appear that this introduction of coupons, although increasing the clerical and police work, has saved much trouble and unnecessary loss of time to the pilgrims.

Formerly the passports, to the great discomforts of the clerks, were issued from the ordinary tables, but during the latter portion of this season a raised platform with a suitable counter was constructed. This small piece of furniture facilitated the issuing of the passports to a great extent.

The shaded place in front of this Department for accommodating the pilgrims waiting for their passports is absolutely inadequate and the female pilgrims have no purda place here. Some provision for this purpose specially in the forthcoming season, which will be in the middle of the monsoon, is indispensable. A statement showing the nationality of the pilgrims who were granted passports and passes is hereto annexed and marked with the letter "C."

10. Hand-book.—5,000 copies of "Bab-e-Mecca" (Gateway to Mecca), a hand-book of information for pilgrims to the Hedjaz during their stay in the City of Bombay, compiled by me, were distributed free among the pilgrims. There was a large demand for this book from every part of India. A rough translation of some of the paragraphs relating to the procedure at the disinfection shed, medical inspection, etc., is hereto annexed with a copy of the said book collectively marked with the letter "D." Owing to the publication of this book the usual hand-bills as to the disinfection procedure in the Hindustani language were not printed.

The Hindustani translation of the General Department Resolution No. 1933, dated 16th April last, regarding the memorandum of the charges payable in the Hedjaz, being printed in Arabic character, was not legible to many pilgrims and it was embodied in this book.

11. Notice boards.—With the object of preventing the pilgrims from being misled by misrepresentation made by unauthorized parties, notice boards were, for the first time, put at musaferkhanas, camp and this Department office, where notices to the pilgrims and brokers in Hindustani and Persain regarding the offer of steamers, time for medical inspection, loss of tickets and various other items appertaining to pilgrims were published from time to time.

12. Notices in newspapers.—Several Muhammadan papers undertook to publish information of importance to pilgrims, free of any charge. Notices regarding the offer of any steamers, rates of passages, date of departure, time of medical inspection, loss of steamer tickets and various other matters were therefore published from time to time in the local and mofussil papers and thanks are due to the Press for this valuable assistance.

13. Lady attendants.—For the first time the lady attendants in the Pilgrim Department have been entertained under General Department Resolution No. 4937, dated Bombay, 21st September 1909.

The appointment of one European lady and one native female assistant for the purpose of attending upon the female pilgrims who are not accompanied by male relatives or friends and require advice as to the purchasing of tickets, selecting suitable ships, obtaining passports, procedure in the disinfection shed, selection of the accommodation and finding out of the baggage on board the ships, has been proved indispensable and has greatly added to their comfort. The lady attendant and her assistant also looked after those Musalman ladies who, though accompanied by male relatives and friends, were separated from them at the disinfection shed and assured and directed them while waiting for inspection.

Mrs. A. Currie, the European lady attendant, has proved herself very energetic and her advice and assistance, on account of her knowledge of Hindustani, has been very useful for the purpose for which she has been entertained.

14. Indisposed and deceased pilgrims and their estate—During the season 59 pilgrims including the cholera cases were removed to the hospitals out of whom 30 are reported as dead. As the Senior Medical Officer of the J. J. Hospital declined to receive the effects of the patients, amounting to Rs 1,827-1-7 in value, the latter were temporarily taken charge of by this Department. The effects of the pilgrims dying in the musaferkhanas, camp and other places, amounting to Rs. 3,299-5-0 in value, were taken charge of by the Divisional and this Department Police. All the effects have been received in this Department and forwarded to the Head Office, pending the disposal thereof. A statement showing the number of pilgrims sent to the different hospitals and particulars regarding them, etc., is herewith annexed and marked with the letter E.

15. Medical aid.—Dr. Abdur Razzak Shaikh Imam, J.P., one of the members of the Haj Committee, generously undertook to attend the indisposed pilgrims at the camp at Foras Road, Packmodia Street Musaferkhana and other places where the pilgrims were put up and to provide the necessary medicine and nourishment to them free of any charge. He was assisted by Hakim Mahomed Nasir Khan of Delhi for the purpose of prescribing for the pilgrims who preferred native treatment. The said Hakim also provided free medicine. The assistance rendered by these two gentlemen proved of considerable use to the pilgrims. At the Frere Road Musaferkhana there is a charitable dispensary in charge of a Hospital Assistant and a Hakim and Dr. Abdus Sattar Gaya, L.M. & S., also used to attend and provide medicine free of any charge, which assistance added to the comfort of the pilgrims.

16. Baggage labels.—As repeated complaints regarding the loss of the pilgrims' baggage and provisions on board the steamers had been received, during this season a system of baggage labels, for the first time, had been introduced. Labels of assorted colours were obtained from the shipping companies and issued to the pilgrims while making out their passports and passes. The numbers of the respective tickets were written on the labels and handed over to the pilgrims for sticking them to their baggage. After some experiments different coloured labels were issued to the pilgrims, according to their places of residence, i.e., red ones for those staying at Frere Road Musaferkhana, yellow ones to those staying at the Packmodia Street Musaferkhana, green ones to those staying at the camp and blue ones to those who were putting up in the city outside the musaferkhanas and camp and so on. At the disinfection shed, on the wharf alongside the pilgrim ship and on board the steamer, the baggage according to the respective colours of the labels was arranged and put separately in a line. There being several lots of baggage, the pilgrims were able to find out their property without delay and annoyance.

This new system increased the work of the clerical staff and the temporary police of the Department to a great extent, as the pilgrims had to be instructed in the use of the labels and special care had to be taken in sorting and arranging the baggage by colours.

17. Temporary Police—As provided under Resolution, General Department, No. 3202, dated Bombay, 29th May 1907, 21 policemen as follows were entertained from 21st August to 30th November 1909 :—

1 3rd Class Jamadar,

1 4th Class Havaldar,

1 1st Class Constable,

9 3rd Class Constables, and 9 4th Class Constables.

Total ...21

On account of the heavy influx the full force of 25 policemen, as provided by the Resolution, was absolutely necessary, but to provide for the salary of lady attendants, this number was reduced to 21 as aforesaid. For the first time, during this season, special attention was paid to recruiting men, as far as possible, from different sects of the Muhammadan community.

The duties of these policemen were—

(a) To attend the railway stations and bunders to receive and assist the pilgrims and escort them to the musaferkhanas, camp and other places in the city.

(b) To attend the musaferkhanas and camp and other places where the pilgrims were put up and look after the comforts of the pilgrims.

(c) To mount guard at the doors of the musaferkhanas and other places where the pilgrims were put up and not to allow the suspected persons and unauthorized brokers to mix with the pilgrims.

(d) To remove to the hospitals the indisposed pilgrims.

(e) To take charge temporarily of the property and effects of the pilgrims in moribund condition and the deceased pilgrims who were unaccompanied by their legal heirs.

(f) To make the necessary arrangements for escorting the pilgrims from their various staying places to the disinfection shed.

(g) To manage the crowd of the pilgrims assembled at the entrance of the disinfection shed.

(h) To attend upon the pilgrims in the waiting and disinfection shed and make arrangements about their medical inspection and the removal of their soiled apparel, etc.

(i) To remove the pilgrims found in an unfit condition by the Inspecting Medical Officer to the hospitals.

(j) To watch the removal of the pilgrims' baggage from the disinfection shed to the docks and escort the baggage carts to the docks.

(k) To guard the pilgrims after being inspected and gathered at the waiting shed before their being ordered to go to the docks.

(l) To escort the batches of pilgrims from the waiting shed to the entrance of the enclosure at the wharf alongside the pilgrim steamer.

(m) To manage the crowd at the entrance.

(n) To assist the pilgrims in finding out their baggage on the said wharf and arrange for baggage and suitable accommodation on board the steamer.

(o) Generally to maintain order among the pilgrims during their stay here.

During the influx, the services of four extra policemen were detailed from 23rd September to the 30th November last for mounting guards at the Muzafferabad Hall and Imambadas.

Owing to the strict watch kept at the entrances of the pilgrims' rest houses no cases theft or administration of intoxicating drugs were reported in such places.

I may submit that during such heavy influxes a force of 25 policemen for performing the various duties, as detailed above, satisfactorily is inadequate and some representation to the authorities for a larger force under a European officer is absolutely necessary.

18. Sabil-e-Sharafi—Mrs. Maryumbibi Tungekar, in memory of her late father Nakhuda Haji Sharfudin Ghattay, placed at my disposal the necessary funds for providing drinking water for the pilgrims waiting at this Department and iced water at the disinfection shed. Rupees 105 have been paid to the pilgrim broker, Mr. A. G. Atashkhan, who managed the distribution of the iced water at the said shed.

Prayer mats and other indispensable requisites were also provided by that lady.

Licensed brokers.—Three fresh licenses were issued to pilgrim brokers and fourteen were renewed during this season. Special attention was paid to getting brokers of different birth-places according to the number of pilgrims expected from different parts of India and Asia. A list of brokers showing their names and birth-places is hereto annexed and marked with the letter "F." All the servants of the brokers were personally inspected before the grant of certificates. The attendance of the brokers and their certified servants was marked at the disinfection shed and the docks, which removed the cause of complaint regarding the registration of nominal servants, and prevented their absence at the medical inspection and the docks. To allow the brokers and their servants facilities to attend the disinfection shed, the wharf alongside the pilgrim steamer and on board the steamer for the purpose of rendering assistances without obstuction from the police or other authorities, special badges were attached to their coats.

A Bengali was sentenced to 21 days' rigorous imprisonment and fined Rs. 40 for cheating pilgrims. The fine, Rs. 40, was ordered by the Court to be distributed among the pilgrims thus cheated.

20. Pilgrims not permitted to embark.— Out of the total number of pilgrims who presented themselves for the medical inspection at the disinfection shed, 64 were not permitted to embark under section 32 (2), Act XIV of 1895, as in the opinion of the officers making the inspection they were either suffering from choleraic indisposition or infectious or contagious disease or showed signs or symptoms of the same.

Two pilgrims did not embark after their being medically examined as they were not medically in a fit condition to proceed on their journey. One pilgrim died suddenly on the wharf alongside the s. s. Fakhri. The cause of this death was general debility.

The baggage of the majority of the pilgrims thus detained was found and delivered to their respective owners. In some cases they entrusted their baggage to their friends and relatives on board the ship. The baggage of a few pilgrims, owing to there being no time left for searching for it, was not found, but in the case of pilgrims for the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited, the Agent of the Company offered reasonable compensation to the pilgrims for such loss and they seemed satisfied. In some cases the pilgrims, who were not permitted to emkark at first, embarked after further inspection on the succeeding steamer. In such cases the attention of the medical officer was always drawn to these facts. Some of the relatives of the detained pilgrims wishing to remain with such members of their family, due facility was given to them for finding their baggage and getting the refund of their passage money.

21. Cholera cases.—Owing to the heavy influx about 400 pilgrims, chiefly Bengalis, were located at Shirazi's Imambada at the Jail Road. Proper arrangements had been made for cleaning that place.

On the 12th November last a sick pilgrim was removed to the Sir Jamshejdi Jijibhoy Hospital, said to be suffering from dysentery, who ultimately was sent from there to the Arthur Road Hospital. Upon intimation received steps were taken to remove the pilgrims to other rooms in the same enclosure and not to allow them to mix with the other pilgrims in the city. The place was thoroughly disinfected.

In all 10 cholera cases were removed from Shirazi's Imambada to Arthur Road Hospital, the last one on the 16th idem at 11-30 A. M.

For the safety of other pilgrims in the Hedjaz the pilgrims at this place were requested not to proceed to the Hedjaz, and I am glad to state that without any sort of compulsion many of them preferred to return to their native places. Reports regarding this have been submitted to the Secretary to Government, General Department, under Nos. 1172—21-11 and 1186—21-11, dated 22nd and 24th November last, respectively, and orders thereon have been issued under Nos. 6059 and 6083, General Department, dated 24th and 25th November last, respectively.

The medical inspection and the disinfection of the bedding, soiled linen and other articles from the commencement of this season has been carried out with great care, but since the outbreak of cholera as aforesaid even stricter attention was paid to this by the Health Officer for the Port of Bombay, who used to carry out this work under his own personal observation.

At first this Department had great difficulty in inducing the pilgrims, specially Central Asians and Afghans, to wear clean apparel, but after constant endeavours the difficulty was overcome.

A point worth noticing is that the pilgrims suffering from cholera were those who were staying in a room adjoining a pool of stagnant water in Mirza Ali street. The pilgrims staying in other rooms were free. The pilgrims who were attacked were all over 45 years of age and feeble.

22. Delay in sailing on the advertised dates.—With the object of inducing the pilgrims to purchase their tickets, the Agents of the Bombay and Hedjaz Steam Navigation Company of India, Limited, and Mr. Gulamali Jeevaji, the proprietor of the s. s. Budrie, advertised erroneous dates of sailing and furnished me with dates of sailing under section 11 of Bombay Act II of 1887, which subsequently proved to be incorrect. The advertised dates and the actual dates of the sailing of all the steamers are mentioned, respectively, in columns Nos. 4 and 5 of the statement "A" hereto.

A report relating to this occurrence has already been forwarded by you to the Secretary to Government, General Department, under No. 1246—21-4, dated 14th December last.

23. Ticket and Camaran Quarantine fee for children.—There being no notification published in the Gazette of India directing that two persons of the age of one year or upwards and under the age of 12 years should be reckoned as one pilgrim as provided for in section 5 (1) of Act XIV of 1895, all the pilgrims between that age were counted by the officer appointed under section 8 of the said Act as one pilgrim and consequently the shipowners charged the full rates of passage for a child even thirteen months old.

The pilgrims having children with them had to suffer considerable annoyance and hardship on account of the absence of the notification.

If it is not considered advisable to publish the said notification, something may be done to secure the advantage of the reservation III to the adherence of India to the Paris Sanitary Convention of 1908, published under Government of India, Home Department (Sanitary), Notification No. 30, dated Calcutta, 12th January 1909, and republished under General Department No. 97-P., dated Bombay Castle, 19th idem, in the issue of Bombay Government Gazette, Part I, dated 28th idem, notifying that for the purpose of computing the accommodation to be provided on pilgrim ships children under three years of age should be considered children-in-arms.

This year no fee was charged at the Camaran Lazaretto for pilgrims under seven years of age. Consequently the shipowners were prohibited from including this fee in the passage monies of children under that age. In some instances this fee was collected by the German East Africa Line and the owner of the s. s. Budrie and due steps were taken to get such fees refunded and paid to the parties entitled to them.

24. Lost and missing steamer tickets.—In former seasons shipowners always declined to issue duplicates and the pilgrims to their utmost discomfort had to purchase new tickets by paying fresh passage money; but during this season the Agents of the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and the German East Africa Line and the owner of the s. s. Budrie were induced to issue such duplicates free of any charge. Of course as soon as the loss of a ticket was reported, the serial number of such lost ticket with the particulars used to be communicated to the Divisional Police and the Agent of the Shipping Companies, and a warning notice used to be posted on the notice boards. All the tickets of the pilgrims during the medical inspection were checked by this Department with the co-operation of some responsible clerks of the Agents of the particular steamer, and after proof of the loss of the ticket, the Agents issued duplicates as aforesaid.

The Agents of the Bombay and Hedjaz Steam Navigation Company of India, Limited, declined to act according to this arrangement and would not issue any ticket.

There being no explicit order compelling Agents to issue duplicates, it was difficult to enforce the arrangement in the case of the Company mentioned above.

A rule as to the issue of duplicate tickets after the Agents have satisfied themselves that the lost ticket will not be brought into use (which they can do by checking the serial numbers at the time of inspection) is indispensable and a representation may be made to the higher authorities to consider this question.

25. Cart and cooly hire.—During this season Rs. 729-6-0 were paid on account of cooly hire and Rs. 836-0-7 on account of cart hire for unloading the pilgrims' baggage at the disinfection shed and removing the said into the shed and from there to the wharf alongside the pilgrim steamer, as against Rs. 518-12-0 and Rs. 638-4-6, respectively, paid during the outgoing season of 1908.

It has been usual to unload the baggage carts at the wharf and take the baggage on the steamers by the coolies employed by the shipowners; but during this season on the first voyage of the s. s. Budrie and all the steamers belonging to the Bombay and Hedjaz Steam Navigation Company of India, Limited, the number of the coolies provided for the purpose was found absolutely inadequate and the pilgrims to their great discomfort had to take the goods themselves. Some rules compelling the shipowners to provide sufficient coolies at the wharf will remove these difficulties.

26. Pilgrims remaining behind.—About 250 pilgrims who had not sufficient means to provide passages were prevented from proceeding to the Hedjaz, and the majority of them were induced to return to their native places. Several of the Central Asians who had come here in 1907 with the idea of providing themselves with the passage moneys by begging had to remain behind.

27. Burying of the deceased pilgrims.—Anjuman-e-Tajhiz-e Amwat-e-Lawarsiya, a society established for the purpose of burying at its own expense all the unclaimed dead bodies of the Mahomedans here, has proved of great assistance. Rs. 12, the actual burial expenses, or less were paid when the effects of the dead pilgrims were sufficient to meet the expense. Where no funds were left, the dead bodies were attended to and disposed of without any hitch or demand for any fees.

28. Embarkation of the pilgrims in the stream.—Some of the pilgrims for three steamers, viz., s. s. Rahmani, 2nd voyage, s. s. Fakhri and s. s. Najmi, and their baggage had to be embarked in the stream.

This was necessary on account of the rule as to the steamer not being allowed to remain in the docks for more than six hours from the embarkation of the first pilgrims.

As on the day of departure of the s. s. Rahmani the staff and police of this Department commenced the work early in the morning and were not able to reach the shore till 10 a.m., the services of the police launch, if otherwise not engaged, were detailed for the use of this Department, and advantage of this was taken on the occasion of the departure of the s. s. Fakhri.

29. Assistance from other sources.—Mr. Abdulla Essa, contractor, during the height of the influx, erected, gratis, a bamboo shamiana on the vacant land in the compound of the quarters at Foras Road, and owing to this generous act 300 extra pilgrims were conveniently put in the camp.

Messrs. Suleman Abdul Wahed, J.P., Mirza Mahomed Shirazi, J.P., Dost Mahomed Peer Mahomed, J.P., and Haji Ali Abubaker Jamal have provided free passages to Jeddah for several destitute pilgrims stranded in this city who could not be prevailed upon to return to their homes. The last named gentleman has also despatched, at his own cost, some of the pilgrims who were not able to purchase their passage to Jeddah.

30. Provision for breaking the fast in the month of Ramzan.—During Ramzan when the pilgrims had to embark at sunset, the time of breaking their fast, some of the brokers and the staff of this Department voluntarily contributed among themselves sufficient money to provide bread and fruit for distribution to the pilgrims on the wharf alongside the steamers and on the steamers. There being no time to prepare their ordinary food in the hurry of embarkation, the poor and rich alike took advantage of this charitable attention.

31. City Police co-operation.—Superintendent Mr. Walton on the day of the sailing of every steamer, attended regularly at the docks to supervise the regulation of the heavy traffic to enable the pilgrims to have a clear passage from the dock gates to the wharf alongside the pilgrim ships. Inspector Mr. Gough and Sub-Inspector Mr. Miller also gave assistance on the occasions aforesaid.

Superintendents Messrs. Walton, Sanderson, Flanagan and Mayers have also paid personal attention to matters relating to the pilgrims referred to them. Inspectors Messrs. Stenson, Hemsworth, Guider, Lewis and Paterson have, from time to time, rendered valuable assistance in taking temporary charge of the effects of the deceased pilgrims who were not accompanied by their relatives.

I cannot conclude this portion of my report without mentioning Inspector Khan Bahadur Sheikh Ibrahim and Acting Inspector Mr. Mahomed Hussein Taqi who always rendered valuable assistance in keeping watch over the different places the pilgrims were put up.

32. The establishment.—Owing to the introduction of the fresh arrangements and new systems, the work of the establishment was a good deal multiplied; but I am glad to submit that it was carried on cheerfully.

In a former paragraph I have already brought to your notice the indispensable assistance rendered by Mrs. A. Currie, and in conclusion I beg to bring to your further notice the assistance rendered by others of this staff. Mr. Purshotam, the Head Clerk of the Pilgrim Department, a very old and able hand, and Mr. Khatib, the 2nd clerk, a young and energetic man in charge of the Intestate Property Accounts, have given entire satisfaction. The other clerks, Messrs. Syed Ahmed and Mukri, during the extraordinary heavy influx, without any consideration as to the lateness of hours or holidays, often had to attend from 8 a.m. to 12 midnight, and they also carried on the work satisfactorily. Interpreter Iftekharuzzahedin and peon Tafazzul have also worked energetically. The former had successfully detected some cases of thefts among the pilgrims and been duly rewarded by you.

Temporary Jamadar Mr. Gulam Ahmed Shamsuddin, an ex-Railway Guard, has also rendered good services. His knowledge of Hindustani, Gujarati, Marathi and Persian and his former experience as a Railway employee of very long standing have proved of much use in connection with the custody of property belonging to deceased pilgrims and the reception of the pilgrims at the railway stations.

Mr. Abdus Sattar, the camp keeper, has also given full satisfaction in arranging for the comforts of the pilgrims at the pilgrims' camp at Foras Road.

For the safety of other pilgrims in the Hedjaz the pilgrims at this place were requested not to proceed to the Hedjaz, and I am glad to state that without any sort of compulsion many of them preferred to return to their native places. Reports regarding this have been submitted to the Secretary to Government, General Department, under Nos. 1172—21-11 and 1186—21-11, dated 22nd and 24th November last, respectively, and orders thereon have been issued under Nos. 6059 and 6083, General Department, dated 24th and 25th November last, respectively.

The medical inspection and the disinfection of the bedding, soiled linen and other articles from the commencement of this season has been carried out with great care, but since the outbreak of cholera as aforesaid even stricter attention was paid to this by the Health Officer for the Port of Bombay, who used to carry out this work under his own personal observation.

At first this Department had great difficulty in inducing the pilgrims, specially Central Asians and Afghans, to wear clean apparel, but after constant endeavours the difficulty was overcome.

A point worth noticing is that the pilgrims suffering from cholera were those who were staying in a room adjoining a pool of stagnant water in Mirza Ali street. The pilgrims staying in other rooms were free. The pilgrims who were attacked were all over 45 years of age and feeble.

22. Delay in sailing on the advertised dates.—With the object of inducing the pilgrims to purchase their tickets, the Agents of the Bombay and Hedjaz Steam Navigation Company of India, Limited, and Mr. Gulamali Jeevaji, the proprietor of the s. s. Budrie, advertised erroneous dates of sailing and furnished me with dates of sailing under section 11 of Bombay Act II of 1887, which subsequently proved to be incorrect. The advertised dates and the actual dates of the sailing of all the steamers are mentioned, respectively, in columns Nos. 4 and 5 of the statement "A" hereto.

A report relating to this occurrence has already been forwarded by you to the Secretary to Government, General Department, under No. 1246—21-4, dated 14th December last.

23. Ticket and Camaran Quarantine fee for children.—There being no notification published in the Gazette of India directing that two persons of the age of one year or upwards and under the age of 12 years should be reckoned as one pilgrim as provided for in section 5 (1) of Act XIV of 1895, all the pilgrims between that age were counted by the officer appointed under section 8 of the said Act as one pilgrim and consequently the shipowners charged the full rates of passage for a child even thirteen months old.

The pilgrims having children with them had to suffer considerable annoyance and hardship on account of the absence of the notification.

If it is not considered advisable to publish the said notification, something may be done to secure the advantage of the reservation III to the adherence of India to the Paris Sanitary Convention of 1908, published under Government of India, Home Department (Sanitary), Notification No. 30, dated Calcutta, 12th January 1909, and republished under General Department No. 97-P., dated Bombay Castle, 19th idem, in the issue of Bombay Government Gazette, Part I, dated 28th idem, notifying that for the purpose of computing the accommodation to be provided on pilgrim ships children under three years of age should be considered children-in-arms.

This year no fee was charged at the Camaran Lazaretto for pilgrims under seven years of age. Consequently the shipowners were prohibited from including this fee in the passage monies of children under that age. In some instances this fee was collected by the German East Africa Line and the owner of the s. s. Budrie and due steps were taken to get such fees refunded and paid to the parties entitled to them.

24. Lost and missing steamer tickets.—In former seasons shipowners always declined to issue duplicates and the pilgrims to their utmost discomfort had to purchase new tickets by paying fresh passage money; but during this season the Agents of the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and the German East Africa Line and the owner of the s. s. Budrie were induced to issue such duplicates free of any charge. Of course as soon as the loss of a ticket was reported, the serial number of such lost ticket with the particulars used to be communicated to the Divisional Police and the Agent of the Shipping Companies, and a warning notice used to be posted on the notice boards. All the tickets of the pilgrims during the medical inspection were checked by this Department with the co-operation of some responsible clerks of the Agents of the particular steamer, and after proof of the loss of the ticket, the Agents issued duplicates as aforesaid.

The Agents of the Bombay and Hedjaz Steam Navigation Company of India, Limited, declined to act according to this arrangement and would not issue any ticket.

There being no explicit order compelling Agents to issue duplicates, it was difficult to enforce the arrangement in the case of the Company mentioned above.

A rule as to the issue of duplicate tickets after the Agents have satisfied themselves that the lost ticket will not be brought into use (which they can do by checking the serial numbers at the time of inspection) is indispensable and a representation may be made to the higher authorities to consider this question.

25. Cart and cooly hire.—During this season Rs. 729-6-0 were paid on account of cooly hire and Rs. 836-0-7 on account of cart hire for unloading the pilgrims' baggage at the disinfection shed and removing the said into the shed and from there to the wharf alongside the pilgrim steamer, as against Rs. 518-12-0 and Rs. 638-4-6, respectively, paid during the outgoing season of 1908.

B

No. 427-P.—1, dated 8th July 1909.

From—The Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay,

To—The Commissioner of Police, Bombay.

WITH reference to your order endorsed under No. 255 of 1909 upon my report to you No. 410 P.—1* of 1909, dated 5th instant, I have the honour to bring to your kind notice the following few facts which have come to my knowledge.

*Attached herewith.

2. A lot of Arab brokers, known as "Mutawifs," come here from Jeddah and proceed to the Provinces in Bengal and Assam simply with a view to traffic in pilgrims. Their plan is to go to the village mosques and tombs of saints and arrange a regular propaganda preaching to Mahomedan cultivators the imperative obligation of Islam for the performance of the Haj without revealing to their minds the salutary injunction laid by the "Shara" regarding the pecuniary circumstances of an intending pilgrim.

The ignorant faithfuls are misled into a belief that these "Mutawifs" are the representatives deputed by the venerable and learned "Aulmas" at the holy city of Mecca, and in the absence of the full knowledge of the actual precept of Islam relating to the Haj, they are induced to blindly confide themselves to the care of these brokers who accompany them to the Hedjaz. These uneducated poor Mahomedans, not having sufficient means to provide for the sacred journey, are compelled to unwisely encumber or dispose off their valuable properties for a trifle generally to Hindu money-lenders.

3. These "Mutawifs" act as guides to the pilgrims and, it has been found, that before the pilgrims reach the holy city of Mecca they are able to transfer to their own pockets as much money belonging to the pilgrims as they are able to rob or extort by way of charging unwarrantable commission, illegal fees and by other unfair means.

4. Ultimately these unfortunate pilgrims return back to India in utterly destitute plight, and pass the remainder of their lives in penniless condition.

5. I may mention that owing to the above cause many a Mahomedan landowner has come to beggary, and the Hindu money-lender by the possession of his land as aforesaid is able to predominate over him.

6. I have found that these so-called Arabs are Bengalis by birth, but settled in the Hedjaz for some years, while some are the descendants of Bengalis domiciled in the Hedjaz and consequently are able to speak the Bengali language fluently.

7. I submit that under Government Resolution, General Department, No. 970 dated 8th March 1895, upon the request of the Commissioner of Police the news of the departure of five Arabs was communicated to Government by His Majesty's Consul at Jeddah and the Commissioner of Police was to take steps, if necessary, in consultation with the Solicitor to Government for their interception and forced return to their country. And from the letter of the Commissioner of Police published as preamble to Government, General Department, Resolution No. 1845, dated 9th May 1895, it appears that 3 of the said 5 Arabs were duly prevented from proceeding to the mofussils and were warned to return to Jeddah, which warning was duly complied with. The said Resolutions do not mention the powers under which these steps were taken, but I believe it was done under Act III of 1864. But in this Act there is no power to deal with the alleged Arabs who are Bengalis by birth.

8. To my great regret I find that under the Acts and rulings relating to pilgrims the Protector of Pilgrims has no power to deal with these undesirables. The only thing I can do is to see that they do not come in touch with the pilgrims as brokers as long as the pilgrims stay in Bombay.

(With a copy of the hand-book "Bab-e-Mecca.")

(1) Preparation of baggage for medical inspection.

(2) Departure from the musaferkhanas.

(3) Medical inspection and disinfection shed.

(1) Preparation of baggage for medical inspection.

Labels of the particular marks (specially prescribed for baggage) should be affixed to bags of articles of food such as rice, dal and other kind of grain and coal and tins of ghee and oil so that they may not be put in the disinfecting stove. It is under consideration that besides the usual words this may be impressed on labels for such baggage. New or cleanly washed clothes, silk clothes, the Holi Quran books and other articles of the kind of paper; leather straps, shoes, leather bag and other leather articles should be kept in separate box or tied in a clean cloth; and if clothes, contained in those bags that are examined, are not dirty, they shall not be put in the disinfecting stove.

Labels with one's own name should be attached to all boxes and bundles. The pilgrims thumselves should bring:—All kit and baggage loaded in carts to the disinfection shed or may send there with some reliable servant.

Pilgrims are responsible for the cart hire up to disinfection shed, and they should remember or take down the number of the carts that are loaded with their baggage.

They must keep ready with themselves key of all their boxes and bags so that no delay may possibly occur while opening a box when needed.

Cart hire from Sett Ismail Habib's Inn to the disinfection shed is annas 8 only and that from Cummoo Sett's Inn is annas 6, provided that the cart is not unnecessarily detained.

Bedding should be tied with ropes and not with leather straps. Ropes for binding bundles and bedding can be had free of charge at the disinfection shed.

Again.—Filthy and dirty clothing, bedding and pillows must never be kept in the bags of grain and coal.

(2) Departure from the musafer khanas.

For the purpose of embarkation the date of departure of a vessel is mentioned in passage tickets, but sometimes owing to some unexpected events the vessel starts on voyage one day after or previous to the day appointed. Pilgrims, therefore, be prepared with their belongings before that time.

The information of the actual departure of a vessel is given to pilgrims by ringing of bell at the musaferkhanas and principal Mahomedan localities. Pilgrim brokers also announce the same to their pilgrims.

Notice to the same effect is attached to the boards of the camp and musaferkhanas by the Pilgrim Department.

Pilgrims are specially requested to wear clean clothes while going to attend the medical inspection shed at the time of departure, so that the doctor may not force them to take out dirty and untidy dress, if put on.

The constables of the Pilgrim Department remain present at the time of pilgrims' leaving the camp and the musaferkhanas to make necessary arrangement.

(3) Medical inspection and disinfection shed.

No pilgrim will be allowed to board a pilgrim ship without his undergoing a medical inspection. The medical inspection and the disinfection shed are situate on the northern portion of the Frere Road running alongside the Cummoo Sett's Inn and opposite to Prince's Docks. Opposite to the said sheds and on the west of the abovementioned road there is a Government semi-permanent shed for pilgrims waiting for the medical inspection, and near the same on the east of the disinfection shed there is another shed where arrangement is made for purdah ladies. All female pilgrims have to enter the shed for medical examination through the western gate of the disinfection shed and male ones through the northern.

It is necessary for pilgrims to get their kit and baggages unloaded at the said waiting shed and wait there till permission is given to them to enter the inspection shed. It is useless for them to crowd at the gate of the inspection shed. If they do so, they are likely in danger of receiving injury and being tired for nothing. Pilgrims must keep their passage tickets with them.

First of all the baggage is caused to enter the inspection shed, then their owners. Only those pilgrims whose baggage is caused to get into the inspection shed should enter the said shed.

He who will enter the inspection shed leaving his belongings outside will be in danger in losing the same.

Boxes, trunks and bundles of goods and clothes should be opened and shown to the doctor and got stamped. If dirty clothes be found in them, they will be put in the disinfecting stove.

In short, such baggage as remains unstamped and such as is not brought in the inspection shed and left outside will be considered as unclaimed property and handed into the office of the Commissioner of Police, the result of which will be nothing but unnecessary trouble.

Pilgrims possessing first class and saloon tickets and being present in time will be first and sepatately inspected and similarly their baggage also will be first disinfected.

Government has kindly caused to be made arrangement for female pilgrims in respect to their waiting and coming in and out of the inspection shed. A lady doctor is also appointed to inspect them and possible care is taken to maintain purdah.

And the European and Indian lady attendants of the Pilgrim Department also give their assistance.

If the inspecting officer finds that certain pilgrim is suffering from cholera or choleric indisposition or plague, or from a disease which in his opinion is dangerously infectious or contagious, or suspected by him so contaminated, he will not be permitted to embark.

Pilgrims whose health is sound enough to undergo such medical inspection should not reflect any sort of fear. During inspection a pilgrim is not detained on mere suspicion, but he is taken aside at first and is again inspected; still if the inspecting officer holds the same opinion about him he is then unavoidably detained. After the inspection is over, the inspected pilgrim is marked with a seal of medical examination on the back of his hand, clothes on his chest and his ticket; without the said mark no pilgrim is permitted to go on board the ship; it is therefore necessary that the hands should not be washed before embarkation.

At present chief officer of inspection and disinfection is Lieutenant-Colonel J. Crimmin, V.C., C.I.E., P.H., I.M.S., who is doing his utmost to make the inspection of pilgrims easy and comfortable.

The baggage of a pilgrim who is prevented from embarking is immediately returned to him, and if his relatives and companions wish to join him, their properties are also returned to them.

The cost of passage tickets of a detained pilgrim and his relatives is returned to them through the Protector of Pilgrims, provided the tickets are impressed with the remark of his being not permitted by the doctor of the medical inspection shed.

Every detained pilgrim and his companion and relative are required to inform the Protector of Pilgrims or his staff at once of their state so that the arrangement may be made to find out their goods and clothes and return the cost of their passage tickets.

Nobody is allowed to enter the medical inspection shed except pilgrims intending to embark, officers, the Commissioner of Police, and coolies certified by the police.

By the permission of the Medical Officer, pilgrim brokers and their servants are also permitted to enter the medical inspection shed.

Coolies bringing and conveying kits and baggage will have a numbered buckle of the Pilgrim Department attached to their arms. Pilgrims should keep such number in mind so that it may be useful to them in future.

Requirements before registration.

4. (1) Before registering a heavy motor-vehicle, the registering authority shall be satisfied (a) that it is provided with two independent brakes or other means of stoppage in good working order and of such efficiency that the application of either is capable of promptly stopping the heavy motor-vehicle whether going forwards or backwards; (b) if such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled by steam that—

(i) it is so constructed as to consume its own smoke as far as practicable,

(ii) it is fitted with an efficient "spark arrester".

(c) If such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled otherwise than by steam that it is so used that no smoke or visible vapour is emitted therefrom except from any temporary or accidental cause.

(2) Before registering a heavy motor-vehicle the registering authority shall also satisfy himself that the tyres of the wheels of the vehicle, if the tyres are not pneumatic or are not made of a soft or elastic material, are of the dimensions required by the special rules for heavy motor-vehicles, and may also have the weight of the heavy motor-vehicle, and if he thinks necessary, the axle-weight of each wheel ascertained in such manner as he may by general or special order direct.

Subsequent defects.

5. Where the registering authority at any time after a heavy motor-vehicle has been registered considers, on the report of any District Superintendent of Police or otherwise, that it has ceased to comply with the requirements of any of these rules, or that it has not been maintained in such a condition as to prevent danger to the public, such registering authority may, after notice to the registered owner, direct that the registration be cancelled until such time as the defects are rectified to its satisfaction.

Driving on the right-side of the road.

6. A heavy motor-vehicle shall be driven in accordance with the rules of the road which require a vehicle to keep on the left of the road except when passing horses and other vehicles going in the same direction which should be passed on the right, and provided that it should ordinarily pass a tramcar on the left or near side whether it be going in the same or the contrary direction.

7. The speed at which a heavy motor-vehicle is driven on any public road shall not exceed 7 miles an hour:

Provided that—

(a) if the weight of the heavy motor-vehicle unladen exceeds three tons, or

(b) if the registered axle-weight of any axle exceeds six tons, or

(c) if a trailer is attached to the heavy motor-vehicle, the speed shall not exceed five miles an hour:

Provided also that if the heavy motor-vehicle has all its wheels fitted with pneumatic tyres or with tyres of a soft or elastic material, the speed at which the heavy motor-vehicle may be driven on any public road shall not exceed—

(a) twelve miles an hour where the registered axle-weight of any axle does not exceed six tons;

(b) seven miles an hour where such registered axle-weight exceed six tons.

Maintenance.

8. No person shall drive a heavy motor-vehicle (a) unless it is at all times under full control so as to prevent undue interference with passenger or other traffic, and unless it is maintained in such a condition as to prevent danger to the public; (b) if such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled by steam unless—

(i) it is so constructed as to consume its own smoke as far as practicable,

(ii) it is fitted with efficient "spark arresters";

(c) if such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled otherwise than by steam, unless it is so used that no smoke or visible vapour is emitted therefrom except from any temporary or accidental cause.

9. No heavy motor-vehicle shall be allowed to stand in any street or public place unattended by a person licensed under section 2, sub-section (2), of the Act, unless all reasonable precautions have been taken to ensure that it cannot be put in motion in the absence of the driver, or, if such heavy motor-vehicle is propelled by steam, unless its fires have been extinguished and it has ceased to contain in itself sufficient power to move.

10. The driver of a heavy motor-vehicle shall not cause the vehicle to travel backwards for a greater distance or time than may be requisite for purposes of safety or in order to turn round.

Registration of weights.

11. On every application to a registering authority for the registration of a heavy motor-vehicle and for permission to ply for hire the applicant shall declare—

(a) the weight of the heavy motor-vehicle or trailer unladen,

(b) the axle-weight of each axle,

(c) the diameter of each wheel.

12. Upon receiving from the licensing authority a copy of the entries made in the register relating to a heavy motor-vehicle or trailer, the owner of the heavy motor-vehicle shall cause—

Registered weight to be printed on the vehicle.

(a) the registered weight of the heavy motor-vehicle or trailer unladen, and

(b) the registered axle-weight of each axle to be printed or otherwise plainly marked in letters not less than one inch in height, and in such a manner as to be legible at a reasonable distance, upon some conspicuous part of the right or off side of every heavy motor-vehicle or trailer.

This rule shall not apply to trailers not exceeding one ton in weight unladen.

13. (i) The axle-weight of an axle of a heavy motor-vehicle shall not exceed the registered axle-weight.

The tyres of each wheel of a heavy motor-vehicle or trailer, unless the tyres are pneumatic or made of a soft or elastic material, shall be smooth, and shall, where the tyre touches the surface of the road or other base whereon the heavy motor-vehicle moves or rests, be flat, provided that the edges of the tyre may be bevelled or rounded to the extent in the case of each edge of not more than half an inch :

Provided also that—

(i) if the tyre is constructed of separate plates, the plates may be separated by parallel spaces which shall be disposed throughout the outer surface of the tyre, so that nowhere shall the aggregate extent of the space or spaces in the course of a straight line drawn horizontally across the circumference of the wheel exceed one-eighth part of the width of the tyre ;

(ii) the driving wheels of a heavy motor-vehicle shall be cylindrical and smooth-soled, or shod with diagonal cross-bars of not less than three inches in width nor more than three-quarters of an inch in thickness extending the full breadth of the tyre, and the space intervening between each such cross-bar shall not exceed three inches.

15. (i) The width of the tyre of each wheel of a heavy motor-vehicle or trailer shall be determined by such of the following conditions as may apply to the circumstances of the case ; that is to say—

Width of tyre.

(a) The width shall in every case be not less than 5 inches, or in the case of a trailer, 3 inches.

(b) The width shall be not less than that number of half inches which is equal to the number of units of registered axle-weight of the axle to which the wheel is attached.

The unit of registered axle-weight shall vary according to the diameter of the wheel, and the rules set forth in the subjoined scale ; that is to say—

(i) if the wheel is 3 feet in diameter, the unit of registered axle-weight shall be 7½ cwts. ;

(ii) if the wheel exceeds 3 feet in diameter, the unit of registered axle-weight shall be 7½ cwts., with an addition of weight in the proportion of one hundredweight for every 12 inches by which the diameter is increased beyond 3 feet, and in the same proportion for any increase which is greater or less than 12 inches ; and

(iii) if the wheel is less than 3 feet in diameter, the unit of registered axle-weight shall be 7½ cwts., with a deduction of weight in the proportion of one hundredweight for every 6 inches by which the diameter is reduced below 3 feet ; and in the same proportion for any reduction which is greater or less than 6 inches.

(2) This rule shall not apply to any tyre which is pneumatic or which is made of a soft or elastic material, or to trailers not exceeding one ton in weight unladen.

18. Every heavy motor-vehicle and trailer shall be constructed with suitable and sufficient springs between each axle and the frame of the heavy motor-vehicle.

19. (1) Each trailer attached to a heavy motor-vehicle shall have a brake approved by the licensing authority, and each trailer shall carry upon it a person competent to apply the brake efficiently; provided that where the brakes upon the heavy motor-vehicle to which any trailer is attached are so constructed and arranged that neither of them can be used without bringing into action simultaneously the brake attached to the trailer, or if the brake of the trailer can be applied from the motor-vehicle independently of the brakes of the latter, the above conditions need not be complied with.

Qualifications of public vaccinator.

III.—No person shall be appointed a public vaccinator unless he has obtained a certificate from the Sanitary Commissioner of the Punjab that he is duly qualified to perform vaccination as prescribed by Act XIII of 1880.

Vaccination season.

V.—The vaccination season will extend from 1st November to 31st March inclusive.

Note for vaccinators.—Although the Vaccination Act does not render liable to punishment the omission to get children under the age of 6 months vaccinated, yet it is very desirable that children should be vaccinated at an earlier age. As a rule all healthy unprotected children over one month old presented for vaccination should be vaccinated by the public vaccinators.

Time of attendance of public vaccinators and their residence.

VI.—During the vaccination season the public vaccinator shall be bound to attend at the vaccine station to which he may be attached by the Civil Surgeon (or other Medical Officer duly appointed for the purpose) on the days and hours fixed for such station, and he shall reside in the municipality.

VII.—The lymph to be used in the performance of vaccination shall be pure lymph obtained on the fifth day, taken from the udder or from the soft skin in the neighbourhood of the udder of a buffalo under the age of one year which is free from contagious disease and has perfect full-sized vesicles, or vaccine paste prepared from buffalo calves at the recognized Provincial Vaccine Depôt.

Nature of lymph to be ordinarily used.

VIII.—If the parent or guardian of a child produced for vaccination desires that human lymph should be used the vaccinator shall comply, and the lymph shall be taken from a child, subject to its parents' or guardians' consent, that has two perfect vesicles left untouched on the arm to run their regular course.

X.—Persons desirous of procuring the vaccination of their children at their own houses shall intimate the fact to the public vaccinator (or any other public vaccinators as the case may be) who out of the hours of his public duties shall arrange with the applicant to vaccinate the child. A fee of 8 (eight) annas shall be payable to a public vaccinator who so vaccinates a child elsewhere than in the circle for which such vaccinator is appointed.

Facilities for procuring vaccination of children at private houses and the fee payable to a public vaccinator for an operation (outside his own circle).

XI.—Persons licensed by the Local Government to act as private vaccinators shall in no case demand a higher fee than eight annas for a single operation and shall perform their duties under the orders and subject to the general control of the Civil Surgeon (or other Medical Officer duly appointed for the purpose).

Fee chargeable by private vaccinators and the authority to which they are subject.

XII.—If the result of the first vaccination is a failure, the child should be re-vaccinated. If this second operation is a failure, a third attempt should be made. If this also is unsuccessful, it is needless to repeat it again.

Re-vaccination and the age of the child.

XIII.—Whenever it is ascertained that a child is unfit for vaccination or is insusceptible of successful vaccination a certificate in Form A attached to these rules shall be granted in the former case to the parent or guardian of such child by the vaccinator, and in the latter in the Form B by the Medical (or Vaccination) Officer duly appointed for the purpose who may be the Civil Surgeon, Assistant Surgeon, Hospital Assistant, Superintendent of Vaccination or Head Vaccinator, as may in any case be best suited to local circumstances. In like manner whenever it is ascertained that a child has been successfully vaccinated a certificate shall be granted by the vaccinator to the parent or guardian of such child in the Form C attached to these rules.

(d) A register showing the result of each vaccination or its postponement and the delivery of certificates, if any.

Rules for the preparation of registers.

XV.—The preparation of register (a) shall be effected from the register of births maintained in the municipal office, of registers (b) and (c) from the information to be collected under the orders of the secretary of the municipal committee, and of register (d) from the reports submitted by the vaccinator as hereinafter prescribed.

Anantnag, also known as Islamabad, is the place from which pilgrims to the cave of Amar Nath leave the valley of Kashmír and enter the mountains. The pilgrimage to the cave of Amar Nath usually takes place in July-August of each year, and it is very improbable that it will be prohibited by His Highness the Maharaja of Kashmír. In these circumstances I am desired to suggest that the presence of cholera in the Kashmír valley, and especially at Anantnag, may be widely made known in your district, especially in places that are frequented by Fakirs and Sadus.

The 13th August 1910.

No. 284.—Notification—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883 (XIX of 1883), and in supersession of the rules published with Punjab Government notification No. 79, dated the 11th July 1901, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules providing for the grant of loans under the said Act :—

RULES.

Officers who may grant loans.

1. Within the limits of the funds allotted to them for the purpose the following officers are empowered to grant loans :—

Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners	...	Up to Rs. 500
Collectors	...	Up to Rs. 1,000
Commissioners	...	Up to Rs. 5,000
Financial Commissioner	...	Without limit.

Officers subordinate to the Collector will exercise these powers only when permitted to do so by the Collector.

The limits apply to the amounts which may be granted in any individual case. Commissioners may, on the recommendation of the Collector, invest selected Tahsildars with the powers of an Extra Assistant Commissioner as regards the granting of loans.

In time of famine it may be necessary to enlarge the powers of the officers named, and this may be done by the Commissioner, subject to report to the Financial Commissioner.

2. (i) Interest will be charged at the rate of 6¼ per cent. per annum, unless the Local Government has, by special order, sanctioned a lower rate of interest.

(ii) Penal interest will not be charged on instalments which have been suspended by order of competent authority, but in other cases will ordinarily be charged at 6¼ per cent. per annum, simple interest, on the total of the overdue instalment, when the delay exceeds fifteen days. Compound interest will in no case be charged, and the Collector may remit or reduce the penal interest when he is satisfied that the failure is due to inability to pay or that the levy of such interest would be productive of hardship.

Security.

3. (a) When the value of the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, no collateral security need be required.

(b) When a loan is made to the members of a village community, who bind themselves jointly and severally as provided in section 9 of the Act, the personal security of the applicants may be accepted. It is not necessary that all the members of the community should combine: loans may be made to any suitable group of persons who agree to be jointly and severally bound.

(c) In all cases not covered by clause (a) or clause (b) of this rule, collateral security, either real or personal, should be required, but moveable property should rarely be accepted as such security.

4. The borrower should be required to sign on the order of payment an agreement in a form prescribed, and should be given a copy of this agreement

Dates of payment of instalments.

In the case of all such works no instalment subsequent to the first should be paid until a competent officer is satisfied that the loan is being properly applied.

The Collector should report the suspension to the Commissioner, who should satisfy himself as to the propriety of the action taken, and may, if necessary, cancel or modify the Collector's order. In all cases formal orders of suspension should be recorded.

Suspension.

8. When any portion of a loan under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, or when from any special cause it appears that the loan ought not to be recovered, a special report should be made to the Commissioner of the division, who has power to grant remission up to a limit of Rs. 500 in any one case. If the amount proposed for remission exceeds Rs. 500, the Commissioner should forward the report to the Financial Commissioner, who has power to sanction remissions without limit.

The 18th August 1910.

No. 230.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him under the Reformatory Schools Act (VIII of 1897) the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules in supersession of rules 41 to 52 and 61 of the rules and regulations of the Reformatory School, Delhi :—

MARKS SYSTEM.

Privileges.

41. The Superintendent shall select from amongst the best behaved boys a number not exceeding one in every twelve to act as Monitors and Assistant Monitors, whose duty will be to assist in the maintenance of order and in the regular routine of the institution and to report all offences or unbecoming behaviour. Each Monitor with one Assistant Monitor shall ordinarily have twenty-four boys specially told off for him to look after generally. Each Monitor and Assistant Monitor shall be given a distinctive uniform in virtue of his office, and the status of a Monitor shall not be taken away except by the special order of the Superintendent and as a punishment.

42. Each boy shall be marked "Good", "Indifferent" or "Bad" daily for conduct in (a) general education classes, (b) Industrial classes, and (c) while at play or during periods of recess, a general Mark Register being maintained for the purpose by the senior teacher. Each "Good" entry shall reckon as 2 marks, each "Indifferent" entry as no mark, and each "Bad" entry as 2 minus marks. Two "Indifferent" entries shall reckon as one "Bad" entry and involve forfeiture of 2 marks. On Sundays and holidays 6 marks shall be given for cleanliness and tidiness of clothing and bedding and general good conduct. It will thus be possible for a boy to earn 42 marks weekly.

43. These 42 marks shall have a money value as noted below according to the period spent by a boy in the School :—

1st month	1 anna per week.
2nd to 6th month inclusive	2 annas " "
7th to 12th month	3 annas " "
1 to 2 years	4 annas " "
2 to 3 years	5 annas " "
3 to 4 years	6 annas " "
4 to 5 years	7 annas " "

Monitors and Assistant Monitors shall, in addition, receive 2 annas and 1 anna, respectively, per week.

44. Loss of marks shall be adjudicated by the Superintendent only, from the reports of the Manager, Teachers, Instructors and Head Warders, and from his own personal observation. For one "Bad" mark or two "Indifferent" marks a boy shall lose all the money he is earning for one week, for two "Bad" marks for two weeks, and so on. For a week in which there is only one "Indifferent" entry, a boy shall earn full marks. But the odd "Indifferent" entry shall be carried forward and given effect to when the next "Indifferent" entry is made.

45. In addition to the allowance a boy may earn under rule 43. and in order to inculcate habits of carefulness, each boy shall on admission and thereafter every six months, be credited with a sum of Rs. 2 to cover the cost of the clothing issued to him, the value of all articles issued to him being debited to his account. Articles wilfully or carelessly destroyed or rendered unfit for wear before the expiry of the period for which they are required to last shall be replaced at the boy's expense, deductions, if necessary, being made from his weekly allowance. On the other hand, if a boy is careful of the articles of clothing issued to him and makes them last for longer periods than those prescribed, the saving so effected shall go to swell the balance at his credit.

46. One-fourth of the money earned by a boy may be given to him every fortnight and may be spent by him on non-prohibited articles.

47. At the end of each quarter a Balance Sheet shall be made up and exhibited in the School room so that each boy may be able to see how his account stands.

48. Save as provided in rule 46 no money shall be paid to a boy until after he has been discharged, when the amount to his credit shall be paid to him in instalments as follows:—

	Rs.
On discharge for 1st month	4
Second and 3rd months	2 monthly.
Fourth to 12th month	4 quarterly.
Second and third years	3 „

Provided that, if the amount to a boy's credit be more or less than the sum (Rs. 44) required for the payment of the allowances according to the scale above, the monthly and quarterly allowances shall be rateably increased or decreased so as to admit of the payments being spread out over a period of three years.

49. The Superintendent shall report to the committee any boy whom he considers deserving of a reward for some special act of good conduct, and the committee, if of opinion that some reward should be granted, shall decide what form it shall take, and in case of its being a sum of money such sum shall be added to the amount mentioned in rule 48.

50. All payments under rule 48 shall be subject to good behaviour. Should a boy be reconvicted, he shall forfeit all claim to the amount lying to his credit, and such amount shall be withdrawn from the Post Office Savings Bank and credited to Government.

51. Ten per cent. of all industrial profits earned by the boys, calculated on the profits returned in the quarterly statements of manufactory operations in the Reformatory School, shall be set apart annually and shall be applied for the award of prizes to the boys for industrial work under arrangements made by the Superintendent and the Committee of Visitors.

52. Specially well conducted boys may be permitted by the Superintendent to leave the school premises for short periods during the day time under such conditions as the Superintendent may think necessary.

NOTE (i)—The private property of boys detained in the School is to be disposed of in the manner laid down in paragraph 493 (a) to (f) of the Punjab Jail Manual.

NOTE (ii)—The Superintendent is authorised to open accounts with the Post Office Savings Bank for the safe custody of cash belonging to boys (Punjab Government letter No. 351, dated the 6th August 1904).

Discharge.

61. Payments under rule 48 shall be made by giving each boy on discharge a certificate (Form C) with 5 coupons (Form D) for the allowance for the 2nd to 6th month. His thumb impression will be impressed on the certificate for the purpose of identification. He will present these coupons to the District Inspector of Schools of the district in which he is residing who, after satisfying himself that the boy's conduct has been good, will pay him the allowance. At the end of six months, if his behaviour has been satisfactory, a similar certificate (Form E) with coupons for the allowance for the next two quarters will be given him, and so on every six months till the whole of the amount to his credit has been paid him.

NOTE (i)—If during any period for which allowances are payable to a boy information is received that he is not conducting himself properly, the Superintendent and the Committee of Visitors are authorised to depute any member of the Reformatory staff to visit the place where the boy is residing and to make enquiries about him, all travelling and other expenses connected with such visits and enquiries being paid by Government.

NOTE (ii)—The rules under "Discharge" are to be held to apply to boys discharged by order of Government under section 13 of the Reformatory Schools Act, VIII of 1897.]

NOTE (iii)—The allowance to boys who have migrated to the United Provinces after having been discharged should be sent by Postal Money Order to the Chairman of the district board concerned.

Punjab Government Notifications and Orders

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

The 5th August 1910.

No. 1250.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 15, sub-section (2), of the Cantonments Act, 1910 (XV of 1910), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to apply, for the assessment and recovery of taxes in the cantonments of the Punjab such of the rules contained in sections 28 to 242 of the Punjab Municipal Account Code, 1905, as are reprinted in the adapted form set forth below.

Octroi Rules.

28. The goods on which, and the rates at which, octroi has been imposed by the cantonment authority shall be entered in a schedule; and the cantonment authority shall collect octroi only on such goods, or at any rates as are so entered.

ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION.

29. Goods imported into the octroi limits of the cantonment, which are liable to the payment of octroi, shall be dealt with in one of the following ways:—

(a) the goods may be assessed at the barriers;

(b) they may be taken to the head octroi office and assessed there;

(c) they may be assessed under the rules laid down for goods imported by railway; or

(d) the octroi may be compounded for.

30. In a cantonment, where it is necessary in the interests of trade, by reason of the distance between the head octroi office and the outpost or railway barriers, the cantonment authority may, with the previous sanction of the Officer Commanding the Division establish a Branch Octroi Office. This office shall be placed in the direct charge of an assistant octroi superintendent, but the ocroi superintendent shall remain responsible for the efficiency of its working.

When such a branch octroi office has been established, the procedure in these rules, so far as it relates to the head octroi office, shall, except where the contrary is stated, apply also to the Branch Octroi Office; and the functions imposed on the octroi superintendent in these rules shall, except where the contrary is stated, be exercised also by the assistant octroi superintendent.

BARRIERS.

31. Octroi barriers shall be placed at such points on, or in the immediate vicinity of the octroi limits, as shall from time to time be determined as being the most suitable for intercepting the import traffic. Besides these outpost barriers, there shall also, if necessary, be such other barriers* as are prescribed in these rules, and octroi on animals for slaughter may, under a resolution or order of the cantonment authority, be collected at the slaughter-house instead of at the outpost barriers. In this case the following rules for the collection and assessment of octroi shall, mutatis mutandis, apply.

32. A copy, in English and Vernacular, both of the octroi schedule and of the prices current for the month of such goods as are subject to an ad valorem octroi shall be posted in a conspicuous place at each barrier.

33. Each barrier shall be under the charge of a staff of muharrirs and peons, according to a standard sanctioned by the cantonment authority. Besides any other duties prescribed by the cantonment authority, it shall be the duty of the staff to see that all goods liable to octroi are stopped at the barrier, and to assess and collect the octroi on such goods or to deal with them otherwise as prescribed in these rules.

34. The cantonment authority shall appoint inspectors or other responsible officer or officers to supervise the working of the barriers. Besides any other duty prescribed by the cantonment authority or under these rules, these inspecting officers shall see that the general working of the staff at the barriers is in accordance with the rules laid down for their observance.

35. At each barrier an inspection book shall be kept up in form 3. Members, Inspectors or other officers inspecting the barrier shall note the results of their inspection in this book, making their notes as full and detailed as possible.

36. (1) The cantonment authority shall provide a suitable set of scale and weights at each barrier. These shall be kept in proper working order by the muharrir, and tested once every quarter by such members or officer as the cantonment authority may direct.

*Viz., a central barrier and railway and warehouse barriers.

ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION AT OUTPOST BARRIERS.

37. On the import of goods liable to octroi, the muharrir in charge of the outpost barrier shall call upon the importer to declare whether they are intended—

(1) for consumption or use within the cantonment; or

(2) for immediate export; or

(3) for temporary detention within the cantonment, and eventual export.

38. If the goods are declared to be imported for consumption or use within the octroi limits of the cantonment, the muharrir shall assess the octroi as prescribed in the schedule.

39. (1) Articles, on which octroi is leviable ad valorem, shall be assessed according to their market value in the cantonment if that value can be ascertained from the prices current for the month. If the article is not entered in the price current, and the value is less than Rs. 8, the muharrir shall calculate its market value on the information at his disposal and with due regard to the value declared by the importer.

(2) If the market value of the consignment cannot be ascertained from the price current and is not less than Rs. 8, the articles shall be sent on by the muharrir to the head octroi office where the octroi superintendent shall make the assessment after such inquiry as he may think necessary, including an examination of the invoice if produced.

(3) But an importer of goods which have come into India by sea or of such articles included in classes IV, V, VII and VIII of rule 26 published in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910, as the cantonment authority may, by resolution, prescribe in this behalf, may claim an assessment according to the invoice value of his goods. In this case the articles shall be sent to the head octroi office, where the importer shall produce his invoice (bijak). The octroi superintendent shall examine the invoice and assess on it if there is no good reason to the contrary. The invoice shall then be stamped with a cantonment stamp and returned to the importer.

(4) If the importer be dissatisfied with an assessment under this rule, he shall pay the octroi assessed, but may appeal to the cantonment authority, provided he lodges his appeal within seven days from the date of payment.

40. If the importer dispute the assessment or calculations of the barrier muharrir, the muharrir shall send the goods on to the head octroi office with a brief report (of which he shall keep a copy in a memorandum book) for the decision of the octroi superintendent.

If the importer be dissatisfied with the decision, he shall pay the octroi, but may appeal to the cantonment authority, provided he lodges his appeal within seven days from the date of payment.

41. The cantonment authority shall fix a limit up to which an outpost barrier muharrir may collect octroi on a single consignment, and above which the octroi shall be collected at the central barrier.

This limit shall not be less than Rs. 5 in the case of a cantonment of class I and Rs. 2 in the case of a cantonment of the second class.

42. If the octroi exceeds this limit, the muharrir shall be guided by the provisions in rule 51 (1).

43. If the octroi does not exceed the limit prescribed under rule 41, the muharrir shall fill up a receipt, with its counterfoil, in form 4. The importer shall then, on the demand of the muharrir, pay the octroi, which, immediately on receipt, the muharrir shall drop into the cash-box, handing the receipt, with the coupon attached, to the importer. The progressive totals of the octroi received shall be kept in each page in the place provided at the foot, as the pages are completed. The totals shall be taken at once and not put off till the end of the day. At the end of the day the progressive total of the money received for the day shall be taken up to the last counterfoil used, and shall be entered thereon.

The inspector visiting a barrier shall see that these totals are taken regularly as directed in this rule, and shall initial the page which he checks.

44. Under a special resolution or order of the cantonment authority, face-value tickets may be issued in form 5 for headloads of bhusa, fruit and vegetables in place of the ordinary octroi receipts prescribed in the preceding rule. The tickets shall be on coloured paper, and the value shall be 1 pie, 1½ pies, 2 pies, 3 pies, 6 pies, and 1 anna.

45. (i) An inspector meeting an importer is authorized to demand his octroi receipt, and verify the entries therein by inspection of the goods. An importer who is called upon for his receipt under this rule shall produce it, and permit the inspector to inspect his goods.

(ii) If, after checking the calculations of the octroi, the inspector finds that all the items in the receipt are correct, he shall fill up the columns in the coupon, which he shall tear from the receipt and keep for comparison with the counterfoil at the barrier. He shall then endorse his name on the back of the receipt and return it to the importer.

(iii) If the inspector finds reason to believe that the full amount of octroi has not been paid on the goods, he is authorized to take the importer to the head octroi office, where he shall immediately report the facts of the case. The importer shall accompany the inspector to the head octroi office when called upon to do so under this rule.

(iv) When the inspector arrives at the barrier, he shall verify the coupons he has collected with the counterfoils, and initial each counterfoil in token of his having made the check. He shall then drop the coupons in the cash-box, for the information of the head Octroi Office, when the cash-boxes are sent in.

(v) The inspector's check here prescribed is applicable to Forms 4 and 5.

Explanation.—The words "head octroi office" in this rule do not include a branch octroi office, where such is established,—vide rule 30.

CENTRAL BARRIER.

49. The central barrier shall be at the head octroi office, and shall be used for the collection of octroi when—

(1) the assessment has been made by the octroi superintendent —

(a) under rule 39 (2), or

(b) in settlement of a dispute under Rule 40 ;

(2) the octroi exceeds the limits fixed under Rule 41.

50. In cases coming under clause (1) of the preceding rule, the methods of collection and account shall be in accordance with the procedure prescribed in rules 37 to 45 supra and 46—48 of the rules published in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910, for outpost barriers.

51. In cases coming under clause (2) of rule 49, the procedure shall be as follows :—

(1) At the outpost barrier, where the goods are imported.—The muharrir shall assess the goods, and fill up and initial the receipt and counterfoil in form 4, except column 8 in the counterfoil, and column 6 in the foil, in which he shall write the words "to be paid at the central barrier." The forms for this purpose shall be kept in a separate book, and may, if necessary, be on differently coloured paper from the ordinary forms. The receipt, with coupon attached, shall be handed to the importer, who shall take it to the central barrier, and pay the octroi within the time (not to exceed sixteen hours) prescribed by the cantonment authority for this purpose. These transactions shall not be shown in the jinswars of the outpost barriers.

(2)—At the central barrier.—The importer on arrival shall hand over the receipt to the muharrir, who shall calculate and receive the octroi, and enter the amount paid in both receipt and coupon, striking out under his own signature the entry made at the outpost barrier in column 6 of the receipt. He shall then enter and classify the octroi in his jinswar, sign both receipt and coupon, and hand the receipt to the importer; but he shall keep the coupon in his cash-box. The coupon shall subsequently be pasted at the head octroi office on to its appropriate counterfoil in the outpost barrier book when that is submitted. The central barrier muharrir shall total his jinswar (form 6 in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910), in the same way as is done at other barriers and send it with his cash-box to the octroi superintendent at the head octroi office at the same time as the daily accounts are received from other barriers.

(3) Duties of inspector.—An inspector meeting an importer with his goods covered by one of the receipts provided for in this rule is authorized to demand his octroi receipt and verify the entries therein by inspection of the goods.

An importer, who is called upon for his receipt under this rule, shall produce it and permit the inspector to inspect his goods. If he finds the receipt correct, the inspector shall endorse his name on the back of the receipt, which he shall return with the coupon to the importer. He shall not retain the coupon for comparison at the barrier in these cases, as it will be checked at the Head octroi office and kept there under clause (2).

If the inspector finds that the goods have not been adequately assessed, he is authorized to take the importer and his goods to the head octroi office, where he shall immediately report the facts of the case. The importer shall accompany the inspector to the head octroi office when called upon to do so under this rule.

Explanation.—The words "head octroi office" in clauses (2) and (3) of this rule do not include a branch octroi office, where such is established (vide rule 30); and the words "octroi superintendent" in clause (2) do not include assistant octroi superintendent.

GOODS IMPORTED BY RAILWAY.

52. There shall be a barrier (or barriers) near the railway premises.

When there is a railway agency within the octroi limits of a cantonment this agency shall be deemed to be railway premises for the purposes of these rules.

Explanation.—Goods brought into a railway agency office from outside the octroi limits of a cantonment by road shall be passed from the barrier to the agency office under the transit pass system (rules 93 to 98) published in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910 and treated, in all other respects, as if they had been brought into the agency by rail. This rule applies also carrying agencies other than railway agencies.

53. (1) When imported by railway, fresh fruit., pan and vegetables, and goods on which the octroi does not exceed Rs. 2 shall be dealt with at the railway barrier in accordance with the rules laid down for observance at outpost barriers, and the registration of the railway receipts shall not be required.

(2) In the case of large cantonments, where an adequately paid staff is employed at the railway barrier, goods other than those specified in the preceding clause may, with the previous sanction of the Officer Commanding the Division, be dealt with in accordance with the rules laid down for observance at an outpost barrier, but the registration of the railway receipt and invoice or declaration shall in such cases be made at the barrier and checked in a manner similar to that prescribed for the head octroi (rule 54 below and rule 55 in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910).

(3) Goods other than those specified in the two preceding clauses shall be assessed at the head octroi office in accordance with the following rules.

54. When an importer receives the railway receipt of goods consigned to him by railway, he shall take or send it with the invoice, or in the absence of the latter, with a written declaration of the details of the consignment, to the head octroi office, where if the goods are found to be liable to the payment of octroi, the receipt and the invoice or declaration shall be abstracted into a railway receipt and invoice register, to be kept up in form 7. The date shall be written across the page of the register before each day's entries are begun. The railway receipt and the invoice shall be stamped with a cantonment stamp, and returned to the importer, to enable him to obtain his goods from the railway. The declaration shall be stamped and filed.

56. The registration of the consignment having been completed as laid down in rule 54, the octroi superintendent shall determine the octroi leviable and note it on a memorandum, which he shall send to the central barrier. The importer shall pay the octroi at the central barrier, the muharrir checking the calculations of the memorandum. On receipt of the octroi the muharrir shall grant a pass to the importer in form 8, leaving the coupon and the third foil blank.

The jinswar shall be prepared in the usual manner, and sent with the counterfoils to the head octroi office with the cash-book.

Explanation.—The words "head octroi office" in this rule do not include a branch octroi office, where such is established,—vide rule 30.

57. On the arrival of the goods at the railway barrier, the importer shall present the pass obtained under the previous rule, and the muharrir shall, after satisfying himself that the goods agre with details entered in the pass, fil up the third foil of the pass, tear it off, and retain it, to be sent to the head octroi office at the end of the day. He shall hand back the second foil, with the blank coupon attached, to the importer.

58. If a consignment, which should have been registered at the head octroi office, arrives at the railway barrier without a pass in form 8, the muharrir shall send the importer with his goods, accompanied by a peon and a memorandum (of which he shall keep a copy), to the head octroi office. The octroi superintendent shall deal with the case as if it were a dispute under Rule 40.

60. An inspector, meeting a consignment which has passed the railway barrier, is authorized to demand the importer's pass, and verify the entries therein by inspection of the consignment. An importer, who is called upon for his pass under this rule shall produce it and permit the inspector to inspect his goods. The Inspector shall see that the third foil has been torn off and, if he finds the pass correct, he shall fill up the columns in the coupon, which he will tear from the foil and keep for comparison with the third foil at the barrier. He shall then endorse his name on the back of the pass and return it to the importer. If the inspector has reason to believe that the full amount of octroi has not been paid on the goods, he is authorised to take the importer to the head octroi office, where he shall immediately report the facts of the case. The importer shall accompany the inspector to the Head octroi office when called upon to do so under this rule.

When the inspector arrives at the barrier he shall verify the coupons he has collected with the foils at the barrier, and initial each foil in token of his having made the check. He shall then drop the coupons in the cash-box, for the information of the head octroi office when the cash-boxes are sent in.

Explanation.—The words "head ocroi office" do not include a branch octroi office where such is established;—vide rule 30.

The committee may at any time by a similiar resolution, for reasonable cause, withdraw the permission to compound, after due notice has been given to the persons or traders affected thereby.

67. The cantonment authority may by resolution or order permit private persons or traders to compound for octroi, but where there is a cantonment committee, each composition shall be subject to the previous approval of the President. Such resolution or order, however, shall only be passed in favour of well known persons or traders who, in the opinion of the cantonment authority, may be trusted not to abuse the concession, and it shall state specifically the persons or traders in respect of whom permission to compound for the tax is granted. The period for which permission to compound is granted shall not, except for special reasons and with the sanction of the Officer Cummmanding the Division, exceed one year.

CANTONMENT AUTHORITY.

68. The cantonment authority shall maintain a list, in form 13, of all persons, whether traders or individuals, allowed to compound for the payment of octroi. A second part of the list shall be kept for persons who are permitted to compound on the basis of their net imports. This list shall be kept corrected up to date; and a copy of the list, signed by such person as the cantonment authority may authorise in this behalf, shall be kept in bi-lingual form at each barrier.

69. (i) To persons who compound for octroi, books of free passes in counterfoil shall be given in form 14. When such a person wishes to bring his goods within the octroi limits of the cantonment, he shall fill up a pass and send it to the barrier.

(ii) On receipt of the pass the barrier muharrir shall see that the person who has signed it is named on his list; and if so, he shall, after satisfying himself that the goods agree with the details entered in the pass, fill up the certificate at the foot thereof as well as the coupon. He shall then tear off the coupon, deliver it to the person who presents the pass, and admit the goods named in the pass.

(iii) He shall send the passes with his cash-box to the head octroi office, where they shall be examined to see that the certificate covers the details of the pass; and they shall then be filed separately under the name of each compounder. These passes shall form the basis of composition when the terms are next revised by the cantonment authority.

70. (i) To persons who are permitted to compound on the basis of their net imports, a book of export passes shall be given in form 15. When such a person wishes to export his goods from the octroi limits on the cantonment, he shall fill up a pass and send it with his goods to the barrier of export.

(ii) On receipt of the pass the barrier muharrir shall see that the person who has signed it is named on the second part of his list; and if so, he shall, after satisfying himself that the goods exported agree with the details entered in the pass, fill up the certificate at the foot thereof as well as the coupon. He shall then tear off the coupon and deliver it to the person who presents the pass.

(iii) He shall send the passes with his cash-box to the head octroi office, where they shall be examined to see that the certificate covers the details of the pass, and shall then be filed separately under the name of each compounder.

71. In the cases provided for in rule 70 the composition shall be based on the total amount of the imports as shown by the import passes (Form 14) prescribed in rule 69, less the total amount of exports as shown by the passes in form 15 prescribed in rule 70. Exports not supported by a pass in form 15 shall not be taken into account in fixing the composition.

72. Payments by persons who compound shall be made strictly in advance; and at the expiry of his period of composition, the name of the person compounding shall be immediately struck off the list (form 13) unless the payment for the following period has been previously made.

TRADE WAREHOUSE (TAJARAT GANJ).

109. The cantonment authority may maintain a general trade warehouse. The warehouse shall contain rooms which may be rented by the owners of the goods deposited as well as accommodation for carts and cattle.

110. The warehouse shall be available, primarily, as a wholesale trade convenience, to any importer who, at import, declares his goods as intended for temporary detention within the octroi limits and eventual export (vide rule 37 (3)).

111. The importer may either—

(a) keep his goods in a separate room, if available; or

(b) retain them in the common room of the warehouse.

In the former case he shall be liable to pay rent, if so required by the cantonment authority, for the whole period of occupation. In the latter case he shall be allowed the accommodation free for the first three days, and after that period he shall pay a rent, if so required by the cantonment authority.

112. A table of the rents, if any, fixed by the cantonment authority for accommodation in the warehouse shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in the warehouse.

113. At the gate of the warehouse there shall be a barrier, the procedure at which shall be governed by the rules already prescribed for outpost barriers. The inspectors shall visit it and inspect goods coming in and going out, in the same manner as they do in the case of other barriers.

114. When goods are to be taken to the warehouse under rule 110 or rule 128 (1), a transit pass (form 18 in Government of India notification No. dated) shall, unless the transit refund system is adopted, be issued to the importer at the barrier of import exactly in the same manner as if his goods were going to pass out of the town at another barrier, the name of the warehouse being written in the column "Barrier from which to be exported" in the form. The muharrir at the warehouse barrier shall receive the foils, and observe exactly the same procedure as has been laid down above for an export barrier under the system adopted.

115. Goods taken out of the warehouse for bonâ fide export from the octroi limits of the cantonment shall pass out of the warehouse free.

Goods taken into the cantonment shall be assessed at the barrier gate of the warehouse, where the octroi shall be paid if it does not exceed the limit fixed under Rule 41; otherwise the procedure laid down in rule 51 shall be observed.

116. When a trader wishes to take his goods or any part of them out of the warehouse, he shall bring them to the warehouse barrier, where he shall declare to the muharrir whether he wishes to export them from the octroi limits of the cantonment or to take them into the cantonment.

117. When the goods are to be exported from the octroi limits, the muharrir shall, unless the transit refund system is adopted, fill up a transit pass in form 18 in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910; and the trader, having received his pass, shall take his goods to the barrier of export, where the ordinary procedure shall be observed.

118. When the goods are to be taken into the cantonment, the muharrir shall assess them and fill up a receipt, with its counterfoil, in form 4, collect the octroi if it does not exceed the limit fixed under rule 41, and allow the goods to pass out.

The octroi shall be classified in the jinswar (form 6 in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910) in the same manner as is done at an ordinary barrier.

120. Traders may occupy the warehouse as a convenience for conducting daily business in the cantonment. Such traders shall be allowed, from day to day, to remove portions of their goods from the warehouse free, and to bring back what they have not disposed of, the octroi payable by them being levied on their actual sales in accordance with rules 121 to 123 in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910.

126. In the case of large mills to which the cantonment authority consider that the concession may safely be granted, a warehouse barrier may be set up on the mill premises, on the condition that it is in a position to control all entries into and exits from the mill. In these cases the accounts of the barrier shall be kept strictly in the same form as those of the ordinary trade warehouse, and the mills shall provide proper accommodation, and pay to the cantonment an annual sum equivalent to the whole cost of maintenance. This barrier shall be in charge of a muharrir belonging to the cantonment staff, and both he and all his accounts shall be entirely under the control of the cantonment authority.

127. Cantonment authorities which grant these concessions shall send a list annually to the Officer Commanding the Division on the 1st of January for approval.

128. In the trade warehouse accommodation shall also be provided for the following purposes, apart from those prescribed in the foregoing rules :—

(i) Importers of goods, who are unable or unwilling to pay at the import barrier, shall take their goods, under supervision, to the warehouse, there to be detained till the octroi is paid, or until the goods are released for immediate removal from the octroi limits of the cantonment.

(ii) If there is reason to believe that any person, including ordinary travellers, whose bonâ fide baggage is exempt under rule 26 (14) and the rules published in Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910, is evading the payment of octroi upon any goods which are being brought into the octroi limits, such goods may be detained and a report submitted without delay to the cantonment authority. If it is then decided that octroi is payable upon such goods, and the person bringing them into the cantonment does not forthwith pay the amount declared to be due, the goods shall be sent to the warehouse until the case is disposed of.

EXTRAORDINARY PASSES.

129. If any person desires to take out goods from the octroi limits of the cantonment and then to bring them in again without getting a refund on export and paying octroi on import on the said goods, he shall apply to the octroi superintendent for a free pass. The pass, if given, shall be in form 21.

Explanation.—The functions of the octroi superintendent in this rule may be imposed by the cantonment authority on another official not below the rank of octroi superintendent. In cantonments, where a branch octroi office is established, the words "octroi superintendent" include the assistant octroi superintendent (vide rule 30).

130. The goods shall, as far as possible, be sent to the barrier of export under the supervision of a peon, and shall be presented there within such interval from the time of issue of the pass as the cantonment authority may prescribe, having due regard to the distance from the head octroi office to the outpost barrier.

131. On arrival at the barrier of exit of goods covered by a pass in form 21, the muharrir shall verify them with the pass and, after signing the certificate on the exit coupon, return the pass to the exporter, and send the coupon to the head octroi office, where it shall be pasted on to the original counterfoil.

Explanation.—The words "head octori office" in this rule include a branch octroi office where such is established (vide rule 30).

132. When the exporter returns to the cantonment with his goods, the barrier muharrir shall demand the pass, see that the articles imported are covered by it, and if so, allow them to proceed. He shall then return the pass to the importer after endorsing the return of the goods on the reverse and filling up the entrance coupon, which he shall tear off and send to the head octroi office, to be pasted on to the counterfoil with the first coupon.

Explanation.—The words "head octroi office" in this rule include a branch octroi office where such is established (vide rule 30).

133. When octroi is collected at the outpost barriers on cattle, a pass for cattle, which go beyond the octroi limits of the cantonment for grazing, shall be used in form 22; but this form is intended for daily use, for a month or more, if necessary. The pass shall be printed on stout paper, and shall be kept in the possession of the person who grazes the cattle. When the cattle go out each morning, the muharrir at the barrier shall fill up the first three columns, and when they return, the pass shall be again presented for his signature in column 4, which he shall give after counting the cattle and seeing the number agrees with those taken out in the morning.

134. The inspector shall from time to time demand these passes, forms 21 and 22, and check the items with the goods, initialling and dating the pass in token of his having done so.

TOLL BARS AND RATES.

135. The cantonment authority shall place a toll-bar, with such establishment as it may deem necessary, at each point where the collection of a toll has been sanctioned. The cantonment authority shall provide a double set of books and two cash-boxes at each bar, so that if one set is sent to the cantonment officer (vide rule 139 of the rules published with Government of India notification No. 755, dated 2nd September 1910), the other shall be available for use.

Explanation.—These rules shall not apply when the collection of the tolls is farmed.

136. A table of toll rates, printed in English and Vernacular, shall be posted up at each toll-bar. The table shall show definitely—

(a) the vehicles or animals on which,

(b) the rates at which, and

the toll is leviable; and no person shall pass the toll-bar with any vehicles or animals mentioned in the table without paying the appropriate toll thereon.

137. The tax shall be collected by means of tickets in form 23. The person who pays the toll shall receive a ticket with coupon attached, to enable him to pass the bar. The progressive totals of the tolls received shall be kept in each page of the book of tickets in the place provided at the foot as the pages are completed. The totals shall be taken at once and not put off till the end of the day. At the end of the day the progressive total of the money received for the day shall be taken up to the last counterfoil used and shall be entered thereon.

The inspector visiting a toll-bar shall see that these totals are taken regularly as directed in this rule, and shall initial the pages which he checks.

138. (i) The cantonment authority shall appoint inspectors or other responsible officer or officers to supervise the working of toll-bars. An inspector meeting a person coming from the toll-bar is authorized to demand his ticket, examine it, and tear off the coupon for check at the bar. A person who is called upon for his ticket under this rule shall produce it and allow the inspector to take the coupon.

(ii) Having checked the calculations of the toll and seen that all the items in the ticket are correct, the inspector shall fill up the columns in the coupon, which he shall tear from the receipt and keep for comparison with the counterfoil at the toll-bar. He shall then endorse his name on the back of the ticket and return it to the toll-payer.

(iii) When he arrives at the toll-bar, he shall verify the coupons he has collected with the counterfoil and initial each counterfoil in token of his having made the check. He shall then drop the coupons in the cash-box, for the information of the cantonment office when the cash-boxes are sent in.

140. The above procedure shall apply, so far as may be, to the collection of ferry tolls and visitors' fees at fairs and generally to any tolls imposed otherwise than under section 15 of the Cantonments Act.

TAX ON HOUSES, BUILDINGS AND LANDS.

141. In cantonments to which section 56 of the Punjab Municipal Act has been extended, the assessment list required under that section shall be in form 24. A reference shall be made in column 7 of this register to the file relating to any objection that may be made to the assessment.

142. The cantonment authority shall appoint one or more inspectors, whose duty it shall be to see that every person who is liable to the payment of the tax has been assessed, and to report at once to the cantonment authority all cases in which such persons have escaped the tax or are, to the knowledge of the inspectors, under-assessed. These inspectors may be specially appointed in this behalf, or the duties of the office may be imposed on any officer already otherwise employed under the cantonment authority.

Each tax inspector appointed in compliance with this rule shall submit quarterly statements in form 24, showing for his circles all cases in which new erections, or re-erections of houses, as defined in section 89 of the Cantonment Code, 1899, have been made. These statements shall be compared with the assessment list kept at the cantonment office (form 24); and before the statements are submitted for such comparison, the inspector shall be required to certify on them : "No new buildings are under construction in circle No. , nor are any additions or alterations being made to existing buildings, except as noted in the statement."

If, when a statement becomes due, it is found that it will be blank, the following certificate may be accepted and filed in place of the statement:—

> "During the quarter ending no construction of new buildings has been completed in circle No. , nor have any additions or alterations been made and completed to existing buildings. No buildings are now under construction in circle No. , nor are any additions or alterations being made to existing buildings."

148. The tax-collector shall present the bills to the tax-payers for payment. On receipt of the money from the tax-payer, the tax-collector shall make an entry of the payment in a collection chálán in form 28, and, after entering the date of payment in the bill, he shall sign the bill and its counterfoil, and hand the signed bill over as a receipt to the person who makes the payment. The bill shall not be a valid receipt for any tax until it has been signed by the tax-collector.

COLLECTION BY DIRECT PAYMENT AT THE CANTONMENT OFFICE.

157. Report of Committee appointed to consider the future Plague Administration in the Punjab, 1910.

RESOLUTION.—At an expenditure from Provincial and Local Funds of over seven lakhs of rupees a year during the past three years, in the opinion of a Committee consisting of plague experts and District officers of experience all that we have learned or proved as regards plague is that no remedy has been found for the disease; that the people generally will not go to the plague doctors to be treated when suffering from plague; that disinfection of houses by chemicals or even by heat as a means for checking or preventing an epidemic is useless; that rat destruction by poison or trapping is almost equally useless; and that inoculation, though a splendid means of individual protection, cannot be used to check an epidemic owing to popular prejudice. Disinfection of houses by sunlight and air is approved, and disinfection of persons and wearing apparel is considered useful to prevent importation. Villages and towns are advised to resort more freely to quarantine of persons from infected areas so far as quarantine is admissible under the rules. Evacuation of villages is held to be the only practicable measure of plague prevention on a large scale. Improved sanitation is recommended, though it is recognized that any advance can only be very gradual and that public opinion should be followed and not led. The plague staff is held to have justified its existence mainly on account of the services that it has been able to render in this respect, though the general medical relief which it has afforded and the sense of comfort and support by Government which the presence of these medical men in their midst gives to the people have been useful. Such are the findings of the Committee after a careful review of all the facts and after recording the evidence of many leading men who ought to be familiar with the subject.

It is unfortunate that it has not been possible to learn more during all the years that have elapsed since 1896-97, when the main measures adopted in the Punjab were evacuation, a modified quarantine control over infected tracts, and disinfection by light and air, as at present recommended by the Committee.

2. As things stand, and until some more satisfactory preventive and curative measures are evolved by the scientists and approved by the people, it appears necessary to keep on a field establishment of plague doctors in the hope that the prejudice against inoculation, the only really effective personal protection during an epidemic, may disappear; that in the meantime the staff may be able to encourage general sanitation on the part of the people, to win their confidence and to educate public opinion; and that by the continued examination of the disease it may be possible to evolve or discover some effective measures for stamping it out. In view, however, of the conclusions which have been arrived at and the measures which are proposed for adoption in future it seems probable that the cost of the operations can be largely decreased and that it may be possible to reduce the cost of establishment by relying more largely on Assistant Surgeons and Hospital Assistants working, as the Committee propose, under the Civil Surgeons as Chief Plague and Sanitary Officers in the districts. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals should accordingly examine the question and report what staff is really required for the future on the assumption that, as proposed by the Committee, general rat destruction and disinfection are abandoned.

3. The question of rat destruction has been exhaustively dealt with by the Committee, and the conclusion which has been arrived at that a campaign of general destruction must be abandoned as being a measure which is very costly and which experience shows to be of no proved practical efficacy must, in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor, be accepted. In future therefore efforts on rat destruction should generally be concentrated on the circumscribed areas where plague persists during the quiescent period in the hot weather, as these localities form foci for the distribution of the disease when, as the season advances, conditions become more favourable for its spreading. Such a policy appears to give the greatest hope of success, as the area of operations is circumscribed.

4. Every effort must be made to stimulate and educate public opinion with a view to ameliorating hygenic and sanitary conditions. The importance of evacuation as a means of stopping an outbreak has already been referred to. It is a measure the benefit of which the people themselves, as a rule, recognize, and every encouragement should be given to villages to practise it at the first sign of the commencement of rat mortality. His Honour agrees with the Committee as to the difficulties attending the supply by Government of hutting material, tents, &c. Experience shows that the people themselves do not readily avail themselves of these aids, but help should be given by grants of money when required and interest stimulated by rewards, and above all the rules which already exist regarding the employment of extra chaukidars who may be required to guard the evacuated site should be made widely known (vide paragraph 5 of chapter 16 of the Plague Manual).

5. The question of the prevention of the introduction of infection into plague free areas is of the utmost importance. In the case of villages considerable powers have already been conferred by Government on the communities residing in them, but, as pointed out by the Committee, there is reason to believe that the people are often ignorant of the powers which they possess. His Honour therefore agrees that these powers, which are laid down in chapter 13 of the Plague Manual, should be widely proclaimed throughout infected tracts annually at the commencement of the plague season. In this connection the changes recommended to be made in paragraphs 7 (1) and 8 of chapter 13 of the Plague Manual are approved, namely, that the period of detention should be reduced from ten days to five and that for the words "thoroughly disinfected in some manner" should be substituted "thoroughly exposed to the sun for six hours or washed in hot water to which a suitable disinfectant has been added." At the same time, and in order to facilitate action under chapter 13 of the Plague Manual, villages should be encouraged to erect guest-houses and temporary shelters outside the village site in which travellers coming from infected areas could be required to rest until the period of detention has expired and while their clothes and baggage are being disinfected. The question of the extension of these provisions to towns is a more difficult matter and requires further examination.

6. The attention of Commissioners is drawn to the powers which they possess of prohibiting fairs in infected tracts. In view of the danger of such meetings forming centres for the wide distribution of plague, His Honour agrees that these powers may be more freely exercised.

7. The recommendations of the Committee on the subject of rewards for plague services are contained in paragraphs 49 and 58 of the report and commend themselves to the Lieutenant-Governor. It is presumed that the amount at present provided for rewards is generally sufficient, but the recommendations now accepted will serve to show the principles which should be followed in awarding them. As special efforts will now be made for stamping out the disease during the hot weather, when it is generally quiescent, it becomes a matter of prime importance to get prompt and accurate information of the occurrence of rat mortality or human plague between the 1st July and 1st October, and the furnishing of such information should be encouraged by prompt rewards where necessary.

8. His Honour regrets to notice that the orders regarding the enlistment of lay agency have not been complied with in all districts (vide paragraph 50 of the Committee's report). The training of the leaders of the people themselves and the enlistment of their active co-operation and support is a most important part in our anti-plague propaganda, and accordingly the attention of all District officers is particularly drawn to the provisions of chapter 5 of the Plague Manual and to the valuable remarks made by the Committee in paragraphs 50-52 of their report. The suggestion that honorary plague officers should be given a sanad of appointment by the Deputy Commissioner is approved and should be adopted.

9. There are some of the recommendations made by the Committee which require further examination, and orders on them will be issued hereafter; but in view of the near approach of the plague season and the important development in policy resulting from the Committee's deliberations which is now proposed, His Honour considers that the general orders given above should issue at once.

Sir Louis Dane desires to place on record his appreciation of the work done by the Committee and to thank them for their interesting, exhaustive and workmanlike report.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing resolution, together with a copy of the Committee's report, be forwarded to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners in the Punjab, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Sanitary Commissioner and all Civil Surgeons and officers on plague duty in the Punjab for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that the resolution be published in the Punjab Gazette (English and Urdu editions), and be communicated to the Government of India, Home Department.

Such loppings shall in no case be taken higher than two-thirds of the total height of the trees lopped. But no tree shall be lopped which is less than 16 feet high.

2. Grass may be cut, stacked or removed at any time during the year for the personal use of the right-holders.

3. Fallen dry wood and brushwood may be cut and removed by right-holders at any time; but no "reserved" trees, however young, may be cut except as provided in rules 4 and 5.

4. Standing trees and wood of any kind, except Deodar, Pinus excelsa (biar) and Pinus longifolia (chir), may be taken by any right-holder, as required for his own agricultural implements, free of charge. No license need be applied for, but information must be given to the village headman before or within 24 hours of felling a tree. The headman shall within 24 hours of receiving the information report to the nearest forest officer.

Should the Divisional Forest Officer consider that in any forest any species is being felled in such a manner as to endanger either the continuous exercise of the right or the continued existence of any species in any part of the forest, he may, with the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, restrict the number of trees of that species to be felled in the forest in question and direct that licenses shall be obtained for felling any trees belonging to it.

Chir trees may be taken free of charge for agricultural implements under the licenses provided for in rules 6 to 10 inclusive.

5. Standing trees and wood of any kind except Deodar and Pinus excelsa (biar) may be taken by all persons free of charge and without license, for graves and for the cremation of dead bodies. 9. In all cases in which the Forest Ranger refuses to grant a license to the applicant a further application may be made to the Divisional Forest Officer or to the Deputy Commissioner.

The license shall not ordinarily give leave to fell more than 3 chir trees (or where chir trees are not available, biar trees) with a proportionate quantity of small timber, nor be granted to any one right-holder except in the case of trees required for agricultural implements oftener than once in five years.

(ii) Licenses shall ordinarily be granted to a right-holder in the forest in which he has rights.

(iii) Except in the case of chir trees required for agricultural implements applications for license to cut a larger number of trees or for the grant of trees at shorter intervals than five years, or in a forest other than that in which the applicant has rights, shall be referred to the Divisional Forest Officer, who will pass such orders on each case as will suffice to meet the reasonable requirements and convenience of the applicant as defined in the first sentence of clause 1 of this rule.

C.—Granting of licenses to fell and remove timber and forest produce for trade.

13. The granting of licenses to fell and remove trees, timber and other forest produce for trade, the production and return of such licenses, the payments to be made in respect thereof, the place where such payment shall be made and the examination of produce covered by such licenses before it leaves the forest, shall be at the discretion of the Divisional Forest Officer acting under the control of the Deputy Commissioner. Annexure A.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ENUMERATORS.

I.—RULES FOR FILLING UP THE SCHEDULE.

[You must use black ink only and write very clearly.]

Column 1 (House Number).—Enter the number of the house. If it is empty, write "empty" after the number and leave one line blank. If you find a house without a number, you will report to the Supervisor for orders.

Column 2 (Serial number).—This column is not to be filled up until after the final enumeration. You will then enter a serial number for all persons enumerated.

Column 3 (Name).—Enter first the chief resident member of the family, whether male or female, then the other members of the family and their resident servants, if any. If there be any objection made to giving the name of a female, write the word 'female' (adding her relationship to some member of the family) and fill up the rest of the columns for her as usual. If an infant has not yet been named, enter the word 'infant.' If any female is unwilling to give her own or her husband's name you must ask some one else for the information. When you have entered all the persons in a house, you will leave one space blank before making the entries for the next house.

Column 4 (a) (Religion).—Enter here the religion which each person returns, as Hindu, Musalman, Sikh, Jain, Christian, Parsi.

Column 4 (b) (Sect of Religion)—Enter the sect of religion followed by each person, as he returns it.

Column 5 (Male or female).—Enter whether male or female, even though you have written the word 'female' in column 3 already.

Column 6 (Married, etc.)—Enter each person, whether infant, child or grown up, as either married, unmarried, or widowed. Divorced persons should be entered as widowed.

Column 7 (Age).—Enter the number of years each person has completed. For infants less than one year old, enter the word 'infant.'

Column 8 (Caste).—Enter the caste and sub-caste or tribe and clan of Hindus, Musalmans, Jains, Sikhs, Aryas, Brahmos and aboriginal tribes, and the race of Christians, Budhists, Parsis, etc.

Column 9 (Principal occupation of actual workers).—Enter the principal means of livelihood of all persons who actually do work or carry on business, whether personally or by means of servants, or who live on house-rent, pension, etc. Enter the exact occupation and avoid vague terms such as 'service' or 'writing' or 'labour'. For example in the case of labour, say whether in the fields, or in a coal mine, or jute factory, or cotton mill or lac factory, or earthwork, etc. In the case of agriculture distinguish between persons who receive rent and those who pay rent, i. e., between Malik and Muzareh. If a person makes the articles he sells he should be entered as 'maker and seller' of them. Women and children who work at any occupation which helps to augment the family income must be entered in column 9 under that occupation and not in column 11. Column 9 will be blank for dependants.

Column 10 (Subsidiary occupation of actual workers).—Enter here any occupation which actual workers pursue at any time of the year in addition to their principal occupation. Thus if a person lives principally by his earnings as a boatman, but partly also by fishing, the word 'boatman' will be entered in column 9 and 'fisherman' in column 10. If an actual worker has no additional occupation, enter in column 10 the word 'none'. This column will be blank for dependants.

Column 11 (Means of subsistence of dependants).—For children and women and old or infirm persons who do not work, either personally or by means of servants, enter the principal occupation of the person who supports them. This column will be blank for actual workers.

Column 12 (Birth district).—Enter the district or State in which each person was born, and if the person was not born in your province, add the name of the province to the district of birth. If the person was born out of India, enter the country, as Nepal, Afghánistán, Ceylon. The names of villages, tahsils, etc., are not to be given.

Column 13 (Language)—Enter the language which each person ordinarily uses in his own home. In the case of infants and deaf-mutes the language of the mother should be entered.

Column 14 (Literate or illiterate).—Enter against all persons who can both read and write any language, i. e., are literate, the name of the language generally used and add within brackets the script most commonly employed by each in writing. Against persons who cannot read and write any language make a cross in this column.

Column 15 (English)—Enter the word 'English' against all persons shown as literate who can both read and write English. The column will be blank for those who cannot.

Column 16 (Infirmities).—If any person be blind of both eyes, or insane, or suffering from corrosive leprosy, or deaf and dumb from birth, enter the name of the infirmity in this column.

Do not enter those who are blind of one eye only, or who are suffering from white leprosy only, or who have become deaf and dumb after birth.

II.—PROCEDURE.

A.—The first round—(Preliminary Enumeration).

1. Beginning from the 1st* of February 1911, you will visit every house in your block to which a separate number has been affixed, in the order in which the houses are entered in your block list, and fill up the columns in the schedule for all persons who ordinarily live in or take their meals from the house. Even if they are temporarily absent such persons should be entered, if they will be back by the 10th March. Visitors should not be entered if they will have left before that date.

* In towns and cities the preliminary enumeration will begin on 15th February.

2. You must carefully study the instructions given above for filling in the columns of the schedule and also the specimen schedule on the cover of this book which contains a number of entries illustrating the rules. You should consult your supervisor whenever you are in doubt as to the proper entry.

3. If directed to do so by your supervisor, you will make a rough draft on plain paper, and you will not copy it in your book until it has been passed by him.

4. If the entry for any person in any of the columns of the schedule be the same as that for the person entered on the line above, you must repeat the entry. You must not write the word ' ditto" or make dots.

5. You must have completed all the entries in your block by the 15th* of February 1911.

B.—The second round—(Final Enumeration).

6. On the evening of the 10th March, at the time of lighting lamps, you will take this book as already filled in and again visit every house in your block in order. Before you start on your round, you must see that you are yourself enumerated in the house where you are stopping.

7. You must summon the chief member of each family and read over to him one by one the names of the members of his household entered in the schedule, asking him, as you read each name, whether the person is present in the house or not. You must also ask him particularly whether any fresh persons have come or any child has been born. You must strike out the entries for persons who are not present, and fill up the form for any person now in the house who was not there when the first visit was made, such as guests, infants newly born, and others. You are to consider as present all persons living in or taking their meals from the house, even though any of them may be out fishing or watching in the fields or the like.

8. The fresh entries mentioned in the last rule must be made on the blank pages at the end of your book. In each case you will enter the number of the house to which the fresh entries relate, writing under it the word 'continued'.

9. You must make no alteration whatever in any entry against the name of any person unless you have to strike out the entries altogether, because he or she is no longer present. When you strike out a person, you must draw a line completely through all the entries following that person's name, and not merely through column 3.

10. Whilst going on the second round, you must visit every house marked "empty" in your book, to see whether any person is then living there.

11. You must also go to the dharmsalas, serais, encampments and landing places, where travellers rest for the night, and enter all particulars in the schedules for the wayfarers, boatmen, pilgrims, and others you may find there, and strike out the entries already made against persons who are not then present. You should ascertain from the village watchman whether any members of a wandering tribe have come to your block. If so, you must go and enumerate them in the manner prescribed above.

12. If any house-holder in your block has been given a separate schedule, you must collect it on the morning of the 11th March and, after seeing that columns have been duly filled in according to the rules, you must stitch it into your book, next to the last schedule filled up by you.

13. You will then (on the morning of the 11th March) go without any delay to the place appointed by your supervisor, and after your book has been inspected by him, you will enter in the abstract printed on the inside of the cover, the number of houses and persons, male and female, in your block.

14. According to the Census Act, every person is legally bound to furnish you with such information as is necessary for filling up the schedule, but you are forbidden to ask for any information not required for the purposes of the Census, as, for instance, the amount of any person's income. Any Enumerator extorting money on any pretext connected with the Census renders himself liable to punishment under the Census Act or the Penal Code.

* In towns and cities by the 5th of March.

The 7th October 1910.

No. 752.—Notification.—The following correspondence received from the Government of India in the Home Department is published for general information :—

No. 1811, dated Simla, 3rd October 1910.

From—P. W. MONIE, Esquire, Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,
To—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

IN continuation of the Home Department letter Nos. 926—940, dated the 17th May 1910, I am directed to forward, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a letter from the Government of Bombay, No. 4411, dated the 14th September 1910, requesting that the other Local Governments and Administrations may be asked to notify that the "tika" performed on outgoing pilgrims in Bombay under the supervision of the Commissioner of Police is vaccination to prevent small-pox and not inoculation against plague, that special arrangements have been made for vaccinating the pilgrims at musafirkhanas by male and female vaccinators, and that the vaccination of strict pardanashin female pilgrims is carried out under suitable arrangements at the residence of the Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay.

2. I am to request that, with the permission of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, orders may be issued promptly to give effect to the suggestions made by the Government of Bombay.

No. 4411, dated Bombay Castle, 14th September 1910.

From—L. ROBERTSON, Esquire, I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bombay, General Department,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

WITH reference to Home Department endorsement No. 942, dated the 19th May 1910, I am directed to state that the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, has brought to notice that owing to the Hindustani word tika being used both for vaccination and plague inoculation, some pilgrims are under the impression that the measures adopted in Bombay to protect them from small-pox relate to plague inoculation. As the last-mentioned preventive is unfortunately unpopular among the natives of India, the misunderstanding which has arisen if not immediately removed may prejudice the work of vaccination of outgoing pilgrims, and hamper the efforts now being made to persuade them to accept vaccination willingly. I am, therefore, to request that Local Governments and Administrations may be requested to issue notifications to the effect that the 'tika' performed under the supervision of the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, is vaccination to prevent small-pox and not inoculation against plague.

2. I am also to suggest that it may be stated in the notice to pilgrims that in Bombay City special arrangements have been made for the attendance of male and female vaccinators at musafirkhanas four days previous to the sailing of every pilgrim ship; and that the vaccination of strict pardanashin female pilgrims is carried out under suitable arrangements at the residence of the Protector of Pilgrims, Bombay.

FOREIGN OFFICE,
July 20, 1910.

SIR,

WITH reference to your letter R. & S. 1336, I am directed by Secretary Sir Edward Grey to transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Secretary of State for India in Council, the draft of a note which it is proposed to address to the Turkish Embassy in reply to their note of the 7th ultimo, a copy of which was sent you on the 14th ultimo.

I am, etc.,

Draft

Turkish Embassy.

HIS MAJESTY'S SECRETARY OF STATE FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS has consulted with the Departments concerned regarding the memorandum from the Turkish Embassy of the 7th ultimo, regarding the preservation of health at the time of pilgrimages to Mecca.

HIS Majesty's Government would be prepared to consider favourably a new tax of ten piastres a head to be levied upon pilgrims provided that a scheme were drawn up to which they could assent for the proper administration of the proceeds of the tax.

R. & S. 1647.

4th August 1910.

SIR,

IN reply to Mr. Langley's letter of the 20th July, No. 24614, I am directed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to say that he concurs in the terms of the note enclosed therewith, which it is proposed to address to the Turkish Embassy with reference to the proposed new tax of 10 piastres a head on pilgrims.

I am to remark that the copy of the Turkish note forwarded to this office is dated the 6th, and not the 7th, June.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your obedient Servant,

R. RITCHIE.

The Under-Secretary of State,
Foreign Office.

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,
19th August 1910.

Revenue,
No. 52.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

Proposal to raise subscriptions from Indian Mussulmans for establishing a hospital for pilgrims at Jeddah.

No. 2283, dated 11th July 1910, with enclosures.

WITH reference to my despatch No. 43 (Revenue), of the 24th June last, and to my Revenue Secretary's letter R. & S. 1336, of the 8th July, I forward, for the consideration of Your Excellency's Government, a copy of a letter from the Foreign Office, enclosing a despatch from His Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople in which His Excellency urges the desirability of establishing a hospital for pilgrims at Jeddah independently of the Turkish proposals for sanitary reform, and suggest that subscriptions should be raised from Indian Mussulmans for the purpose.

2. I shall be glad to receive any observations Your Excellency's Government may wish to make on this suggestion.

No. 25561, dated 22nd July 1910, with enclosures.

3. I also enclose, for your consideration in this connection, a copy of a further letter from the Foreign Office, forwarding Dr. Clemow's observations on Sir G. Lowther's suggestion. Your Excellency's Government will have learnt from Sir E. Grey's despatch No. 59, of the 30th May (enclosed in my despatch No. 43 (Revenue), of the 24th June), and from the correspondence forwarded with my Revenue Secretary's letter, R. & S. 1647, of the 5th August 1910, that His Majesty's Government have accepted the proposal for a new Turkish tax of ten piastres a head on pilgrims, provided satisfactory guarantees are given for the proper administration of the proceeds. As at present advised, I agree with Dr. Clemow that, if Sir G. Lowther's proposal for an Indian hospital would involve, as Dr. Clemow appears to assume it would, the levy in India of a tax on pilgrims by Your Excellency's Government, the advisability of acting upon it in present circumstances would be very questionable.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

CREWE,

Secretary of State.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge receipt of your despatch No. 59 of the 30th ultimo, in which, in reply to my despatch No. 115 of 16th May, you lay down certain conditions upon which you would be ready to assent to the imposition of a further tax upon pilgrims for the sanitation of Jeddah, and I have communicated this despatch to the British delegate for the revision of the Sanitary Tariff for his guidance when the question is raised.

By granting their consent to this taxation, it is clear that His Majesty's Government will have absolved themselves from any blame, should an outbreak of infectious disease occur in that town and spread to Europe, and the onus of defectiveness of the sanitary arrangements will fall upon the shoulders of the Ottoman administration. The composition of the Commission should, as described in Dr. Clemow's despatch No. 57, be such as to inspire a hope that something effective will in fact be done, although it cannot be said that the absolute and complete neglect of so highly important a question in the past is such as to give any strong encouragement to that hope, and I must admit to grave doubts, as to whether any serious improvement will be brought about until effective European control is admitted.

Our assent will at all events relieve us of any responsibility, but I venture to submit for your consideration whether this necessarily excludes the possibility of taking any measures which are calculated to be of an actively beneficial character. In this connection I have the honour to refer you to my despatches Nos. 91 and 122 of 20th April and 25th May last, respectively, as well as to the concluding portions of Dr. Clemow's despatch No. 57 of 13th May, and of your despatch under reply. Dr. Clemow has stated that "not only are the Indian pilgrims more numerous than those of any other race, but they furnish both absolutely and relatively to their numbers more cases of serious illness and death than any others. Every year many hundreds of them die in the streets of Jeddah or the other Hedjaz towns, and I would earnestly urge that it behoves His Majesty's Government to lend a willing ear to any serious and practical proposals for doing away with this evil." I cannot too cordially endorse his conclusions, just as I am unable to dispute the terrible description of the state of affairs given by so high an authority as Dr. Clemow.

It appears to me that to absolve ourselves of responsibility towards the outside world is insufficient, and that it is incumbent on His Majesty's Government and on the Government of India to take measures for the relief of their subjects in such conditions. On these considerations I wrote to His Majesty's Consul at Jeddah to ask for his estimate of the cost of the construction and upkeep of a pilgrim hospital at Jeddah, and I have the honour now to submit to you his reply. You will see that he estimates the initial cost at a little over two thousand pounds and the annual maintenance at six hundred pounds. These figures seem to me most conservative, and it will probably be desirable to provide against a larger initial cost, and, if possible, to obtain sufficient money to provide a maintenance fund so as to diminish, as far as possible, the sums which have to be obtained from the pilgrims.

Dr. McClean, who is replacing Dr. Clemow on the Sanitary Board, gives the opinion that the scheme appears to be very desirable in the interests of Indian pilgrims quite apart from the larger question of the general sanitation of Jeddah. I suggest that it would materially contribute to the solution of this larger question. You will also notice that Mr. Monahan does not anticipate opposition from the local Turkish authorities, and I think it would not be difficult to present it in such a way here as to secure its acceptance. It would take the form of a purely Mussulman undertaking founded on subscriptions given by Mussulmans and administered by Moslem doctors—from India of course—and there would, I conceive, be no objection to the admittance of non-Indian patients on payment, and provided that there was room for them.

Finally, Mr. Monahan has anticipated the suggestion which I intended myself to make, namely, that the proposed hospital should be termed the King Edward Memorial Hospital. No denomination could tend further to promote its popularity among the Mussulmans of India, or could obtain for it a more favourable reception in Constantinople, whilst I am convinced that no scheme could be devised more congenial to the character of His late Majesty than this, calculated as it is to confer inestimable benefits upon the poorest classes of the subjects of his Indian Empire, and to perpetuate his memory by that cause in which he ever showed so acute an interest,—the relief of suffering humanity.

I have, &c.,

GERARD LOWTHER.

JEDDAH,

30*th May* 1910.

SIR,

WITH reference to Your Excellency's despatch of 21st ultimo, I have the honour to submit the following details and rough estimates of the proposed hospital for Indian pilgrims in Jeddah.

There is at least one suitable site which may be bought for about 150*l*. There is one suitable site stated to be the wakf of a mosque, which site might perhaps be obtained practically gratis. The hospital should have 50 beds. The entire cost of materials, buildings, and furnishing would be about 2,000*l*. I would suggest that the 2,000*l*. might be obtained by subscriptions in India. Or the Government of India might perhaps advance the 2,000*l*. and recoup itself by levying a tax of no more than half a rupee per pilgrim as below.

Cook for 2*l*. a month; washing 3*l*. a month for seven months; four attendants 6*l*. 13*s*. 4*d*. a month ...	81	0	0
Feeding of sick 33*l*. a month for five months; the hospital would really work more than five months, but for two or three months there would be comparatively few patients	165	0	0
Lighting, water for washing, repairs and sundries, 5*l*. a month	35	0	0

600*l*. would mean a tax of only half a rupee (four piastres Turkish) on an average pilgrimage of 18,000 pilgrims.

I do not anticipate any opposition on the part of local Turkish authorities. The Vice-Consulate dispensary already works here without any such opposition The Caimacam of Jeddah, to whom I have mentioned the matter in a general way, has told me that he would welcome the hospital, but that the ground and building must be held in the name of an Ottoman subject. It would be difficult to arrange this, but perhaps this obstacle may be removed by Your Excellency's representations.

I would suggest that the hospital might be called the King Edward Memorial Hospital. Acting Vice-Consul Dr. Abdur Rahman, to whom I am indebted for a great part of the substance of my present despatch, has suggested this on the analogy of the Victoria Hospital made a few years ago on Bahrein Island. Such a title would appeal to the charitable in India.

I have, etc.,

His Britannic Majesty's Consul.

His Excellency,

The Right Hon. Sir G. Lowther, K.C.M.G., C.B.,

LONDON,

13th July 1910.

SIR,

WITH reference to your letter No. 22883 of the 11th instant, transmitting copies of correspondence from Constantinople relating to the question of hospital provision at Jeddah, upon which my observations are requested, I have the honour to offer the following remarks.

The proposal that His Majesty's Government or the Government of India should found a pilgrims' hospital at Jeddah, to be called the King Edward Memorial Hospital and provide for its maintenance by levying a tax of something over half a rupee on Indian pilgrims, is one that in itself can only be warmly approved of, and were no other scheme for dealing with this question already in the field, it is one that I should have very gladly welcomed. If I hesitate to support its immediate execution it is only because there is another scheme in the field, and it would be unfortunate if the two schemes clashed.

When I left Constantinople a few weeks ago, the Turkish Government had apparently every intention of making immediate proposals for the creation of a special Commission, with Ahmed Riza Bey as its President, charged to deal with the whole question of the sanitation of Jeddah and for obtaining the consent of the Foregin Missions to the levying of a tax (probably ten piastres) on the pilgrims to cover the cost. If this scheme be carried out, it will include the construction of hospitals, not merely for Indian pilgrims, but for those of all nationalities. The need for a special hospital for Indian pilgrims only would, under those circumstances, disappear. It may also be pointed out that, should the Indian Government have taken the steps proposed and created the new tax of rather over half a rupee for the Indian hospital, and the Turkish Government subsequently make its intended proposal for the larger scheme of Jeddah sanitation (including hospital construction) the Government of India might not readily consent to the new tax for the latter scheme in addition to the one it had itself imposed; and this would be unfortunate as the other portions of the larger scheme are almost as important as the question of hospital provision. It would appear, therefore, to be most desirable to sound the Turkish Government very carefully before any definite action is taken to carry out the proposal referred to. I would suggest that Ahmed Riza Bey and Dr. Akil Bey be asked for exact information as to the present state of this question; that it be ascertained whether it is still their intention to create the aforesaid Commission and to ask the Embassies' consent to the new ten piastres tax; and that they be sounded also as to their views on the proposed special Indian hospital, as suggested by Sir Gerard Lowther. When I spoke to them in May on the possibility of some such scheme, their views were not favourable.

It would be all to the good that His Majesty's Embassy should take up this question actively, should urge on the Turkish Government the necessity of making their proposals speedily, if they are going to make them at all, and should show that the matter is one which His Majesty's Government most earnestly desire to see satisfactorily settled without further delay.

Should it prove possible to run the two schemes together (an Anglo-Indian King Edward Memorial Hospital and the Turkish scheme of Jeddah sanitation as a whole), such a solution of the problem would, no doubt, have much to recommend it. I would point out, however, that in any case the initial outlay would probably be considerably greater than the 2,000*l*. mentioned in Mr. Monahan's report. It would seem desirable to provide for one hundred rather than for fifty beds. The estimate for annual expenditure of 600*l*. would also seem to be considerably below the probable outlay.

I have, etc.,

F. G. CLEMOW.

FOREIGN OFFICE,

SIR,

WITH reference to your letter of the 22nd instant on the subject of the proposed British-Indian Hospital at Jeddah, I am directed by Secretary Sir E. Grey to transmit to you herewith a copy of a despatch from His Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople on the subject.

No. 171.

With reference to Lord Morley's despatch No. 52 (Revenue) to the Governor-General, of India, I am to call your attention to the concluding paragraph of Sir G. Lowther's despatch from which it would appear that the establishment of the hospital would not be likely to entail the imposition of so large a tax as had been anticipated.

I am, etc.,

THERAPIA,

15*th August* 1910.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge receipt of your despatch No. 83, of 22nd ultimo, enclosing a memorandum written by Dr. Clemow on the subject of a proposed British-Indian Hospital at Jeddah.

In this document Dr. Clemow refers to the danger of this hospital scheme clashing with the Turkish proposal for levying a tax on pilgrims and for undertaking, with the proceeds of this tax, the thorough reform of the sanitation of the Hedjaz.

In my despatch No. 170 of this day's date I have dealt at length with that proposal. It is still in a very nebulous state, and it would, in my opinion, be highly desirable to produce, by such means as are in our power, some amelioration in the lot of the Moslem pilgrims from British India without further delay. I have great confidence in this being done by the construction of a hospital in the way I recommended in my despatch No. 139 rather than by Turkish efforts.

I should be disposed to proceed in the matter of the hospital in a different way to that suggested by Doctor Clemow.

Provided the scheme is approved by His Majesty's Government and by the Government of India, I would suggest that the latter might prompt some of the more eminent of His Majesty's Indian Mussulman subjects to initiate a movement in the desired direction so that the idea might appear to be the spontaneous outcome of Moslem benevolence towards their poorer co-religionists, and of Moslem attachment to the memory of His late Majesty King Edward, not as an effort on the part of His Majesty's Government to remedy an evil with which the Turkish Government seemed themselves incompetent to deal.

It is especially in the former light that it would be convenient to present the scheme to the Turkish Government, and it would, I think, be somewhat difficult for them to refuse their consent.

The estimates of the cost, made by Mr. Monahan, may be very likely too low, but it may surely be anticipated that under the proposed auspices no inconsiderable initial fund would be raised, such as would suffice not only for the construction, but also for the endowment even, to a certain extent, of the institution.

It is probably preferable that buildings of a light and temporary character should be erected, for if the much-talked-of Jeddah-Mecca railway materializes, the seat of insanitation will be in great part transferred from Jeddah to Mecca.

I am informed too that such buildings are desirable also for the climate as well as for the purposes of disinfection, infected portions being, if necessary, destroyable and replaceable at a minimum cost.

On the other hand, if Mr. Monahan's estimate is approximately correct, it will be unnecessary, even from the outset, to impose so heavy a charge as ten piastres a head on the pilgrims. Half that sum would be more than sufficient.

I have, etc.,
GERARD LOWTHER.

The Right Honourable Sir E. Grey, Bart., M.P., etc., etc., etc.

No. 1825, dated Simla, 3rd October 1910.

From—P. W. MONIE, Esquire, Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bombay, General Department.

1. Letter from the India Office, No. 1647 (R. & S.) dated the 5th August 1910, and enclosures.
2. Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 52- (Revenue), dated the 19th August 1910, and enclosures.
3. Letter from the India Office, No. 1995 (R. & S.), dated the 2nd September 1910, and enclosures.

WITH reference to the Home Department letter No. 1117, dated the 27th June 1910, I am directed to forward, for the information of the Government of Bombay, a copy of the papers noted on the margin regarding (1) a proposal of the Turkish Government to levy a new tax on pilgrims to provide funds for sanitary improvements on the pilgrim route and (2) a proposal made by His Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople for the establishment of a hospital at Jeddah for Indian pilgrims, independently of the Turkish proposal.

2. As the Government of Bombay are aware, the existing hospital arrangements at Jeddah are most inadequate, and it is desirable that a fully-equipped hospital should be established there as soon as possible. The Government of India do not know whether the other European powers concerned have agreed to the Turkish scheme referred to above, but, even if this scheme is accepted and carried out, they are disposed to think that there is ample room for a special hospital for Indian pilgrims at Jeddah. I am, therefore, to request that, with the permission of the Governor in Council, Sir Gerard Lowther's proposal to raise subscriptions from Indian Muhammadans for establishing such a hospital may be referred to the Haj Committee which the Government of Bombay have appointed to assist in the control of the pilgrim traffic, and that the Committee may be asked to say whether, in its opinion, it will be possible to raise sufficient funds and to work out a practicable scheme. I am to ask that the Committee's attention may be drawn to two points, viz., (i) that there is reason to fear that Mr. Monahan's estimate of expenditure, both initial and recurring, is much too low, and (ii) that it is useless to proceed with the scheme unless adequate provision can be made for recurring expenditure, that is, unless either an adequate endowment fund can be collected or a guarantee can be given that sufficient annual subscriptions will be forthcoming. I am to add that the Government of India consider it out of the question that a special tax should be imposed on pilgrims in India in order to finance the proposed hospital.

READ—

Punjab Government Resolution No. 2539 S., dated 22nd September 1910.

RESOLUTION.—In continuation of the resolution quoted in the preamble the remaining points in the Plague Committee's Report are considered below.

2. The Government of India will be asked whether it would be possible to comply with the suggestion that during severe epidemics regimental officers of some seniority and in permanent medical charge of their regiments should be engaged for plague duty during the inoculating season, in addition to the ordinary medical staff, in the districts in which their regiments are recruited, on the ground that it has been found by experience that considerable success in performing inoculation has been obtained by such officers through the assistance afforded them by the men of their regiments on leave in those districts.

3. As regards the erection of full-size model houses at head-quarters, Government is considering a design and the subject will be separately dealt with. It has, however, been proved beyond a doubt that the most important factor governing rat population is the food supply available for it, and therefore efforts should be made to induce the people to take measures for rendering their grain receptacles rat proof. This, it is understood, can be done effectively at a practically nominal cost by lining the receptacles with tin for which the ubiquitous kerosine tin suggests itself at once. Not only will this simple precaution tend to limit the rat population, but it should also appeal to the ordinary man as a simple method of preventing the great waste which now occurs from keeping grain in earthen receptacles riddled with rat holes. It is hoped that with the help of the plague staff, the zaildars and plague committees, much can be done to recommend this simple expedient to the people.

4. In the matter of improving village sanitation the attention of district boards should be drawn to the recommendations made in the second paragraph of section 56 of the Committee's Report and also to the orders on the subject conveyed in Punjab Government's letters No. 1480, dated 15th December 1897, and 990, dated 1st October 1900, which it is believed have not received the attention which should have been bestowed on them. The experiment which has been tried in Amritsar (copy of notification No. 54, dated 27th March 1907, enclosed) of paying for sweepers for sanitation in large villages by a small house tax recovered under the District Boards Act may also be commended to the notice of district boards. The Committee's remarks in the third paragraph of the same section regarding what can be done in municipalities under the Municipal Act in enforcing better sanitary conditions should also be brought to the serious notice of all municipalities.

5. At present it does not seem to be practicable to enforce the recommendation of the Plague Committee that, in view of the large part played by importation in the spread of plague, inhabitants of towns like those of villages should be legally empowered to prevent the access of persons coming from infected areas. Public opinion does not appear to be ripe for it, and Government is not prepared to go beyond what is laid down in paragraph 8 of chapter 13 of the Plague Manual. This is pre-eminently a matter in which any more stringent action must be the outcome of a desire for it on the part of the public.

6. The changes recommended in paragraph 47 of the Report for the amendment of paragraph 2 (1) of chapter 6 of the Plague Manual that, in the case of plague occurring in a hotel, factory, serai or public office, report should at once be made to the Civil Surgeon and not to the District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Officer or Tahsildar are agreed to, as it is important that the Civil Surgeon should have the earliest possible information. This provision should also apply to the occurrence of rat mortality. The same amendment may be made with regard to the occurrence of plague in railway trains or premises.

7. The changes in the system of reporting in rural areas recommended in paragraph 48 of the Report are accepted, and the rule in the Plague Manual may be altered accordingly.

8. The proposal that Commissioners should submit quarterly statements to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals showing amounts and purpose of grants-in-aid sanctioned by them, and the balance available, is accepted, as it will facilitate reappropriation by that officer.

9. The recommendation of the Committee that, in future, ratting, which will ordinarily only be carried out in places where plague persists in the off season, should become wholly a provincial charge 'thus enabling the amounts allotted for plague expenditure by local bodies to be reserved for encouraging evacuation, promoting village conservancy and minor sanitary reforms,' does not commend itself to Government. On consideration it has been decided that the existing financial arrangements should continue. The general cessation of ratting will lead to the abolition of the main item of plague expenditure in many municipalities and care should be taken that any saving under this head is devoted to improved sanitation.

10. The proposal that plague officers should attend the budget meetings of district boards is not approved, as the effect of such a proceeding would probably be to put pressure on the members. Besides, in a subsequent part of their report the Committee recommend that the Civil Surgeon should be in general charge of the plague operations in his district, and this has been agreed to in the resolution already issued. In nearly every district the Civil Surgeon is a member of the district board. Consequently it appears unnecessary that the special plague officer who would be subordinate to the Civil Surgeon should attend budget meetings. If the board wished to consult him on any point there would be no objection to their doing so.

11. As regards the submission of plague diaries through Commissioners, it does not appear necessary to make this compulsory in every case. The present practice of leaving it to the discretion of Deputy Commissioners to submit only such diaries as they consider advisable through Commissioners seems to meet all necessary purposes, and it may continue.

12. The suggestion of the Committee, that the Civil Surgeon who is ex-officio sanitary officer of his district and is, moreover, a permanent official should be ipso facto in general charge of plague operations in his district, and that the plague officer under the general supervision of the Civil Surgeon should be given a free hand in the district while the Civil Surgeon should be definitely responsible for the prosecution of anti-plague measures in the headquarters station, is approved. The Senior Medical Officer on plague duty in a district may, however, be designated "District Plague Medical Officer" and the title "Assistant Plague Medical Officer" may be dropped.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that the District Plague Medical Officer should be relieved of office work as much as possible and that all statistical and clerical work in connection with plague should be performed in the office of the Civil Surgeon. Where necessary, owing to pressure of work in the Civil Surgeon's office in consequence of these arrangements, a special clerk on Rs. 20 may, with the sanction of the Inspector-General, be entertained to do the clerical work in connection with plague, the allowance of Rs. 10 per mensem paid to the Civil Surgeon's clerk thereupon ceasing. This special clerk will be in addition to the camp or inoculation clerk on Rs. 15 at present allowed under certain conditions to District Plague Medical Officers.

14. Finally, attention is invited to the remark of the Committee, that while the medical staff have administered a considerable amount of general relief in rural areas they are but rarely called upon to attend plague patients. It is hoped that efforts will be made to win the confidence of the people and to induce them to come forward more readily for treatment when suffering from plague. Where the people do not wish for treatment on European principles hakims and baids should be freely entertained by district boards to itinerate in badly-infected areas. The rules regulating their appointment have been published in notification No. 241, dated 6th May 1899, as modified by notification No. 598, dated 13th July 1907.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners in the Punjab, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Sanitary Commissioner and all Civil Surgeons and officers on plague duty in the Punjab, for information and guidance.

Ordered, also, that the resolution be published in the Punjab Gazette (English and Urdu editions) and be communicated to the Government of India, Home Department.

AGRICULTURE.

The 20th December 1910.

No. 230.—Notification.—His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor held an inaugural inspection of the Punjab Agricultural College at Lyallpur on Wednesday, the 14th December 1910. The central hall of the College was completely filled, the audience comprising about 70 Europeans, the students of the College, and about 300 of the Lyallpur colonists who had been asked to attend the ceremony in order to hear an account of what Government had decided regarding the future conditions of holdings in the Chenab colony, announcements which were received with loud applause.

His Honour spoke as follows:—

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—Mr. Renouf has so clearly put before you the aims and objects of our Agricultural College and its history that he has left nothing for me to say except to thank him as well as the officers whom he has named for their persistent and painstaking labours which have converted our dream of a shrine for the cult of the chief industry of the Punjab into this splendid and well equipped temple of agriculture in which we are now assembled. The Punjab Government has done all it could with its straitened funds to promote the work and to equip the College adequately. It will cost us 5¾ lakhs when ready, and the expenditure on establishment aggregates Rs. 1,31,331 yearly and steadily increases. Rupees 50,000 a year are provided for other expenses. However for such a purpose we do not grudge the money. I must also thank Mr. Renouf for his kind reference to myself. I can assure him that the little that I have been able to do has been a labour of love. I am convinced that much can be done for even Punjab agriculture by scientific research and practice, and I am even more convinced that we cannot succeed in a full development of our great resources unless we spread our net wide and follow up every promising lead, whether it be in the direction of cottage industries or special lines of scientific inquiry. Above all, we must be persistent, we must follow up the tracks which our predecessors have made and not lightly leave them as unlikely to lead to any good. Agriculture is a secular science; it is the vast experience that has been gained by centuries of unremitting trial and error which has made Indian farming as successful as it undoubtedly is. We must be patient and not expect an immediate result. Mr. Renouf has told you some of the great results which have been already achieved. I have great hopes that our scientists in this College will add to the tale. If only they can find a remedy for kallar and a cure for the boll-worm or sugar-borer, they will have earned the gratitude of every Punjabi. As in research, so in teaching we must proceed step by step and slowly. It would be useless to turn out a number of young men with diplomas in agriculture for which in existing circumstances they would find no market. How many Punjabis who have obtained diplomas at Cirencester are following the profession of agriculture. We must at all cost avoid any such waste of labour and opportunities and disappointment of hopes prematurely raised. As I have said in the case of medicine, we must first convince the Punjab that our theory and practice are sound and are worth paying for, and then we can meet the demand for trained men in full confidence that our alumni will reap a reasonable reward for their labours. I believe, however, that the vernacular course will be very useful to the practical farmer, and I trust that the Principal will make a start as soon as the necessary agency can be organised. I have twice visited the College while it was under construction, and I can cordially re-echo Mr. Renouf's invitation to follow me in going over it. You will find it a most interesting and even fascinating task, and I am certain that you will all carry away some improved acquaintance with the secrets of agriculture and a desire to do all you can to make this provincial institution a great success. To this all of you in your several stations can help, whether by conducting experiments, or by communicating interesting information on agricultural subjects, or by introducing approved agricultural implements suited to the nature of the places where you live, or by sending your sons to be trained and so to spread the knowledge which it is our object here to impart.

The history of the past three years shows that it was a happy idea to have placed the College at Lyallpur. The climate and other agricultural conditions are fairly characteristic of the bulk of the present Punjab, and the fact that the land-holders here come from all parts of the Province facilitates the diffusion of experience gained in the Agricultural Station and College. Then holdings are large here and the cultivators are well-to-do, while labour is scarce and dear, so that there is a greater incentive to adopt and employ labour-saving machinery, and the circumstances of the land-holders render it possible to engage more freely on agricultural experiments. This brings me to a question which all of us must have in our minds. What is to be the future of the colony and for the Government tenants. As one of those who knew this district before there was a canal and who had some hand in the formation of the colony, perhaps I may briefly state what the past history has been. When I was Deputy Commissioner of Jhang in 1886 the whole of this Bar was a wilderness, and I remember feeling very pleased with myself at having raised the revenue of the scattered patches of barani cultivation by Rs. 10,000 in one year. This involved much camel-riding and hard work. However the experience which I gained was not lost. I saw enough to convince me that the soil was excellent and only wanted water. At that time Punjab officers were much exercised over the problem of how to prevent the land passing too freely from the agricultural to non-agricultural sections of the community, and when this great colonisation scheme came up we all felt that something must be done to save these lands at any rate for the agriculturalists of the congested districts who were being crowded out of their holdings. We had a warning of what might happen if proprietary right was given at the outset from what had actually occurred on the Sidhnai. I was a junior officer, but was employed on the settlement of a congested district, Gurdáspur, and my distinguished predecessors, Sir J. Lyall and Sir Denzil Ibbetson, did me the honour of consulting me. The best way of ensuring that the boon which Government intended for the poorer agriculturalists of fighting races did not go to benefit others appeared to be to treat all peasant colonists as Government tenants without the power of alienation except with the consent of Government. Sir James Lyall was doubtful about the success of this new departure, but Sir Denzil advocated it strenuously, and the general idea was adopted. One day I was surprised to receive a letter from the Lieutenant-Governor to say that tenants were not forthcoming, and that unless I could find such speedily, the land must be given on proprietary right. I had not heard that the arrangements for settling the colonists were ready. When I got this letter I went to Batála, and there with the able and willing assistance of Khan Sahib Muhammad Munir who was then settlement tahsildar I preached the good tidings of this new country, staking my personal reputation for what it was worth that it would be found to be a land flowing with milk and honey or the Punjab equivalent of the latter. It was not an easy task to get men to leave their old homes. I have no doubt other officers elsewhere spread the good news in their own way, but I am only giving you now my personal experience. At last however we succeeded, and one of the first regular treks of colonists was the exodus of about 150 families from Batála which took place in the spring of 1891. Amritsar and Siálkot were watching and also poured out their tenants. I have seen several of my old Gurdáspur friends in the colony since then, and I have every reason to believe that the realisation of what may have seemed my far-fetched dreams has been pleasant, that my prophecies of a prosperous future have come true, and that the area selected for them at my request by Mr. Maclagan, the first Colonisation Officer, was not at any rate the worst in the colony.

Well, the early colonists had a hard time, as the canal did not work as well as an inundation canal and it was difficult to convince the railway authorities that a railway would pay. It is actually the case that the North-Western Railway at first refused to do more than make a light line with old rails and sleepers from Wazírabad. Happily all that distrust has gone, and the railway authorities with dividends on the colony lines of 14 per cent. and over are ready to co-operate with us. In those early days if the colonists had possessed a right of alienation, I am sure that much of the land would have been sold outright. In fact, one of the rural notables, who had counselled the people to stand out against going as tenants, afterwards confessed to me that he did so because he and others like him hoped that the poorer men would not be able to stand the stress of the opening years and their holdings would be bought up cheap by the richer men.

I rejoice to think that our expedient was a success, and that the tenants have almost universally kept their holdings and are now well-to-do farmers. I would gladly have let well alone, but it is understood that some of you colonists would like to gain the position of proprietors. Well, circumstances have altered. The land is now so valuable that all wish to secure it. So it is less likely that those who have it should part with their holdings. Then the Alienation of Land Act has been passed, and as long as it remains in force, alienation to non-agriculturists is difficult. During the past fifteen years the colonists have founded fine villages and established themselves strongly in their new homes. The ties of the old districts are still strong, and the call of the old homes powerful. But the facilities for travelling are greater, and visits can be more easily paid and inter-marriages can take place with comparative ease. I believe too that the colonists have now a high value in the matrimonial market. I trust that these facts will tend to keep things as they are, and in any case I admit that circumstances are changed and that the restrictions absolutely necessary for the success of the nascent colony are not so absolutely necessary now.

At any rate Government have decided that an opportunity should be given to the ordinary Government tenants, who have acquired occupancy rights and who comply with certain other conditions which you will learn in due course, to acquire the status of proprietors of their holdings on payment of a nazarana of Rs. 12-8-0 payable in two instalments at two successive harvests. The principal condition is that they must have been in occupation of their holdings for 15 years in ordinary cases, in order that there may be some security that the would-be owner has really settled down in the colony for good and all.

Government gives you for Rs. 12-8-0 what is worth quite Rs. 200. Above all, there is no compulsion in the matter. Those who are satisfied with their present status can remain as occupancy tenants. But the proprietors will get off the payment of malikana, and will practically have the same powers of alienation as other members of agricultural tribes in the Punjab generally.

The full terms will shortly be made known in connection with the Colonisation Bill which is to be introduced at the next meeting of the Legislative Council on 16th December. I should have been glad if we could have avoided legislation altogether, as Acts are troublesome things and are apt to be misconstrued. But we must have an Act, not only to regulate the acquisition of proprietary right, but also to settle some questions connected with the present status of the colonists, such as the rule of succession. Thus at present tenancies-at-will are not heritable, and the Chief Court have held that under the general law persons who first occupied the land other than heirs of the common ancestor cannot succeed even to occupancy tenancies in the colony. It has always been the wish and practice of Government that such tenancies should not lapse, and the Act is necessary to give the heirs of such tenants rights which they do not now possess under the general law. There are some other provisions which you will learn in due course. The measure is a simple one, and has been for some time under the anxious consideration of the Local Government and of the Government of India and has been approved by the Secretary of State. Ample time will be given for discussing its provisions, and those relating to succession to tenancies have been specially declared to be subject to reconsideration, if necessary, as the result of discussion.

In deference to the views of the Judges of the Chief Court and of officers who are best qualified to know the troubles due to the law of pre-emption, it has been decided to exclude the colony from the operation of that law. It cannot exist at present as far, at any rate, as the tenants are concerned, as the land is the property of Government. Your villages too are not ancestral, though, as far as possible, the Colonisation Officers had done what they could to keep men of the same class together. We believe that the prevention of litigation which will result from the notification which was published in the last Gazette exempting the colony from the ordinary law of pre-emption will quite outweigh any idea that in this respect proprietors in the colony will not be on quite the same footing as elsewhere.

The revision of your assessments is also nearly ready, for it is time now that you should pay to the public purse a fair return for the benefits which you have derived therefrom. The revisions were entrusted to Mr. deMontmorency and Captain Ferrar, your old colony officers, who were sure to take a most sympathetic view of your case. I desire to take this opportunity of acknowledging all that they have done in this matter, and also to thank most warmly on behalf of Government all former Colonisation Officers and their Assistants from Mr. Maclagan and Major Popham Young and Chaudhri Aurangzeb Khan downwards for the ability and devotion with which they have worked out and watched over this marvellous agricultural experiment, for such it has been an experiment on the grandest scale and with the most successful results.

And now in conclusion one word of caution and advice—We are quite ready to meet reasonable criticism and the reasonable wishes of the people affected, but I trust that you colonists who of all people have benefitted most by these magnificent improvements effected by Government at the expense of the public purse and of the general taxpayer will not allow yourselves to be led astray and allow reasonable criticism to degenerate into unreasonable carping and clamour, and so disgrace your reputation for gratitude. The objects of Government in developing the colony have been clearly, I hope, explained to you. Throughout we have been actuated by the idea of ensuring thrift and industry and so conferring a real benefit on the agriculturists of the Punjab. So far we have succeeded, and succeeded splendidly. It now rests with you, if you wish to become owners of your holdings, to show that you are fit for the trust. Avoid reckless display and extravagance, shun unnecessary litigation, remember that your sons are multiplying in this fruitful field and that your present large holdings will be sub-divided amongst them, and with this thought before you, regulate your expenditure and mode of life so to educate and bring up your children that they may be able to hold their own when you have gone. Then will this vast colony still remain a great and glorious example of co-operation between the people and their Government, an example to the Province of a prosperous community firmly founded on an unexhausted land with high social ideals of education and sanitation, and a high standard of requirements, and a monument of Punjab pluck and perseverance of which we may all be proud, whether we are colonists or colonisers.

Revenue Secretary to Government, Punjab.

RULES FOR INDIAN GOVERNMENT SCHOLARS IN ENGLAND.

1. The Secretary of State considers it desirable that all Government scholars should avail themselves of the information and advice which the Educational Adviser to Indian students is in a position to give them, and these rules are framed with that end in view. Government scholars, equally with private students, may consult the Educational Adviser upon any question, and will receive from him all possible assistance, and the Secretary of State hopes that they will communicate with the Educational Adviser, not only on the occasions when they are directed so to do in these rules, but also in any circumstances of difficulty and whenever they desire advice or information. Scholars will be regarded as being under the supervision and charge of the Educational Adviser, to whom they should in all cases address any communication they may have to make, and to whom also all reports or other communications having reference to scholars should be sent. The Educational Adviser will bring to the notice of the Secretary of State on behalf of any scholar any question requiring his decision, and will communicate to the scholar the orders passed by the Secretary of State.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once call upon the Educational Adviser * and report his arrival in writing.

3. Every scholar must, at the end of each term of residence at a University, submit to the Educational Adviser a certificate from the proper College or University authority, showing that his residence, conduct, and progress in study have been satisfactory during the term.

* At present, and until suitable accommodation can be provided elsewhere, the Educational Adviser has rooms in the India Office.

4. Every scholar must at all times obey such instructions as he may receive from the Secretary State, either directly or through the Educational Adviser.

5. Publication of notice as to vacancies, etc.

11. (1) Simultaneously with the publication of the list referred to in rule 9 (2) the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as he may appoint for the purpose shall publish a notice intimating the number of vacancies for which candidates are to be elected and calling on intending candidates to submit their applications in the prescribed form within one week from the date of the publication of such notice.

(2) On the expiration of the week referred to in clause (1) the Deputy Commissioner shall publish a further notice containing the names of the candidates who have been proposed and intimating that all objections to the regularity of the proposal forms or the eligibility of the candidates must be made within one week from the date of publication of the notice. No objection unless lodged within the week will be entertained. During the week in question the proposal forms will be open to inspection at the Deputy Commissioner's Office.

(3) The Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as he may appoint will consider all such objections. If the objection is on the score of irregularity in the proposal form, the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer will decide whether the irregularity is such as to vitiate the proposal or not and his decision shall be final, and no objection in respect of the same matter shall be made at any later stage of the election proceedings. If the objection is on the score of ineligibility as regards status the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer shall enquire into the eligibility or otherwise of the candidate and shall, subject to the following proviso, allow or disallow the candidature:

Time and place of polls.

14. The poll or polls will be held at such time and place or places as the Deputy Commissioner may direct and may, if necessary, last more than one day.

Mode of election.

15. The voting will be by ballot on a paper in the following form :—

Serial No.	Names of candidates.	Cross after the name of the candidate for whom the vote is given.

The procedure in the polling booth will be as follows:—

The voters will pass the voting table one by one and each will present his certificate bearing the thumb mark impression or signature, as the case may be, which establishes his identity, and give his name and address to the presiding officer or his clerk who will verify it on the register and tick off the name. The number of the voter will be written on the ballot paper and counterfoil and the ballot paper stamped with an official stamp. The voter will then mark a (X) on the ballot paper in the space to the right of the name for which he votes, show the stamp on the back of the ballot paper to the officer and place the paper in the ballot box which will be locked and sealed.

Accidentally spoiled ballot papers may be exchanged and blind or illiterate voters may have their votes marked for them by the presiding officer.

A voter claiming to vote after another has voted in his name will be given a green paper known as a "tendered" paper. The tendered vote will not be put in the ballot box, but will be kept apart and its acceptance or non-acceptance will be decided by the Deputy Commissioner whose decision will be final.

Exception to general mode of election.

16. (1) The Deputy Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, vary the above method of recording votes by permitting any particular or specified class of voters to send their votes by hand or post to the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as may be appointed by him for the purpose, by such date and within such time as may be fixed.

(2) Voters who are thus exempted from personal attendance will be supplied with a ballot paper in the prescribed form and will be required to score out the name or names of such candidate or candidates as they do not wish to vote for, place their initials against the name or names of such candidate or candidates they wish to vote for and sign the paper at foot, and return the same within the prescribed period to the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as may be appointed.

The voter's certificate should accompany the ballot paper in all such cases.

(3) Ballot papers bearing the following defects will be rejected:—

(a) Illegible signature or one not easily identifiable.

(c) The allotment of more than one vote to one candidate.

(4) The Deputy Commissioner or other officer aforesaid may in his discretion reject any ballot paper not accompanied by the voter's certificate.

Objections to vote.

17. (1) No objection shall be allowed at a poll to the vote of any registered voter except on the ground of personation, and such an objection must be made by one of the candidates, his agent or by the presiding officer himself at the time the vote is tendered.

(2) The presiding officer shall examine into the matter and then decide as to whether the vote should be recorded or not and such decision shall be final and subject to no appeal.

Announcement of result.

18. (1) As soon after the close of the poll as possible the result of the voting shall be published under the authority of the Deputy Commissioner.

(2) The candidates who have the largest number of votes in the ward or class for which they stand shall be declared as being the duly elected members for that ward or class.

(3) In the case of two candidates for a single vacancy or for the last of several vacancies polling an equal number of votes, the senior in years shall be deemed to be elected.

Objections to return of any candidate.

19. (1) Any allegations of irregular practices or intimidation at elections as affecting the return of any candidate must be made in writing by one of the candidates within one week from the announcement of the result of the election to a Board, to be styled the Election Board, consisting of the Deputy Commissioner as President and two nominated members of the municipality selected by him.

(2) The Deputy Commissioner as President of this board may decline to make any enquiry regarding any such petition unless the petitioner gives security to the extent of not less than Rs. 50, and on the petitioner failing to do so may reject the petition.

(3) On receipt of such petition the Deputy Commissioner shall cause notice to be given to the candidates against whom petitions have been filed and shall fix a day for the hearing of the petition.

(4) On the day so fixed the parties shall be duly heard by the Election Board and such Board shall then pass orders confirming or annulling the election and such orders shall not be subject to appeal.

(5) The Board may in the event of the petition being dismissed direct the petitioner to pay as costs such sum, not exceeding Rs. 50, as may be determined upon.

Mode of filling up casual vacancies.

20. When a vacancy occurs among the elected members of the committee by death, resignation or removal and a new member has to be elected to fill the vacancy in accordance with section 12, sub-section (1), of the Punjab Municipal Act XX of 1891, such election shall be conducted in the following manner :—

(c) in the case of there being an equality of votes the President shall have a casting vote ;

(2) Any person qualified under rule 1 and not disqualified under rule 2 who may signify in writing to the Deputy Commissioner his willingness to serve on the committee, shall be eligible for election. The election shall be made at a special meeting of the committee held under the rules, and shall be decided in accordance with the majority of votes of members present who by clause (a) or (b) of this rule are entitled to be electors.

(3) The result of such election will be intimated to the Deputy Commissioner who will submit the same to Government for notification in the Gazette.

21. The President of the committee shall hold office for three years.
